

FRISCO MECCA OF THOUSANDS; SHRINE GATHERS

San Francisco, Cal., June 10.—The stage is set and the banners of San Francisco are waving. In the distance the smoke of Shrine special trains rolls black against the horizon while the trains thunder onward to the enchanted city.

Three delegations of nobles to the golden jubilee of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, are making headquarters in San Francisco today. They are Aahmes temple from Oakland, Cal., Azabla from Houston, Texas, and Hillah from Astland, Or.

Karem temple from Waco, Texas, in 15 special cars, will arrive here early tomorrow. Four temples are en route from Kansas, Abdullah, Leavenworth; Midia, Wichita; Mirza, Pittsburgh, and Isis, Salina.

President Harding's temple, Aladdin, of Columbus, Ohio, will arrive about the same time, after a journey via the Canadian Rockies. Every member of the delegation of 300 is a personal friend of the nation's chief executive and aiding the president in his trip westward over the flaming sands.

One of the members of Aladdin's crack musical organizations plays the president's organ, loaned to him for the golden jubilee. When President Harding was a youth he played it in the village band.

Housing arrangements are completed for thousands more than the capacity of all the city's hotels.

MUCH MARRIED WOMAN IS AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Vienna, June 10.—Genevieve Paddelford, who claims to be the wife of a wealthy California oil trader, is under arrest here in connection with a number of fraudulent operations in which business men of Lucerne, Paris and Vienna were the victims. Eleven trunks containing costly furs and other goods alleged to have been obtained illegally were seized as well as two silver mounted vases bearing the mark of the Ritz-Carlton hotel, New York.

Separated for Year. Los Angeles, Cal., June 10.—Genevieve Paddelford, under arrest in Vienna, is the wife of Dr. George E. Paddelford of Hollywood, Cal., former associate of E. L. Doheny, the oil merchant prince, and she is widely known for the sensational part she had in the Gould divorce case, when she was known as Mrs. Ben Teal, and at one time was Mrs. Eleanor McKinney Toomey of St. Paul.

She has been separated for more than a year from Dr. Paddelford and her departure from Los Angeles was followed by a sensational number of suits over accounts, creating a maze of litigation which entangled valuable properties of the Paddelfords here.

Legal History Sensational. According to the attorney for Dr. Paddelford, Mrs. Paddelford had a sensational legal history under the name of Mrs. Ben Teal, which figured in several sensational divorce cases. It is charged by Dr. Paddelford's attorneys that she married him under an assumed name and that she did not disclose her past life, and in answer to this Mrs. Paddelford made denial and asserted that her history had been well known to her latest husband.

A few months ago Mrs. Paddelford, with her daughter, Marie Paddelford, whose real name is Marie Teal, and who was reported engaged in grand opera work sailed from New York for Europe.

"SCRUB" HUNTINGTON HERE

Hollis W. "Scrub" Huntington, Salem high school's athletic coach for next year, has arrived in Salem from Medford, where he served as mentor this season, and expects to remain here during the greater part of the summer.

Yesterday Huntington visited at the local high schools. Prospects for next year, he believes, are fairly bright.

Huntington won fame for himself as a fullback for the University of Oregon.

KIRBY CASE MAY GO TO FEDERAL SUPREME COURT

Preliminary to an appeal of the case of the state vs. Elvie D. Kirby to the United States supreme court, attorneys for Kirby today filed with the Oregon supreme court an application for a writ of error in the recent decree of the Oregon court. Unless this writ is granted, it was indicated, permission to appeal the case will be sought at the hands of the higher court.

Kirby is now under sentence of death in the state prison here for complicity in the murder of Sheriff Till Taylor of Umatilla county.

In his appeal to the Oregon supreme court the constitutionality of the capital punishment act was attacked as a violation of the bill of rights. It was also contended that the state legislature had exceeded its jurisdiction in referring the capital punishment measure to a vote of the people. Both of these contentions were overruled by the supreme court in sustaining the validity of the act and it is from this action of the Oregon court that an appeal is desired.

The fate of John Rathie, also condemned to die for a part in the Taylor murder, also hinges upon the outcome of the Kirby appeal, as do the fates of other condemned men now confined in the Oregon prison here.

THOUSANDS WITNESS FAMOUS PASSION PLAY

Oberammergau, Bavaria, June 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Five performances of the passion play during May were attended by 33,389 persons. Included in the number were 4,827 foreigners, more than half of them Americans. Many Spaniards witnessed the play.

The Mountain States Power company is drilling a new well at Independence that will add materially to the city's water supply. It will have a capacity of more than a thousand gallons a minute.

During May the state land department paid over to the state treasurer $126,899.48, nearly all of which went into the common school fund.

SAME 2 NAMES; WRONG INITIALS

Through misunderstanding, the Capital Journal on June 6 printed an item stating that James Becker, indicted on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and Warren S. Hicks, the state's main witness in the case, were out on $150 bail on the charge of having liquor in their possession on June 3.

This was a mistake. It was J. Becker and R. M. Hicks that were charged with having liquor and not James Beckett and Warren S. Hicks. Same names, but wrong initials.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE BLIGH

A bouquet of distinct novelties are scheduled for the vaudeville bill at the Bligh theater Sunday-Monday next.

Bardell & Otto, the headline feature is a European attraction that surpasses anything that has been seen before on this circuit, a combination of original ideas, wit plenty of comedy. This team will keep you guessing in "Novelty Surprises," a name that covers their offering to perfection and introducing tricks too numerous to mention.

Gene Finneran, a very likeable chap in Scotch kilts, shows stories are humorous and clever and shows songs have a wee bit of Scotch twang, featuring his pedataj dancing which is a marvelous exhibition of grace and skill.

Clabby-Egan bout draw. Vancouver, B. C., June 10.—Jimmy Clabby, former middleweight champion, and Joe Egan of Boston fought a slow ten-round draw here last night. Dick Foley of Vancouver was given the decision over Able Gordon of Portland after six hard rounds of fighting.

FAMOUS CIRCUS DWARF SUMMONED BY DEATH

Morgantown, W. Va., June 10.—"Major" Louis Davis, retired circus dwarf, died at his home in Granville, near here yesterday aged 81. For more than 50 years "Major" Davis traveled with Barnum and Bailey's; Ringling Brothers, and Sells and Forepaus shows. He was 35 inches in height. About ten years ago the major retired from the sawdust arena.

General Dawes' admission that some of his economics were "merely deferred expenditures" will be all right if the expenditures are deferred long enough.

GOMPERS SAYS RIGHT TO STRIKE ABRIDGED

Cincinnati, Ohio.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, addressing a club of business men, interpreted the United States supreme court decision in the celebrated Copps, ado coal case as a negation of the right to strike and declared organized labor would appeal in congress for legislation, setting aside the decision.

To the old guard, progressive victories are progressive defeats.
