Nephew of Bret Harte Reveals Sad Chapter In Family's History

Mrs. Jessamy Bret Harte Steele

New York, Feb. 21.—A chapter which completes to date the story of Francis Bret Harte's unfortunate family has been written. It is told herewith by Richard Bret Harte, nephew of the famous American author.

It completely bridges a gap which biographers have been trying to encompass. But it is another chapter of suffering and sorrow brought about by separation, with which the history of Harte's survivors appears replete.

When last December it was revealed that Mrs. Jessamy Bret Harte Steele, favorite daughter of the author, was in an insane asylum at Ogdensburg, N. Y., the news solved for the unfortunate woman's kin, a mystery they had been trying to penetrate for years and brought the family to her assistance.

Kin in Vienna.—The story of Richard Bret Harte's efforts to locate his aunt is told in a letter received from Vienna, which follows:

"Vienna, Jan. 15, 1922.—I have been much grieved by the recent news of my aunt, Mrs. Jessamy Bret Harte Steele. It was a relief to me to read the telegram from Ogdensburg, published by you on December 26, stating that she was comfortable.

"I am herewith handing you a small check (for $50)—the best I can do for the moment—and shall be obliged if you will see that it is used to the best possible advantage for her.

"The beauty and striking personality of my aunt I have often recalled since my childhood, and during the time that I was in the States. I attempted several times to discover here whereabouts.

"My wife, who was formerly Lillian George, knew her very well, and during the time that she had a studio on Fifty-eighth street New York, did all in her power to assist her in her unfortunate condition.

"When in New York last October Mrs. Bret Harte and myself, with the assistance of Mrs. Carolyn Stern, tried to locate Mrs. Steele, but we found it difficult to obtain any definite news of her.

"I feel it my duty to inform you that my mother supported Mrs. Bret Harte, wife of the author and mother of Jessamy Steele, for over 17 years and did much to help her daughter.

"Unfortunately I am not financially able to contribute permanently toward the welfare of Mrs. Jessamy Steele and, therefore, feel deeply gratified for the assistance you have brought about for her through your paper.

"I hope to be able to do something later, when my brother and myself publish our family memoirs of Bret Harte.

"Very truly yours,
"RICHARD BRET HARTE."

California Town Stirred by Acts of Ku Klux Klan

Fresno, Cal., Feb. 21.—Police at Taft and the district attorney's office at Bakersfield have been investigating purported activities of the Ku Klux Klan for the past two weeks, according to a story the Republican published this morning.

The investigation was started by a complaint by Eli Andrews, local rent car driver, who asserted that he had been tarred and feathered by a band of unmasked, unidentified men.

Printed warnings bearing the heading "Ku Klux Klan" were distributed in Taft shortly before the alleged assault. City Marshal Munsey announced today, but all efforts to trace these warnings down have failed.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $1. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Now for maple fudge with the real maple flavor

When your sweet tooth calls for candy, stir up a panful of this maple fudge. It's cheaper than buying candy at the store—and is it good? Just taste it!

That it has the real maple flavor makes all the difference in the world. Log Cabin Syrup gives it that flavor.

For Log Cabin Syrup is made from the choicest of New England maple combined with the best from Canadian groves—the real sugars of maple in which the flavor is most intense. This is blended with just enough pure sugar of cane—and nothing else—to give Log Cabin Syrup the most delicate, most mellow maple flavor.

Get a can of Log Cabin at your grocer's today. Have some of this old-fashioned maple fudge tonight! The Log Cabin Products Company, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Log Cabin Fudge
Boil 1 cup Log Cabin Syrup, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water and 2 tablespoons butter to 230° or until the mixture will form a soft ball when dropped in cold water. Cool and beat until creamy. Shape into balls and decorate with walnuts or candied cherries.

Towle's LOG CABIN Syrup
