

CANADA SEEKING TO CURB INFUX OF ORIENTALS

Ottawa, Ont., May 9.—The house of commons last night adopted a resolution calling for restrictive legislation against Oriental immigration into Canada. The vote stood 130 to 36 in support of a resolution, which, introduced by a British Columbia member, originally called for total exclusion of Asiatics and was amended at the request of the administration to substitute effective restriction, for the "exclusion" clause in the motion.

Premier King explained that while Canada was opposed to the penetration of Canadian lands and industries by Asiatics, there were such considerations as the trade agreement between Canada and Japan to be thought of in the framing of the restrictive measure. Other countries, he said, had not passed "exclusion acts," but their "effective" restriction amounted to the same thing.

The staff of surgeons, nurses, etc., is now assembling and the hospital is well equipped for service. It occupies a beautiful site near the city and is pronounced one of the most attractive soldier hospitals in the country.

Constance Talmadge in "Woman's Place"

Where is woman's place? Is it at home? Or does she belong in business or in politics? Constance Talmadge's starring vehicle will throw some humorous light on these questions for local photoplay fans. It will be shown at the Oregon theatre, Wednesday and Thursday. And, fittingly enough, it is called "Woman's Place." In this production Miss Talmadge, as Josephine Gerson, a pretty society girl, gives politics a try-out, running for mayor of the town. Of course, she gets into a maze of difficulties—leave that to Constance, she does it every time—and, according to all pre-release reports, provides one of the most entertaining pieces of comedy drama of her brilliant career. John Emerson and Anita Loos wrote the story. They also wrote several other sparkling screen plays which have added to the fame and popularity of the sprightly Constance.

Victor Fleming directed the picture, and Oliver T. Marsh photographed it. Kenneth Harlan, seen with Constance in some of her recent First National releases, is once more her leading man in "Woman's Place," and other prominent in the cast are Hassard Short, Florence Short, Ina Rorke, Marguerite Linden and Jack Connolly.

While "Woman's Place" has a novel political background, it also contains the thread of an extraordinary romance. That in itself is not very unusual, for Constance Talmadge is a most extraordinary little person, and practically all of her screen romances to date have been extraordinary.
