

Cost of Guard Units To State Are Reduced

Federal receipts for drills over cost to the state for maintenance of the Oregon national guard showed a net gain of nearly 400 per cent during 1921, as shown by a financial statement completed today by Adjutant General George A. White, for the information of the Oregon general staff, auditing body of the service.

The Oregon national guard brought $113,077.02 more money into circulation locally from federal sources than it cost the state to operate its end of the military partnership between state and government, the statement shows. The total cost to the state, all of which was spent in the state, was $79,975.54. United States treasury checks brought into the state for payment for drills and camps totalled $199,052. In 1920 the receipts from federal military funds were $81,471.15 while in 1919 the total receipts were but $21,035. Thus in 1920 the revenues over cost was in favor of the state by a total of $31,845.80, while in 1919 it cost the state $29,282.30 more to operate the national guard than was received from the government. In addition to the cash payments the state was awarded federal military property having a cost value of $257,217.29 the past year.

In the distribution of the federal payroll funds, eleven counties shared as follows: Benton, $5,193.79; Coos, $5,049.27; Douglas, $4,844; Jackson, $11,556.29; Lane, $9,056.22; Lincoln, $6,797.32; Linn, $8,346.68; Marion, $16,601.82; Polk, $10,288.19; Yamhill, $6,265.71; Multnomah, $77,139.29. Towns having guard companies are Marshfield, McMinnville, Silverton, Corvallis, Dallas, Woodburn, Independence, Portland, Salem, Lebanon, Albany, Eugene, Roseburg, Medford, Newport Toledo and Ashland.

New companies, it was stated, are now being prepared for muster in this month at Hood River and Cottage Grove. A headquarters company at Gresham is planned for muster in February. As federal funds are available for further expansion companies are listed for organization at Grants Pass, Klamath Falls, Bend, The Dalles, Prineville, Baker, La Grande, Astoria, Pendleton, Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Astoria and Tillamook.

Community Club at Crabtree Is Incorporated

With a view to furthering the community interests of Crabtree, Linn county, W. Powell, Frank M. Powell and John A. Sumpter have organized the Crabtree Community association, articles of incorporation for which were filed with the state corporation department here Wednesday. The association is capitalized at $1500.

Other articles were filed Wednesday by the following corporations: Trustees Oil Association of Oregon, Portland, $250,000; G. M. Leslie, R. H. Billingsley and Glenn D. Hart.

The Fairview Baptist church of Polk county, Oregon, Fairview, Polk county, $1200; Adolf Aebi, E. H. Lehman and Gustav Fleischman.

Mayor's Committee for the Unemployed, Portland, $2000; Geo. L. Baker, J. C. English and J. C. Ainsworth.

Darling-Singer Lumber company, Portland, $25,000; Delos D. Darling, Ralph M. Singer and Allen H. McCurtain.

Certificates of increase in capitalization were filed by the Tillamook County Creamery association of Tillamook, from $250 to $25,000, and the Gill Automatic Service company, Portland, from $10,000 to $25,000.

Normal Loans Poster Exhibit to State Library

Oregon Normal School, Mouth, Jan. 12.—The collection of posters on exhibition last week in the model library, has been sent to the State Library at Salem. The posters are to be used there, or sent out further to the country libraries with specially selected groups of books, for which they will serve as advertisement.

These posters are the work of the art department. Their great value, aside from the effectiveness of size and color, lies in the extreme simplicity of construction. Anyone with a little ingenuity and patience can make them. The pictures are cut from magazines or advertisements and properly mounted. The lettering is direct, adequate and simple, telling in few words what subject the group of books deals. This collection is the property of the normal and will be returned.

There is a plan on foot to make a complete set of such posters for school libraries, to be exhibited at the county institutes next fall. The purpose is to show teachers how they may, with materials always at hand, attract the attention, not only of the students in school, but also of the reading public to books on special subjects, which every school library, selected of necessity from the state lists, must contain.

Three Model Farms Opened By State Act

Three "model" farms have been established by the Oregon land settlement commission, since the creation of the commission by the legislature of 1919, according to the annual report of the commission just filed with Governor Olcott.

One of these farms, the first, established in 1919, is located near Independence, the second, established in 1920, is located one mile east of Roseburg, and the third, established in 1921, is located two miles north of Prineville. A fourth farm is to be established by the commission this year in the Coos Bay region, work on this project being now under way.

The object of the commission in the creation of these model farms, the report explains, is to "demonstrate that the average settler, such as now comes to this state in considerable numbers, if given a reasonable and practicable amount of guidance and aid from the state may safely secure a sound and profitable farm business and a modern and attractive farm home on our agricultural land in different parts of the state."

When the commission was created $50,000 was appropriated to be used as a revolving fund for carrying forward its work. "When a feasible method of land settlement has been demonstrated, it is assumed the state, through further legislative action, will establish the plan on a scale sufficiently large to aid all settlers who may come to the state thereafter," the report states.

Of the original appropriation, to which $3355.51 has been added by sales, only $18.33 remained in the hands of the commission on December 31. The fourth farm unit, now under way, will be developed from funds received through payments during the spring months from the farms already established.

Newberg To Send Car of Flour to Starving Russians

Newberg, Or., Jan. 12.—Newberg, former home of Herbert Hoover, has responded to the call of Russia for famine relief by a shipment of a carload of flour to the stricken Volga region. Following a local campaign to raise funds a committee has purchased 210 barrels, the product of Chehalis valley mills and it will be shipped as soon as orders are received.

Crippled Troop Ship Weathers Gale Successfully

Washington, Jan. 12.—A radio-gram from the transport Crook received at 8:30 a. m. today said the crippled ship was making favorable headway. "The gale reached the transport last night," the message said, "but did not cause it to stop up perceptibly."

The transport's position was given as 365 miles east of New York.

Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. 12.—With more than 500 entries the second annual poultry show of the Walla Walla poultry breeders' association opened here last night. Entries came from all parts of the northwest and judging will commence this afternoon.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It. In the year of 1881 I was attacked by muscular and subcutaneous rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried remedies after remedies, but which relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a painful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case. A man every sufferer from any form of muscular and subcutaneous rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't wait a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? We appreciate money when relief is secured, you feel "See I did it. With love." Mark H. Jackson, No. 132H Durston bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.
