Need for Revolution in Method of Financing Baseball Here Seen In Annual Endowment Demanded of Merchants; Charity Status Is Poor Arrangement

By Harry N. Crain

How long before baseball in Salem is going to be taken out of the category of endowed charities and placed on a business basis?

Over heads of business men and sport fans the club of civic patriotism is being adroitly wielded to fill the dotted lines.

ORGANIZED PROTEST ONLY HOPE

Did he reverse his reasoning, credit his intelligence with the wisdom of not signing and demand that the game here be lifted out of the class of orphaned charities...

Bred as it is into Americans from childhood up, the game of baseball has a justifiable place in the community...

Baseball is an amusement just as moving pictures are amusements, and should be treated as such.

True, the financial returns from a baseball team are not of such proportions as to attract individual promoters strongly in a city the size of Salem...

SOLUTION LIES IN CONTROL

The solution of the problem lies in the organization of a holding company deriving its capital stock from the initial subscriptions of the members.

Invested in equipment, ground improvements and the like the original subscriptions would represent permanent capital that could be carried over from year to year intact...

CLUB NOW COMMUNITY LIABILITY

As it has existed spasmodically from season to season on the strength of annual donations, the local ball club has been a liability rather than an asset to the community.

If the community is to finance a ball club let the community have a hand in the expenditure of those finances and a share in the benefits.

It's time to take stock of the baseball situation in Salem.

Bandit Steals Pants Prevents Pursuit

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 1.—Shame on such a bandit—he robbed Morris Bluestein and then stole his pants to prevent pursuit. "It was awful, terrible, something fierce," Bluestein told police. "There I stood, in my stocking fet, garbed in my shirt all." The bandit held up Bluestein in his toggery shop, where the stock of goods does not include rousers. Pointing to the ones outside, the bandit opined this man would have to be "dressed warm to go out there." Then he made Bluestein take off his shoes and trousers, an act which they under his arm darted.

Pretty Girl, 17, and Engaged, But Must Go To School

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 1.—While pretty Maybelle Grenwald, 17, was planning for her wedding day she was haled to police court by a truant officer and told she would have to attend school or go to the humane society. "You will have to attend school," the judge told her. "But I'm going to be married," sobbed Maybelle. "That doesn't make any difference, and if you persist in staying away from school I will have to send you to the humane society," replied the court. Maybelle, attired in fashionable clothes and fur coat, told the court that she had been working for some time as cashier in a shoe store. She said she wanted to hold the position until she was married, but that she couldn't do it if she had to attend school.

Stove Is Cause of Blaze Today, Damage Is Light

Coals from a kitchen stove caused a fire which broke out in the teachers' house at 434 North High street, about 9 o'clock this morning. Early arrival of fire fighters prevented the blaze from getting much headway. A pipe by which ashes might be dropped from the stove to the basement had been installed and in some manner the coals came in contact with the wood floor. There was but slight damage.

Woman Robs Woman
