Benefit To Loan Fund Is Success

Picturesque and colorful was the array of eastern costumes presented yesterday afternoon at the silver tea given at the Commercial club by the Salem Women's club to benefit the scholarship fund of the State Federation of Women's clubs. In spite of the blistery weather, the auditorium was well filled and the fund was benefited to the extent of about fifty dollars.

The oriental welcoming bower was presented by those in costume, who were instructed by H. B. Cartozian, of Portland, who was the afternoon's speaker. For this all arrayed themselves in one straight line and executed a sort of pantomime. Those included were Mrs. N. C. Kafoury, in Armenian costume, Mrs. Stephen Putnam, in Syrian garb, Miss Greer Putnam, as a Turkish dancing girl, Mrs. Grover Bellinger, in Grecian garb, Mrs. Walter Kirk, as a Roumanian, Miss Elizabeth Putnam in Armenian apparel, Miss Esther Paroungian, as a Greek peasant girl, Anita Bellinger, Paul Kafoury and Mary Kafoury wore Turkish soldier uniforms.

Mr. Cartozian spoke for about an hour on oriental rugs and illustrated the points he made with rugs from his choice collection. He worked to make his audience understand that each rug is the monument of its weaver, who worked that when he passed away he might leave something behind to represent him. "If we could realize and appreciate the motives of the rug weavers, we would be able to have the full value of the rug," he said.

J. N. Hauss, who assisted Mr. Cartozian, gave two clever readings in dialect. A musical program planned by Miss Elma Weller, Miss Lena Belle Tartar and Leon Jennesson sang oriental songs and Miss Matton Emmons, violinist, played. Refreshments, also, were attractive and consisted of Turkish coffee and sweet meats peculiar to eastern countries.

Woman Charges Government Neglects Indians

Miss Elizabeth Haupt, Indian missionary and literary authority, of Washington, D. C., now visiting California, charges that government neglect has deprived Indians of California of a home and maintenance. The reservation near Chico, Cal., once their home, has been taken from the native redskins because of nonpayment of taxes, and Miss Haupt's report to the government agents will include many other charges of neglect. The territory grant near Chico was the gift of the late Mrs. Bidwell, widow of the famous General Bidwell. No government reservation has ever been granted, Miss Haupt alleges.

Adopt Code of Health Principles

A ring standard by which members of the senior high school girl reserve corps can win her insignia on a ring was adopted yesterday afternoon when the corps met in conference in the Y. W. C. A. parlors. Miss Miriam Anderson, new Y. W. C. A. secretary here, met in session with the girls.

The three sides of the girl reserve triangle stand for health, knowledge and spirit and it was on these three points that the ring standard was constructed. Physical examinations will be given at the opening and close of the period of contest. The girl must show a definite improvement in health, in posture and in general health habits. A code of ten health items was outlined. This code each girl will have before her and she must keep a chart of her observance of them every day for twelve weeks.

The items are: Drink six glasses of water daily, eat fruit and fresh vegetables daily, sleep eight hours with windows open, brush teeth twice a day, eat at regular intervals three meals a day, practice deep breathing, dally tub or sponge bath, one hour outdoor exercise daily, wear shoes with low heels and suitable clothing, cultivate good posture.

In order to attain the scholarship requirement the aspirant to the ring must receive an average of 90 in all her studies for two consecutive semesters. A secret ring committee will be appointed by the president and members will observe club spirit, school loyalty, willingness to serve and other requisite points of girls who signify their desire to win the ring.

Miss Conifred Hurd, of Washington junior high school addressed the girls on "Health and Personality" and some of the corps members put on a skit written by Florence Jones, of the corps. The name of the skit is "Frivolous Fanny" and is a movie in two scenes, in keeping with thrift week.

You've hankered for the taste of Maple—here it is!

The flavor that first the Indians knew, and gave to the settlers in New England. It's the flavor of—LOG CABIN Syrup

IT was Moqua, squaw of Woksis, who, the Indian legend tells us, first made syrup from the "sweet water" of the maple. And quite by accident she discovered it—in boiling moosemeat for her chieftain.

But it is no legend that early settlers in New England learned the secret from the tribesmen—how, by boiling down the sap of the maple tree in early spring, there might be made a syrup of wondrous flavor—how, by further boiling, this sweetness might be concentrated in sugar that could be kept.

In many a Colonial household they knew no sweetening other than this maple syrup or maple sugar.

In the west, they longed for a taste of this spring-time delicacy

But the pioneers who later ventured from those regions where the sugar maples grew—to them the flavor of maple was but a memory. And how they hankered for it!

Their cornmeal mush, their pancakes, waffles and desserts all called for maple. Nothing else would give them the right taste.

Then, in the eighties, came Towle's Log Cabin Syrup. Instantly it sprang into favor. Ever since it has been the "Standard from Ocean to Ocean." For P. J. Towle found a way to produce a syrup of uniform maple flavor that was always clear and golden in color, and absolutely pure.

How Log Cabin gets its rich, unvarying flavor

He combined the choicest of New England maple with the best from Canadian groves—got the real sugars of maple in which the flavor is most intense. And he blended with this just enough pure sugar of cane—nothing else—to mellow and enhance that delicious maple taste.

That was Log Cabin years ago; that is Log Cabin today. It never varies.

For pancakes and waffles—and many other uses

Tomorrow morning have pancakes or waffles—with Log Cabin Syrup. And as you're pouring it on, notice how fragrant it is of the maple. Then taste it. The family won't blame you for smacking your lips!

That maple flavor will put new delight in hundreds of dishes from breakfast cereals to supper desserts—the whole year around. Fritters, French toast, baked apples, candied sweet potatoes, puddings, cake frostings, ice cream and candies—all call for it.

Phone your grocer now for a can of Log Cabin. You can be sure you get it, for it comes only in the distinctive log-cabin-shaped can—3 sizes.
