

DALLAS TO HELP IN OBSERVANCE OF BLOSSOM DAY

Dallas, Or., April 21.—Dallas will take part in the Blossom day to be held at Salem—that it as far as acting in a spirit of co-operation is concerned.

At a meeting of the directors of the Commercial club held in their rooms Wednesday evening, this action was decided upon after a lengthy discussion of the subject from each and every angle.

N. L. Guy, president of the club, appointed a committee of three to take up the matter with the commercial club of Salem and ascertain in what manner the two counties could work in unison. H. A. Joslin, H. H. Rich and C. B. Sundberg comprise this committee. The idea is to gather together a goodly bunch of automobiles from Dallas and adjacent communities on the day of the big event to be held and organize a caravan to visit that city.

These automobiles will be gaily decorated with appropriate banners and pennants notifying the Salem visitors that Dallas is the pruned center of the universe—the hub of Polk county and inviting them to take a trip across "the bridge of size" and see the thousands of prune trees in full blossom, and also visit Polk county. These autos will be put in use by those having the interest of the county at heart and the ride will cost the visitors nothing. Knowing Blossom day to be strictly a Salem custom institution it is not the intention of the members of the Dallas Commercial club to infringe upon Salem's prerogatives in any manner.

Several matters were brought up at the meeting—the condition of many of the residential streets of Dallas receiving special consideration and creating considerable discussion. It was explained to the directors by one of the city councilmen that everything possible was being done and had been done in road matters.

FINNISH BARK SAFE IN PORT; STRUCK ICEBERG

Montevideo, Uruguay, April 21.—After an adventurous voyage, during which she collided with an enormous iceberg and was then imprisoned in ice fields for 21 days, the Finnish bark Hrof Krosh has arrived here in tow of the British steamship Junin.

The bark left Iquique, Chile, December 26, for Portuguese West Africa with saltpeper. The iceberg into which it first bumped was estimated by the crew to cover 300 feet above the waterline. After freeing herself from the ice the bark continued drifting out of control until she encountered the Junin.

DALLAS LOOKING FOR INCREASE IN BUILDING TRADE

Dallas, Or., April 21.—If the weather is favorable and the fruit crop prospects are good following the blossoming period, it is fully expected that 100 new dwellings will be erected in Dallas this year. A good start has been made, taking into consideration the backward season and the consequent uncertainty as to the fruit crop. In nearly every section of Dallas one or more new buildings are under way. Most of these structures are of the ultra-modern type, with built-in conveniences and other features that delight the modern housewife.

There are few really modern buildings in Dallas for sale. Even those of a style of several years ago find a ready sale at a good valuation. This makes it possible to build and get just what is wanted at a little greater cost than is involved in the buying of an old dwelling. But the real reason for the building boom is a shortage of houses. This shortage has handicapped local industries. High grade mechanics brought here from the cities to work were not satisfied with the dwellings that could be procured and declined in many instances to remain. They insisted that their families be comfortably housed. If all, or nearly all, of the prospective building is done, there will be plenty of houses to accommodate such newcomers during the coming year. But even with 100 new houses there will be none vacant. Industrial conditions are on the mend, and more and more men will be employed in Dallas.

MULE, RESCUED FROM FLOOD, DIES OF FRIGHT

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—A mule, typically stubborn and understanding only the German language, died aboard a city harbor boat from fright and heart failure after it had been rescued from its marooned position on the river, Captain W. H. Hornbrook reported today. Two families, their livestock and chattels were taken to safety, he said.

What's New on the Market

By REK STEWART

A larger variety of vegetables than has heretofore been offered at any time during the present year will be at the disposal of the housewife tomorrow.

Fresh receipts of bunched beets, extra fancy California radishes, hothouse cucumbers, fine looking green onions, tomatoes that are in fair condition, with cabbage, sautify, lettuce and a number of other green vegetables are available at reasonable prices. Tomatoes have gone down to 20 cents a pound, making them considerably cheaper than a month ago.

While apples still retain their prices of $3.50 a box and 30 cents a dozen in small quantities their condition generally is not very good.

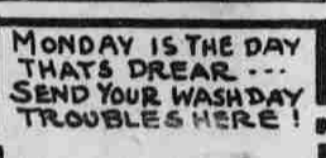

Poultry supplies are not very large this week though dealers state that they have enough to carry them over the week-end.

Eggs look weak with a possible drop the early part of next week.
