About 75 ex-Nebraska residents and their friends were present at the Nebraska picnic held at the State Fair grounds yesterday.

Every one brought their baskets well filled with the result that they all ate to their heart's desire and still there was enough food left to feed another group. A program of recitations, songs, instrumental music, and reminiscences occupied the afternoon.

Several of the old timers took their audiences back to the old days by giving several old time selections on the "fiddle." T. W. Heald gave an exhibition of rattlin' the bones and then changing off and playing the "fiddle."

LUTHERANS OF NORTHWEST IN SESSION HERE

The discussion of the paper "The Relation Between the Church and State" which was read yesterday afternoon at the afternoon session of the Washington-Oregon Lutheran Church Joint Synod of Ohio convention being held in Christ Church on State street, continued the larger part of this morning. The rest of the morning was taken by Rev. A. Minnema, Walla Walla, who read a paper on "The Doctrinal Discussion on the Eternal Light."

This afternoon reports of various committees were heard. This evening the delegates will meet in committees for consideration of special business. Tomorrow morning and afternoon a discussion of foreign and home missions will be held. In the evening there will be an inspirational missionary program. Rev. H. T. F. Wittock of Lind, Wash., will tell of the field in India and its needs. W. T. Schmidt of Baker will speak on Stewardship.

75 ATTEND GROWERS PICNIC

Seventy-five people sat down to the picnic dinner in Rickreaf yesterday at the warehouse raising of the Willamette Flax & Hemp Growers association.

The warehouse raised 150 by 50 with 22 foot posts at the eaves and will be large enough to store the flax produced by members of the association for some time to come.

Just about now the colleges of our fair land are turning out an army of ambitious young folk who expect to take all of life's grades on high.

Union Miners Murder

Four of the 16 bodies of strike-breakers were found at the foot of the tree from which the body of the man hanged was suspended. The bodies of the other eleven dead and four wounded were scattered through the woods.

The man hunt was continuing over a wide area. Six men later were captured and taken in the direction of the mine.

It was reported that 46 of the prisoners were being brought here but several hours after the report was received, they had not arrived. Persons who surveyed the woods said "bodies are scattered all over."

The surrounding country is swarmed with persons, many armed and the confusion prevents checking up by numerous and some what conflicting reports.

Reports "Worst Over." Thousands of striking miners, many of whom were armed, last night and this morning made their way along roads congested with every sort of conveyance leading to the mining camp, where the union miners and sympathizers estimated to number approximately 2000 surrounded the mine, under a truce with the non-union forces, who claim they are members of the steam shovel men's union.

Colonel Sam N. Hunter, attache of the Illinois adjutant general's office, this morning expressed the belief that "the worst is over."

The Southern Illinois coal mine was the first in Illinois to resume operations since the strike became effective April 1, and this fact caused a tense situation among the striking union miners. The district is solidly unionized.

The fighting started after receipt of a telegram from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, terming the men working at the mine as "common strikebreakers."

31,974 OREGON VETS ASK BONUS IN FIRST YEAR

Thirty-one thousand, nine hundred and seventy-four initial applications have been filed with the world war state aid commission during the first year of the bonus law enactment, according to officials in the office of the commission this afternoon.

Yesterday closed the time for filing initial applications, and up to 2 o'clock this afternoon 90 had been received during the day, and more were expected on this afternoon's mail.

Oregon is credited with having 24,000 soldiers in the war. The number of applications shows that nearly all have put in the bonus or loans, with the exception of those who have remained in the service, and who can make application upon their discharge.

Cash applications numbering 13,287 and demanding a total $3,528,632.70 have been received by the commission. Applications for loans number 15,687 and call for a total amount of $33,751,400.

To date of the total number received 27,547 applications have been passed by the commission. Of this 13,485 have been returned for correction. Of the total number of cash applications 13,385 have been approved by the commission and referred to the secretary of state for payment.

PAGEANT OF FLOWERS SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Portland, Or., June 22.—A gymkana and pageant of flowers in which three thousand persons will participate, features today's program of the Rose Festival.

OREGON MAY GET GRAIN SAMPLING BUREAU

The establishment of a sampling bureau in connection with its grain inspection department is being considered by the public service commission, it was announced here Wednesday. The sampling bureau has been recommended by the chief grain inspector. A conference of grain growers and dealers will be called at an early date to discuss the proposal.

Should the bureau be established, it is stated, the practice of deputizing members of the trade to break seals on grain cars can be dispensed with, all this work being performed by the department. Samples of grain would be secured from the cars when placed on hold tracks for inspection and placed on the board for trading or delivered to the owner for spotting or diversion.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD SETS HEARING DATES

The following cases have been set for hearing by the public service commission.

Newport, June 30.—Proposed increase in rates of Yaquina Electric company operating in Newport and Toledo.

Portland, July 6.—Oregon Hay Growers association, and others against Oregon-Washington railroad, Southern Pacific company, Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway, Oregon Trunk Line and Northern Pacific railway involving hay rates.

Portland, July 7.—Involving arbitration of demurrage controversy between Oregon-Washington railroad and George Palmer Lumber company involving demurrage charges aggregating approximately $6500.

Heppner, July 13.—Involving two railroad crossings in Moro county.

Moro, July 13.—Application of state highway commission for under-crossing with Shauko branch of Oregon-Washington railroad near Moro.

Construction on the line of the Newport-Corvallis highway is being rushed and 10 crews of road workers are putting in full time to complete the grading by July 1.

KENDALL PRAISED BY FRIENDS HERE

If Sheriff C. M. Kendall, slain sheriff of Linn county, had a pronounced fault, it was his tendency to treat prisoners with too great a leniency, according to the many Salem officers who had become acquainted with Kendall and who—without an exception—thought highly of his character and his ability as an officer of the law.

"Sheriff Kendall was, I believe, one of the best officers I ever met," Constable Walter DeLong declared.

Judge G. E. Urnsh of the Salem justice court said: "Sheriff Kendall was a fine officer. He always attempted to give a prisoner the advantage of a doubt and many times took chances simply because he was big-hearted."

Sheriff Oscar Bower, District Attorney John Carson and Deputy Sheriff Sam Burkhart all were acquainted with Kendall and all spoke highly of him.

Kendall was killed last night by Dave F. West, an alleged moonshiner, during a raid on the West farm. Roy Healy, pastor of the First Christian church at Albany, also was killed by West who then took his own life.

SALEM SENATORS AND ST. PAUL TO MEET AT PICNIC

The fourth game of the series of five between the Salem Senators and the St. Paul nine will be played at the Elks picnic in Silverton Sunday, Harry Wenderoth, manager of the Salem team, announced this morning.

The series now stands two and one in favor of Salem, the last game having been played here ending in the defeat of the Senators.

Wenderoth will use the same line-up as used last Sunday with the exception of a pitcher. It is not decided as yet who will occupy the mound.
