

IRISH TREATY OPPONENTS ARE RUNNING BEHIND

Dublin, June 21.—(By Associated Press.)—The approximate representation of the various parties in the parliament chosen at last Friday's election as shown by returns up to this afternoon, follows: coalition treaty 54; coalition republican 33; labor 14; farmers 5, and independents 10.

Dublin, June 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Of the 42 republican candidates in the constituencies where there were contests in Friday's parliamentary election, 15 already have been declared beaten. Final returns from the places where the count is still unfinished will, judging by the figures now available, show further defeats of treaty opponents.

One noted survivor probably will be Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess), chief of Eamon DeValera's lieutenants, who, although he is not elected in Waterford, can only lose by some unprecedented overturn in the count. Results announced today showed the removal of many of the best known persons in the Dail Eirann. Of the six women members, all anti-treaty, only Mary MacSwiney survived and Mrs. Kate O'Callaghan was returned unopposed.

Mrs. Pearse, whose two sons were executed for their part in the Easter week rebellion, was defeated in County Dublin. The figures show that she received comparatively few transfers of votes. Jean Etchingham, a frequent speaker in the treaty debates in the Dail, was defeated in Wexford and Seamus Robinson, one of the leaders of the army dissentients, lost in Waterford.

Conspicuous among the defeats was that of Erskine Childers in Kildare. He received only 572 votes fewer than any other candidate. His pro-treaty colleague was given more than 9000 first preferences. The possible effect of the disappearance of so many

THOUSANDS HEAR CONCERT BY BAND

Thousands of people turned out last evening and attended the first Salem band concert of the season. Among the most appreciated numbers on the program were the two solos by Oscar B. Gingrich. He sang the "March of the Tornado" and responded with a popular number. Mr. Gingrich will be the soloist next Tuesday evening and for several concerts thereafter.

The personnel of the band follows: Cornets—C. F. Pabst, W. H. Mills, C. J. Kurth, A. B. Armstrong, E. R. Payne and G. M. Sager; clarinets—Adolph Bornbeck, George Smith, Earl Anderson, Ernest Derwent, Charles Popa and Ronald DeSart; horns—Ludwig Mickelson, Richard Ryley Jr., John Graber and Delbert Gearheart; baritone—C. G. Gray; trombone—T. C. Welch and Frank Zinn; bass—Richard Ryley Sr., and John Steelhammer; drums—David Talmadge and Ralph Southwick.

There will be no concert on Friday evening this week owing to the fact that the band expects to accompany the Cherrians to Portland to attend the Rose Festival.

Grace Peterson, a Ukiah, Umatilla county girl, has just graduated from the eighth grade with an average record of not having missed a minute from school during her eight years' attendance.

A man giving his name as William Reid was arrested at St. Helena Friday night by traffic officer and a search of his roadster revealed 20 cases of bonded whiskey destined for Portland.

The Astoria Budget has purchased a lot on Exchange street in Astoria upon which it will erect a modern newspaper home.

WOMAN TO VIE WITH KELLOGG FOR ELECTION

St. Paul, Minn., June 21.—Returns from Minnesota's state-wide primary Monday were sufficiently near completion today to show Mrs. Anna Dickie Olesen far in the lead of Thomas Meighen, her nearest democratic opponent for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

Frank Kellogg, junior senator from Minnesota and one of President Harding's stalwarts in the senate, who was renominated in the republican primary over Ernest Lundeen, will face the political barrier with Mrs. Olesen next fall along with Henrik Shipsted, the farmer-labor nominee.

The first woman to sit in congress—Miss Jeannette Rankin—came out of the northwest when Montana voters sent her to lower house. Whether the northwest will give the senate its first woman member will be answered at the polls in Minnesota next November.

Miss Grace F. Kaerscher of Ortonville was the republican nominee for clerk of the supreme court. Governor J. A. O. Preus and other republican state officers were renominated.

New Corporation. The Telocivina Jednota Sakoi has been organized at Selo, Or., articles of incorporation being filed with the state corporation department here Monday. A translation explains that the name of the new corporation means "gymnastic society." Thos. B. Prospal and others are the incorporators. The corporation has no capital.

