

NATION'S PRESS BOUGHT BY POPE SAYS KLANSMAN

(Corvallis Gazette-Times)
 Last night Dr. Sawyer wound up his campaign in Corvallis in behalf of the Ku Klux Klan. He was advertised to discuss the Congressional investigation of the Klan, but he referred to it very briefly and did not say what the result of the investigation was. He described the hearing, picturing scornfully the dozen or so negroes on one side of the committee, the same number of Catholic Knights on the other side, and another group of "fat, sleek, bench kneed Sheenies." The result of the investigation, he said, was published by the Klan in book form and "offered to the newspapers of the country for the small sum of $20 and none of them took advantage of the offer." The reason, the speaker said, was that the press of the country is all controlled by the Catholics "thru its foreign master in Rome."

No Investigation
 Inasmuch as a number of people paid their money last night to hear what the result of the investigation was and failed to hear, the G.-T., at the risk of anathema by its master at Rome, states that the official record of the Klan shows that no Congressional investigation was held, it being decided on the preliminary testimony that congress had no particular jurisdiction as nothing had come before it which in any way concerned that body. The preliminary testimony was the result of exposures of the Klan by the New York World which was afterwards awarded the thousand dollar Foundation prize for doing so on the ground that it was "the most distinguished public service performed by any newspaper in the United States in 1921." The preliminary testimony given to decide whether or not congress should investigate, showed that the Imperial Wizard had collected $1,250,000 from his subjects of the invisible empire and that the wizard and some woman had spent a large part of it. Inasmuch as there was no law to prevent them spending it, the committee decided it was none of its business and declined to bring in a rule ordering a Congressional investigation. So, none was had.

Much of the lecturer's time last night was devoted to roasting the news editor of the Gazette-Times who wrote the report of the Wednesday night meeting. Sawyer used all derogatory terms he could think of, resorting to ridicule and sarcasm instead of argument. He said that none of the newspapers in the country told the truth except the Searchlight, published at Atlanta, Georgia, price $2.00 a year. The Searchlight, he said, was the official organ of the Klan.

The California Mess
 Mr. Sawyer said that if the G.-T. got "less than $300 for the article in Thursday evening's paper, it was getting less than the other papers were getting from the Catholic slush fund."
 He again roasted Mr. Wool-wine, seeming in that respect at least to be in harmony with the G.-T.'s editorial page. He explained the double murder in California for which officers of the Klan have been indicted, and because of which the Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge and the state head of the Knights of Pythias forbade their members to join the Klan, by saying that the district attorney refused to prosecute a certain bootlegging Mexican family, so, the deputy sheriff, a Klansman, asked the Klan to help make the raid. "The move was tipped off," he said, "resulting in officers of the law being there to prevent the raid, and, in the melee, two men were killed."

The speaker cited the Klan oath and said the Roman Catholic could not take it, "because he owes his first allegiance, both spiritual and temporal, to the pope at Rome."

He referred to the fact that the Knights of Columbus welcomed the shrines to San Francisco this week in page ads in the newspapers and for doing so he called them "hypocrites."

Lane Up Against It
 He denounced the stand of the Church against compulsory education and said that Father O'Hara had been sent to Eugene and was planning to populate Lane county with Catholic farmers in order to control the elections.

He demanded a "Protestant Bible in every school house" and demanded that "there shall be no intermarriage between the colored people and the whites."

He predicted that in 25 years there would not be a Roman church in the United States, and if there was a Catholic church at all it would be an American Catholic church completely separated from Rome.

Referring to the colored race, he said "they are here by courtesy only and, if they do not like what we are doing, they can get out."

Explaining why Jews were not admitted to the Klan, he said "they wouldn't be happy mixing with a crowd of Christians."

Mr. Sawyer showed the same pictures shown Wednesday night and closed with a plea to his audience to buy his book "The Truth About the Klan! Only fifty cents per copy."

PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL OPENS

Portland, June 20.—Portland's fifteenth annual rose show opened today with the arrival of Queen Harriet, who was escorted by an elaborately decorated flotilla to a point on the east side, where she was formally received by her subjects and escorted to Laurelhurst park to be crowned.

The official opening of the annual rose show was the first function of the new queen's reign. The Rose show is being held at the armory, and a large part of that building has been transformed into a fragrant bower with the choicest offerings of Portland's expert and amateur rose culturists on display. The roses are of fine quality this year though the lateness of their blooming caused postponement of the annual fête from the date originally set, June 7, to today.

A sportsmen's-tourist exposition, with exhibits from all parts of the state, illustrating what the state offers in the way of recreation and scenic beauty, also is being held at the armory this week, and is a feature of the rose festival.

The festival center, a gaily decorated park stretch in the heart of the city, where daily features are to be staged, is to be officially opened by the queen at 5 p. m. Beautiful floral effects abound in this center.

Wednesday there will be a regatta on the river, and a mass meeting of Oregon women honoring Representative Alice Robertson of Oklahoma, who has come from the national capital instead of President Harding. The admiral's ball will be the feature Wednesday night.

Thursday afternoon there will be an athletic pageant, enlivened by comedy features at Multnomah field. In the evening there will be fireworks at the ball park, and the Rosarian ball will be held Thursday night.

Friday is floral pageant day and the big feature will be the floral parade, with floats from many cities of the state and Pacific coast. The Whitney boys chorus will give a concert at Multnomah field Friday at 8 p. m., Saturday at 8 p. m. and Sunday at 3 p. m. The grand finale of the Rose festival will be the carnival ball at the Armory Friday night, with continuous music in several halls from 7 until 12 o'clock.

SALEM VETERANS TO ATTEND STATE MEET

Between 25 and 30 members of the Salem G. A. R. will be on the special train that leaves Portland about noon next Monday, June 26, for Newport where the state encampment of the veterans will be held. As there will be a convention of the W. R. C. at the same place and the same time, it is expected that there will be even more women than men who will be there.

Sedgwick post had expected to offer Comrade James Huston for the position of state commander, but a few weeks ago he was struck by an automobile and as a result died in a hospital a few days later. Consequently it is not likely that there will be any candidates presented for state offices at the coming meeting.
