

Father of Boy Killed In Vat Gets Damages

Dallas, Or., Jan. 21.—The circuit court of Polk county closed its session Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock at which time the jury brought in the verdict in the case of Joseph Wigan against Dallas Growers Packing corporation, in which they gave $3750 as a verdict against the corporation for the loss of Mr. Wigan's seven-year-old boy, who was drowned in a hot water vat near the packing plant.

Otto Emmenegger, who was found guilty of perjury during this term of court was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. This is a result of his false testimony when he procured a divorce from his first wife.

Leon C. Taylor, who was also indicted by the grand jury on a charge of non-support was discharged because the investigation proved that he was physically unable to perform any labor.

D. A. Norton was court reporter during the term, who took the place of Miss B. F. Barrett, who broke her wrist Monday morning on the streets in Salem, when she was starting on the trip to Dallas for the court work.

Judge H. H. Belt will leave for Pendleton the latter part of the week, where he will set on the bench for some time, beginning next Monday morning.

Brooks

Brooks, Or., Jan. 21.—A. E. Harris lost a valuable horse, caused by running to an old straw stack and eating musty straw.

Mrs. W. P. Gilbert spent Tuesday in Salem and Jefferson.

Mrs. Fred Batchelor is nursing a sick woman on Lake Labish.

Ronald Jones has torn down the old home on his farm just south of town and is preparing to erect a fine bungalow.

Rev. Randall will give a home missionary lecture Sunday evening in the Methodist Episcopal church. The lecture will be illustrated with stereoscopic slides.

Mr. Wittsen has moved from Brooks to Lake Labish.

Sheriff Confiscates $5,000 Worth of Wine and Liquor

Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. 21.—More than $5000 worth of confiscated wines, beers and liquors as well as a collection of stills amounting to $2000 in value were destroyed here Friday by Sheriff Charles Springer. The stills were destroyed by cutting them up and the 500 odd gallons of liquor were sent to the Pacific via the sewers. A crowd of several hundred watched the destruction which represented 10 months work on the part of the sheriff's office.

W. A. Pettit and Stephen A. Stone, correspondents for the Portland Oregonian and the Portland Telegram, respectively, were confined to their homes yesterday. Both men were believed to be suffering from la grippe.

Liquor Fines

Enrich County $435 In Polk

Dallas, Or., Jan. 21.—Polk county's general fund has been enlarged within the last week to the extent of $435 in fines that have been collected by Justice of the Peace Ed Coad of Dallas from those having illicit liquor in their possession or else for selling moonshine.

The heaviest fine was that of Ed Donicht of Williamina, who was caught selling moonshine at a dance at Buell. He was fined $250 and $10.10 costs. Walter M. Baker and J. W. Powell, who had been invited to partake and had liquor in their possession at the time the arrest was made were each fined $5 and $7.10 costs.

A. E. Broadwell and C. P. Roseblum of McCoy were fined $25 apiece and $4.70 costs for having liquor in their possession at a dance. C. Louis of Black Rock was fined $25 and $5 costs for having liquor in his possession.

Justice Coad is a very busy man these days, having had some 15 or 20 cases to hear in the nature of suits brought against individuals for not paying their dog licenses and every case thus far reported by the four justices in the county shows that every delinquent dog owner for 1921 who failed to procure a license has been assessed from $15 to $20. About fifty tardy ones in all have paid such fines and there are still some cases pending.

Nomination of Morgan Reece as guardian of such person and estate of Byrda and Eldon Reece.

Wise Women

A famous medical man of ancient times states regarding his writings that they were but a collection of knowledge obtained from the "Wise Women."

Do you realize that in those times the women, and not the men, knew about the healing properties of medicinal plants, roots and herbs? From the earliest times, women had a knowledge of the treatment of disease and of the healing merits of roots and herbs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was originated by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, and is now known and praised by women of all ages. It is prepared from roots and herbs having medicinal action of great value in the treatment of troubles women so often have. (adv)

Boy Attempts Suicide When Pet Dies

Russell Mueller, a Chicago youngster, had a pet dog named Peggy. Peggy died, and, grief-stricken, Russell attempted suicide, shooting himself in the hip. The hipbones were shattered, and the boy will be a cripple for life. Doctors had given up hopes of saving the boy, but a Chicago woman presented Russell with her pedigree bull-pup, and the boy is now on his way to recovery, at least from a broken heart. Here is Russell and his new pet, which he has named Peggy in honor of his dead pet.

Cherro Poultry Feeds

We have for some time been operating our new poultry and stock feed plant which is composed of modern machinery. Our formulas have been worked out from months of experiments and tests. We have had the assistance of four of the leading agricultural colleges of the United States. One being O. A. C. of Oregon. These agriculture feeding tests are based on actual feeding of poultry for years under varied conditions. Along with this valued information the Cherry City Milling Co. has made extensive tests among other valuable feed information set up in Henry's on Feeds and Feeding. We are now producing one of the highest quality of poultry feeds on the market.

Our feeds are registered with the State Fair and Feed Commission of Oregon and the composition and analysis is stamped on every container and packed under our famous trade mark Cherro.

Arrest of Drunk With Odd Shoes Leads to Second

When Roy Whiteaker, of Independence, made his uncertain way to the Salem police station Thursday night and got himself arrested for being intoxicated, he started more than he knew. According to the police, Whiteaker was wearing one of his own shoes and one which made up a pair owned by Chester Foster, of this city. He also was carrying Foster's hat, according to officers.

As a result of this, together with information elicited from Whiteaker by the police, Foster noon and was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He is cited to appear before Police Judge Earl Race today.

"Where in—where did I get that shoe?" officers said Whiteaker demanded when he awoke in jail yesterday morning and surveyed his lower extremities.

Whiteaker, who was helped to a cot when he appeared at the station Thursday night, very much intoxicated, was arraigned yesterday and pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk. He was sentenced by Judge Race to pay a fine of $20. Unable to furnish the money he began the first 24 hours of a 10 day jail term.

Miss Louise Corbin, an instructor of the Salem high school, is reported to be confined to her home with an illness.

Automobile Auction

Tonight at 7:30

is the date of the big unreserved auction of automobiles which is to be conducted at our new quarters at 173 South Liberty Street. This is the largest consignment of autos ever auctioned in Salem and in it will be found cars to suit every taste and purse.

Oleson-Rookstool Auto Exchange Auctioneer MR. J. L. CULBERTSON OF PORTLAND

AUTO TOPS $8.50 to $900.

This is the busiest shop in Oregon. This may sound odd in-as-much as we have been established only three months, but its a fact and here is the reason.

We do business on a very small margin, hence our low prices.

We use only the best material but do not use this fact as a club to charge higher prices.

When you come into our shop you get what you want we don't try to sell you something else.

Modesty won't permit us to tell you about the class of work we put out but we'll give you the phone numbers of customers who will.

All we want is a chance to estimate your work, we feel confident you will be satisfied.
