Drug Evil

was done in the days of the open saloon with cases of confirmed drunkards.

Care Idea Scouted
Shutting off the faucet rather than attempting to mop up the spilled water was advocated by Dr. J. N. Smith, superintendent of the state institution for feeble minded, as his way of meeting the narcotic problem. No doctor had ever cured a case of drug addiction, nor ever would in his estimation and any attempt at interference with confirmed drug addicts was more or less a waste of time in Dr. Smith's estimation. The problem now before the state was rather one of keeping the drug from the younger generation, preventing the creation of new victims, he declared and in this it was necessary first of all to suppress the illegal traffic in drugs.

"Root out the smugglers and the drug problem will be very largely solved," declared Dr. W. B. Morse of Salem, president of the state board of health who presided over today's conference. Drug addicts were not getting their supply from physicians or druggists, he declared.

Doctors Blamed
Frank S. Ward, secretary of the state board of pharmacy, took a gentle fling at the medics, whom he declared to be entirely too generous in the prescription of drugs and too careless in complying with the rigid provisions of the Harrison narcotic act. A survey of drug registries in Salem drug stores he declared, reveals the fact that every store in Salem is liable to arrest and prosecution for violation of the Harrison act simply because they did not care to incur the displeasure of physicians.

Hoover Studying Railway Problems

WHY BE WEAK AND NERVOUS

as a result of pale, thin watery blood—Nuxated Iron will help make you strong and well again; it has been used and highly endorsed by former United States senators, judges of the U. S. courts, many physicians and prominent men. Even the pope at Rome has written especially of the merits of Nuxated Iron in a communication to the Pharmacæ Normale. Over 4,000,000 people are using it annually to help build red blood, strength and endurance. At all druggists.

Prof. E. M. Erickson of Willamette university last night delivered the second lecture of the series to be given by the Willamette faculty. His subject was "Two Men of the Middle Ages." He chose Saint Bernard and Abelard. He traced the effect of each of these two men in awakening a desire to seek an element of knowledge, the efforts of these men to swing the current of the time from blind superstition and dense ignorance over toward an interest in achievement. "Out from their efforts grew the University of Paris. This became the mother to all other European institutions of learning, and the mother of our own Harvard," said the professor in conclusion.
