FORTY-FOURTH YEAR—NO. 121.

SALEM, OREGON, MONDAY, MAY 22, 1922.

PRICE TWO CENTS ON TRAINS AND NEWS STANDS FIVE CENTS

NOMINATION OF OLCOTT NOW LOOMS LIKELY

LEGISLATIVE TICKET STILL NOT DECIDED

Recount May be Necessary To Determine Standing of Mrs Bishop, Reynolds and McMahan

Unless the totals compiled by the board making the official canvass of the vote in Marion county cast in Friday's election show a marked difference in standing of the candidates for the republican nomination for state representatives, the four successful candidates will be determined by a recount of the ballots.

Variances in the unofficial totals compiled by the newspapers Saturday led to a rechecking of the returns yesterday, which placed the candidates for representative in the following order:

Three Running Close.
Thomas B. May 4709, Otto Wilson 3391, Fannie Kay Bishop 3207, Lloyd T. Reynolds 3184, L. L. McMahan 3179, Russell Catlin 3029, Zadoc Riggs 2999.

As the recheck totals now stand Mrs. Bishop, Reynolds and McMahan are grouped with 28 votes each other in the contest for third and fourth places on the ticket, with Reynolds leading McMahan by a margin of but five votes.

Unless the official canvass which was started by U. G. Boye county clerk, this morning determines the standing of the candidates by wider margins a recount of the votes will be asked.

The official canvass will not be completed until Wednesday afternoon or evening at the earliest, according to Mr. Boye.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS CONFERENCE WITH I. C. C. MEN

Washington, May 22.—Seven railroad executives, representing the group of nineteen which participated in the White House dinner conference Saturday night at which President Harding asked voluntary action by the railroads to certain rate reductions today, held a two-hour session with the members of the interstate commerce commission.

Although the formal announcement of the conference, as made by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, one of the conferees, merely said the meeting was "for the purpose of discussing the rate situation," the session generally was regarded as the first steps by the railroads toward possible compliance with the president's request toward carrying out the agreement made at the White House conference.

The statement made by Mr. Willard was the only one forthcoming from any of those participating in today's conference. It said that another meeting would be held Thursday and read as follows:

MILLION SHARES OF STOCK SOLD IN HOUR

Every Boy Scout who advances a step in scouting above the rank of tenderfoot or who wins a merit badge for passing an examination in one or more of the 67 vocational subjects offered by the Scout program must come before the court of honor to receive such award. Salem has several merit badge Scouts—Scouts Tristram Edmundson and Richard Weatherford, who are fast approaching the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest rank in Scouting.

For the interest of friends of Scouting in Salem, it is announced that the court of honor will convene tonight at 7:30 sharp in the hall of representatives in the state house. RECALL BALLOT RECOUNT LIKELY

Rumors of a recount of the recall vote in Friday's election are current here today following reports from various sections of the state that ballots were thrown out by election officials in cases where the voter had indicated his favor of the recall and had then voted for the present incumbents. Reports received here are to the effect that this practice was followed in numerous precincts throughout the state, the officials holding that the vote for the incumbent nullified the vote for recall.

ULSTER AGAIN TEETERING ON VERGE OF WAR

Murder of Parliament Member Threatens To Plunge County Into Renewed Outrages.

Belfast, May 22.—(By Associated Press.)—Killing today of W. J. Twaddell, a member of the Ulster parliament, who was shot while on his way to business, caused the issuance of a manifesto by Sir James Craig, the premier, announcing a special meeting of the cabinet and the legal authorities. The premier declared "just retribution," was called for.

Cabinet Is Called.
"My detestation of this horrible crime fills me with such indignation that I have summoned a special meeting of the cabinet and all the authorities dealing with law and order. Such an event as this murder demands just retribution."

Mr. Twaddell, passing through Garfield street, was nearing his place of business on North street when two men approached and fired seven shots at home from a range of two yards, all the bullets taking effect.

The victim collapsed immediately and the assassins decamped before the horrified spectators realized what had happened.

Murdered for Loyalty.
The manifesto says Mr. Twaddell was murdered for his loyalty to the empire and his devotion to the cause of Ulster and the welfare of his country. His colleagues, it was declared, will carry on and face the future, no matter what the future might hold for them.

"Justice and retribution rest with the higher authorities," the manifesto adds. "Let the people rally around the established government which will see that proper measures are taken without plunging our province or our capital into a welter of crime and bloodshed."

WILL REVIEW CHARGES AGAINST 3 ATTORNEYS

George Estes, Charles Lenson and Albert Ridgeway, Portland attorneys, have been cited to appear before the supreme court here on June 20, next, to show cause why they should not be disbarred from further practice of law in Oregon.

Disbarment proceedings against Lenson and Ridgeway were filed by Estes Saturday following the institution of proceedings against Estes by the grievance committee of the Multnomah county bar association of which Lenson and Ridgeway are members.

Lenson is charged in the complaint filed by Estes with blackmail with attempt to extort money from a client while Ridgeway is charged with insubordination of perjury.

Estes is charged with defrauding clients in sums ranging from $200 to $2000.

RAND DECLARES PRIMARY NEEDS TO BE CHANGED

A modification of the present primary system so as to insure the preservation of the identity of the two major parties or a return to the old convention system was advocated by Justice John L. Rand of the supreme court, speaking before the Commercial club this noon, as the only cure for the evils which now beset this state.

"A system which permits class hatred and class prejudice such as characterized Friday's primary election, to overshadow the merits of the respective candidates for office does not augur well for the good of the state," Rand declared. "If the welfare of the state is to be maintained there must be two political parties, one working as a check against the other. If one becomes corrupt or makes a mistake the people can turn to the other for relief."

