REBEL ADVANCE

Peking, May 3-(By Associated Press.) -The Feng Tien army under General Chang Tso Lin has for the moment at least, successfully withstood the drive on Changsin tien, and stopped General Wu Pel Fu's movement toward Peking. The cost, however, has been heavy and Changsintien is filled with wounded, many of whom are dying for lack of medical attention Fighting Deadlooked.

While Chang has succeeded in this action, there has been no apparent advantage of consequence fighting along the 100-mile fron from here to Tien Tsin, and both ommanders are rushing up reinforcements in preparation for decisive action.

General Chang's communica tions are threatened both front and rear, for Wu has thrown 40,-000 troops against his right cente to cut the rallway connecting the Peking-Tien Tsin road with Mukden, General Chang's base. This railway is within the range of naval guns at Chinwangton.

Aid Is Promised.

At the eastern end of the battle front, General Wu in marching 2000 troops toward Machang, one of the Fengtieners' strongholds.
