FLOODS THREATEN MID-WEST TODAY

Chicago, April 11.—Spring freshets, which already have flooded many lowlands, were threatened more serious drainage today in many middle western states. Rains, almost torrential, sent the rivers up in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Streams in other states were also rising but not at an alarming rate. Snow was general throughout the northern and middle Rocky mountain area, reports from Denver indicated. Lander, Wyo., reported that it was digging its way out of eight inches of snow. The snow and wind played havoc with telegraph wires. It was not until late last night that the Associated Press was able to establish through communication with cities west of Omaha. Winds of especially high velocity appeared to center in Missouri. Three small towns, Ash Grove, Harold and Luck, northwest of Springfield, Mo., were in the path of high winds and two persons were killed and property was damaged to the extent of $100,000. The storm today was moving eastward slowly.

MEXICAN BANDITS ARE AGAIN ACTIVE

Washington, April 11.—(By Associated Press.)—Official advices received here today indicate increased revolutionary and bandit activity in the states of Vera Cruz, Jalisco and Nayarit in Mexico. The rebels in Nayarit were reported to number 200 to 300 men under the leadership of Pablo Gonzales. In Jalisco, six separate bands were reported in the field in open rebellion against the government, although their strength thus far is regarded as insignificant. The activity in Vera Cruz was reported to have assumed considerable importance in view of the defeat which the rebel leader, General Miguel Aleman, with a band estimated at 800 men recently administered to federal forces. Noticeable decline in bandit movement in the northern states of Mexico was reported in the dispatches, despite sporadic uprisings in the states of Coahuila and in southwestern Chihuahua and Durango. Woman Thinks She Can't Talk Enough

"I had gall stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestion. FIRST OF STRIKE HEARINGS OVER

Washington, April 11.—The house labor committee today had concluded its hearings on the national coal strike, for a time at least. Announcement that the committee had no plans at present for a further investigation of the strike was made by Chairman Nolan yesterday after several labor spokesmen had made a general denial of charges by operators that contract breaking by the miners union had been factor in the walk-out. The committee, however, will hold an executive session tomorrow to consider action on the Bland bill, which would set up a federal coal commission to deal with such situations as the present strike. Meanwhile, members of the committee appeared to be holding in abeyance any further plans pending the outcome of Attorney General Daugherty's trip to Indianapolis to look into the question of the anti-trust law indictments against a number of operators, union leaders and others as affecting the prospects of a strike settlement.