"If the republican party is to be held responsible for the administration of the affairs of the state then the republican party should be permitted to nominate its candidates for office. But who the republicans in this state now? Everybody," he declared, intimating that the contest in the republican ranks had attracted to the ranks of that party the bulk of the voters from all other parties in Oregon under a system which fails to make provision against such contingencies.

"The burden of high taxes upon which most of the gubernatorial contests were based at the outset of the recent primary campaign," Rand declared, "were not blamable to the officials in power but to the people themselves who, through the exercise of their franchise privileges, had voted high taxes upon themselves."

"We have just witnessed the spectacle of an appeal for support by candidates on promises of tax reduction who themselves were equally responsible for the high taxes against which they cry," Rand declared.

They recall, through the exercise of which the voters of the state have just removed two public service commissioners from office, was also derided by Rand as introducing into the political affairs of Oregon a system which was wrong in theory.

The frequency with which the constitution of Oregon has been amended under the initiative and referendum privileges in this state was also deplored by Justice Rand who harked back to the pioneers who composed the constitutional convention which drafted the original document.

"I am not touching upon these problems at this time in the hope of convincing any one that these things are either right or wrong," he declared. "But I believe that it is high time that the intelligent people of Oregon were giving serious thought to these things which so affect the welfare of our state. I have too much faith in the intelligence and the good judgment of the people of Oregon to believe they will permit conditions such as these to continue for long without correction."

MISSING PRECINCTS PLACE HALL SECOND IN HEATED CONTEST

Portland, Ore., May 22.—(By Associated Press.)—See-sawing back and forth, the lead in the race for the republican nomination for governor swung between Charles Hall and Governor Ben W. Olcott today as returns from the remoter sections of the state were tabulated.

The latest compilation made this afternoon placed Olcott in the lead with 125 votes after Hall had held the lead on the preceding summary. The latest figures were: Hall 42,278; Olcott 42,403.

Rivalling the spectacular windup of the campaign which was enlivened by the action of Governor Olcott in denouncing the Ku Klux Klan and the endorsement of Hall by the Federated Patriotic Societies, the assembling of the returns has keyed up the state to a high pitch of popular interest and observers today said the result may not be definitely determined until the official canvass is made. The secretary of state makes the official canvass thirty days after the election.

Twenty counties had been reported complete early this afternoon and of these Hall carried nine and Olcott eleven. Of the sixteen counties from which incomplete returns had been received political observers believed from the trend of the voting that Hall would carry three and Olcott thirteen. This tentative lineup gives Hall Clatsamas, Columbia, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Josephine, Lane, Multnomah, Crook, Clatsop, Umatilla and Tillamook, while the following are claimed for Olcott: Benton, Deschutes, Hood River, Klamath, Linn, Morrow, Sherman, Wasco, Washington, Yamhill, Baker, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Jackson, Jefferson, Lake, Lincoln, Malheur, Polk, Union, Wallowa, Wheeler. The last three listed for Hall are incomplete as are the last thirteen in the Olcott column.

Portland, Ore., May 22.—(Special.)—With complete returns from all but 98 precincts in the state compiled into the grand totals in the race for the republican nomination for governor up to 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, it was apparent that Ben W. Olcott would nose out ahead of Chas. Hall in the "horse race" they have been running for the honors since the polls closed Friday night.

Of the 98 precincts yet to be included in the complete returns only 12 are listed in the Hall columns and Olcott is known to be the favorite in the other 86.

The missing Hall precincts include one in Clatsop county, five in Curry county, four in Lane county, and 2 in Umatilla. Olcott is scheduled to lead the following number of precincts from nine counties:

Baker county 9, Grant 17, Harney 15, Jackson 9, Lake 9, Lincoln 4, Malheur 20, Union 2 and Wheeler 1.

All of the Portland papers are predicting that Olcott will nose Hall out on the late returns, their predictions estimating his final lead will be around 500 votes.

SALEMITES PLAN CORVALLIS VISIT

Convocation day at the Oregon Agricultural college will take approximately 150 Salem business men and their wives to Corvallis Thursday, according to Robert Duncan, secretary of the Commercial club.

Thirty Commercial club members signed up for the trip at the club luncheon this noon and many others expressed their intention of signing up as Rotarians and Kiwanians at the weekly meetings of those two organizations Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thursday's program includes a luncheon in honor of the guests in the domestic science department of the college with inspection of the college before luncheon and after the convocation program. During the afternoon the 3900 students will turn out en masse on the college campus with the college band providing a musical program.

The Salem party will leave here by automobile shortly after 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

"Y" BOYS CAMP SITE SELECTED

Selection of Salmon bay, 1 1/2 miles from the ocean, for the Y. M. C. A. boys' summer camp has been made according to Edwin Socolofsky, county secretary, who with A. E. Yount, interstate boys' secretary, has been looking over several locations.

The selection of this location gives the boys an opportunity of bathing, salmon fishing, clam digging, shrimp and crab catching, trout and flounder fishing, boating, hiking and for competitive games of all sorts. It is about 65 miles from Salem and the cost to each boy will be kept to a minimum.

Dates for the camp have not been set, but will be about the middle of June and will close in time for the boys to return home for cherry and berry picking.

SHERMAN COUNTY FIRST IN THE FIELD

Sherman county maintained its reputation as the first Oregon county to file its official election returns with the secretary of state's office. The Sherman county returns were received by the secretary of State Korer this morning just a few minutes before the Yamhill county returns came in.