Portland Coal company, Portland, $10,000; A. H. Wetley Jr., V. H. Epps and Harry L. Rafferty. A certificate filed by the Alexander Clothing company of Baker shows an increase in capitalization from $15,000 to $50,000.

SUPERB STORY AND CAST HAS 'THE GOOD PROVIDER'

Julius Binswanger, a Jewish peddler, of Newton, near New York, is the good provider for his wife Becky, his daughter Pearl, and son, Izzy. The family is a happy one, for love abounds. Fifteen years pass and the Binswangers have grown up with the town. Binswanger is a prosperous merchant now, and his show windows are the talk of the town.

Pearl has developed into a beautiful girl who is courted by Max Tellebaum, a promising man from New York. Izzy helps father in the store. It develops, to Binswanger's sorrow, that Izzy and Pearl desire to live in New York, where one may see life. Binswanger resists stoutly, but he capitulates at length, and to Becky's joy consents to move to New York and live with his family at the costly Wellington hotel.

While his wife, daughter and son run riot in their new and expensive environment. His store in Newton is doing badly, for modern ideas are displacing old ones in business. He commutes to Newton daily and returning home at night, finds himself unable to sleep, to induce which, he takes two little pellets at night given him by Becky. To add to his sorrows, the family quarrel among themselves, because Binswanger is unable to give Izzy $10,000 with which to go into business with Max.

When Izzy announces that Max will not marry Pearl unless he gets a substantial dowry, Binswanger's patience is exhausted and he declares that he is on the verge of bankruptcy. All are contrite and as he goes to his room, secretly resolved to end his life by taking a fatal dose of his sleep ing pellets, Max arrives with the news that he had known of Binswanger's financial predicament for a long time and was now ready to come to his relief. Becky rushes to her husband's side just as he is about to swallow the pellets, and acquaints him with the glad tidings.

Back again in the old home at Newton, Binswanger and Becky find their lost happiness and peace as Max and Pearl, now engaged, leave with Izzy to trim the store windows, the old couple, left lone on the porch, rock contentedly in the soft moonlight.

IRISH CATHOLICS PROTEST ATTACK

Dublin, June 21.—(By Associated Press.)—The Irish Catholic hierarchy at Maynooth has condemned the action of the Ulster constabulary on holding up Cardinal Logue on three occasions. The bishops declare they deem it their duty to "lay before the holy father and the civilized world a faint outline of the barbarities heaped upon the beloved head of the Irish church."

The hierarchy asserts that the deadly effect of partition has been to ruin Ireland and that the British government is now backing its "Turkey in Ireland."

The persecutions of the minorities in the south is deplored by the bishops, who urge that the primary duty of a stable government will be to crush the lawless element. An appeal is made for a national unity, founded on the solid basis of defense to the national will.

ASTORIA MAN HURT IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

Donald McComber of Astoria suffered a badly wrenched back and bruises about the face yesterday afternoon when the auto in which he and his wife and daughter were riding turned turtle about four miles from Jefferson on the Salem-Jefferson road. It is thought that the accident was caused by the blowing out of a tire. Mrs. McComber received slight bruises. The little girl suffered a lacerated leg.

Mr. McComber was pinned beneath the machine and according to witnesses of the accident who helped to extricate him he would have been killed had the car been other than a light one. The trio were taken to Jefferson where they were given medical attention. The McCombers expect to resume their journey to California as soon as they are sufficiently recovered from their injuries.

Little Tales of Investments Not Much—But

Mary Milton sewed for a living. It wasn't thrilling—working in other peoples' homes day after day—but one must live, you know.

Suddenly Miss Mary seemed to grow young again—her eyes sparkled, her cheek was flushed. No, it wasn't a lover—a cousin had told her of some wonderful oil stock that would make it possible for her to quit working. Her customers shook their heads and said "poor Mary," but Mary smiled on.

She's still sewing—older and grayer now. No, it wasn't much only five hundred—but it was all she had, you see.
