USE OF MARKET ROAD FUNDS NOT LEGAL, OPINION

Eugene, Or., June 28.—The Lane county court is restrained from spending $23,000 of market road money on the Pacific highway in the construction of a bridge north of Cottage Grove in a decision handed down here Tuesday in circuit court.

Judge Skipworth's decision in the case of S. M. Calkins against Lane county is state-wide in scope. That it will disrupt the whole state road program is almost a certainty, as many courts have gone on the assumption that market road funds can be used in co-operation with the state on state roads. The decision immediately affects $43,000 budgeted in this county.

Judge Skipworth declares that the state highways and market roads are two separate and distinct systems and "it was never the intention of the legislature that any part of the state highway should be constructed at the expense of the market road fund."

He further declares that any resolution of the county court may pass declaring the state highway a market road, as was done in Lane county, does not affect the status of the road.

Mill City, Or., June 28.—Sunday was the hottest day experienced in Mill City this year, the thermometer standing at 92 at 1 p. m. The river is falling fast, and trout fishing should improve now. He was carried to the hospital on an improvised stretcher, and given treatment by Dr. W. W. Allen.

Henriksen east as one of the delegates, was elected substitute delegate to the 1933 church council, which will also be held in Minneapolis, Minn., during the month of June or July.

Somehow, scientific or not, we rather favor Ponce de Leon's theory which worked out about as well long before the gland era.

The correct answer to Mr. Edison's question:

"What is Grape-Nuts made of?"

Answered by the makers of Grape-Nuts

THIS is one of a number of questions which Mr. Edison is putting to applicants for an important position in his organization. We are happy to learn the interest shown in the food, Grape-Nuts, by a man of such broad attainments as Mr. Edison.

There has never been any secret about what Grape-Nuts is made of. It has been on the market for 24 years, and practically everybody knows its composition.

But inasmuch as such a simple, everyday question as "When did Columbus discover America?" is often incorrectly answered, it may be well to take this opportunity to restate the following facts about Grape-Nuts:

Grape-Nuts is a highly nourishing cereal food, made from a mixture of whole wheat flour, malted barley, salt and water. The mixture is raised by yeast, baked in loaves, then sliced, further baked, and then crushed into granules.

No food in the world is so thoroughly baked as Grape-Nuts. More than 20 hours are consumed in the various baking processes.

As every diet expert knows, this long baking brings about conversion of the carbohydrate elements, developing dextrin, maltose and dextrose or grape-sugar—a form of sugar to which all starch elements must be changed before they can be assimilated by the system.

Grape-Nuts when eaten does not form a pasty mass difficult to digest—the 20-hours baking makes this delicious food easily digested by even those with the most delicate stomachs; and the character of the food requires thorough mastication.

Grape-Nuts is a well-balanced food for building bone, tooth and nerve structure. When combined with cream or milk, it is admittedly a complete food.

You will find Grape-Nuts everywhere. At your grocer's, your club, your hotel, your restaurant.

In America, where you don't find Grape-Nuts you won't find people.
