

WILLIAMS AND FITHIAN KEEP POLK POT WARM

Dallas, May 9.—The feature of the campaign during the past week in Polk county has been the warmth of the fight between Williams and Fithian for national republican committeeman.

It is impossible that this phase of the election has been more noticeable in this county for this is Williams' old home. He still has heavy financial interests here. Fearing that there is a possibility of his defeat Mr. Williams' friends have been decidedly active for the past two weeks and are getting more active every hour. They are working to make the county vote as nearly unanimous as possible.

Word was received in Dallas last week that the Fithian supporters claimed to have the support of both the United States senators. Promptly there came from Washington a denial by Senator McNary. The senator insists ed that he was taking no part in the campaign.

In Polk county the contest for the republican nomination for commissioner has grown to a great extent in interest. All political observers now admit that the race is between Riddell and Graves. Most of the Dallas men that have been interviewed predict the nomination of Graves, while if you talk with voters from Falls City and the entire north end of the county you will be informed that Riddell has a walk-over. There are excellent reasons for believing, after a close estimate, that the contest between the two men will be close, the result depending upon how the voters take the final campaign spurge of the two sides. Riddell is the younger and more active of the two candidates, and admittedly he is making inroads upon Graves' strength. It has worked down to a proposition of being six of one and half a dozen of the other.

There is also considerable interest in the legislative contest. Three contestants think they would gracefully fill the seat and they are all making strenuous efforts with this end in view. P. O. Powell, a farmer; G. O. Holman, an attorney, and D. E. Fletcher, an attorney, are the candidates. If the talk signifies anything most of the votes will go to Powell and Fletcher. It seems to go beyond conclusion that in the towns Fletcher has it all over his opponent, but Powell's strong card is with the farming element. It is believed that the Dallas vote will swing the contest.

More than the usual amount of interest is manifested in the selection of precinct committeemen for the republican party. Two thirds of the places have been filled for, and according to rumor quite a number will be contested. There does not seem to be any particular principle involved, but it has worked down to that point where it is largely a matter of personality between the men who would be committeemen.

Man Postpones His Funeral

"I am 66 years old and for past two years have been suffering so badly from stomach and liver troubles, bloating and colic attacks that I did not expect to live more than a few months and was arranging my affairs and even my funeral. Three doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy have entirely cured me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
