Our Absentee Statesman

Some statesmen win fame by attention to duty, discussion of public measures, and being always on the job. In sharp contrast to this old fashioned type is Senator Stanfield, who is winning fame by inattention to duty, by silence upon measures and by never being on the job.

That highly important party measure, the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill has been under discussion in the senate since April 20 and frantic efforts have been made by republican party leaders, the republican whip, and republican senators in caucus, to force the return of all absentees in order to keep a quorum, speed-up the consideration of the bill, and hold a majority favorable to its passage.

However, Senator Stanfield is anxious to close the tariff debate of which he has not yet heard a word and wants to enforce the gag rule as he himself has been silent since his only speech in behalf of the packers trust, so he has wired Senator McNary, authorizing him to sign Stanfield's name for the cloture petition.

The moral of course, is what a wise move the people of Oregon made when they voted for a change, voted to replace George E. Chamberlain, tried and not found wanting, always on duty and going down the line for his constituents, who was what his successor never will be, a commanding figure in the senate, with Robert E. Stanfield, as a result of partisan pleadings of political hacks.

What's the Matter

William Allen White has an article in Colliers entitled "What's the matter with America" in which he declares that the trouble lies with the "moran majorities" in the electorate, due principally to the influx of foreigners from southern and eastern Europe, possessing the mentality of children, a different standard of public morality, and a different civilization.

The moron majority which piles up in every great American city, creates the spawning ground of the thief, the assassin, of the hoodler, of the greedy corporation manager who exploits the people by buying privilege from the pliant bosses. We have written our Constitution, created our laws, established our government for one kind of people—and the ships from across the sea have brought us another kind of people.

There is a good deal of truth in these statements, but the morons are not confined to the foreign born. There is just as large a percentage among the native American population. It seems to us that these rapidly breeding boneheads are fast submerging the normal minded. If they are, in a few generations the great republic will be as decadent as the lands from which it is recruiting its population and suffer the common fate of republics, whose citizens haven't intelligence sufficient to guide their destinies.

But there is no use to blame the imported moron for America's troubles. As yet he is not numerous outside the large cities. The nation is merely reaping what it has sown. The normal native born are not living up to the ideals of the founders. The moron was imported to exploit. In him are inculcated the ideals of greed and grab because such ideals permeate the nation.

These moron majorities furnish the reason for the failure of the direct primary and popular legislation, and account for the class of men elected to public office. The child minded vote on impulses or prejudice and government cannot rise higher than its source.

Seven Accidents Fatal

Seven fatalities are included in the list of 473 accidents reported to the state industrial accident commission for the week ending June 29. Workmen who are listed as having lost their lives in industrial accidents are James F. Anderson, powderman, Elk City; Fred Butterfield, blacksmith, Marshfield; Sam Stanoff, choker setter, Astoria; John J. Phillips, glazier's helper, Portland; Grover Darnelle, fireman, Medford; John Laine, faller, Astoria; John Beckman, fireman, Astoria.

Requestion Honored

Governor Olcott Friday honored a requestion from the governor of California for the return of Paul Folbern to San Jose, Cal., where he is wanted on a forgery charge. Folbern, who is under arrest in Portland, is charged with having forged a check for $140 on the student body of the San Jose high school. H. M. Bartley, deputy sheriff of Santa Clara county is here to take the prisoner back.

Haying is actively under way now in almost all sections of Lin county. Big yields are being reported in most localities.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Porge have arrived at Corvallis from far-away Java to take a course in poultry husbandry at Oregon Agricultural college.

Trenton—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, won a technical knockout over Jeff Clark of Jupiter, Mo., when Clark's seconds tossed a towel into the ring at the beginning of the second round of their scheduled 12-round bout.

It is easier to understand a crowd of women than any single one.

Faith in human righteousness falls to a low ebb when you go to a dance hall and look things over.

The word "perhaps" generally means "No" when a man says it, but a woman's "perhaps" nearly always means "Yes."

LOVE'S MASQUERADE
A DRAMATIC STORY OF LOVE AND ROMANCE
By Idah McGlone Gibson

A Strange Funeral
"Yes, you will," jeered Davis, when Claverling said he was going to pick out a wife deliberately and without sentiment.

"Jim, you will probably fall for a slim, bobbed-haired, lip-sticked flapper and marry her within a week after you first meet her. Then you will spend the rest of your life wondering why you did it."

"Joking aside, Jim, I certainly think that Mill will really be very fortunate if he can persuade Margaret Earle to marry him. I am sure you will agree with me that she is an exceptional woman."

"Personally, I think this is the time for Harry to shuffle off. It would simplify matters exceedingly, and I really think if Harry knew what was before him, he would be glad to go."

"Of course, Doris is keyed up to all sorts of unselfish devotion now, but she will never be able to keep it up. She will go back to her nagging and lazy ways. Harry will have to suffer from the scandal in his pocketbook as well as his mind. I don't believe it will be possible for him to keep his position and it will be hard for him to get another job as editor."

"No magazine wants a man on its staff who has had an open scandal attached to his name and who will have to live down the reputation for breaking hearts and smashing homes. It might be that poetic justice will send him to Quito after all with his own wife. That certainly would be making the punishment fit the crime."

These moron majorities furnish the reason for the failure of the direct primary and popular legislation, and account for the class of men elected to public office. The child minded vote on impulses or prejudice and government cannot rise higher than its source.

Pretty Blondes Predominate In U. of C. Class

San Francisco, July 1.—Has the flapperitis phenomenon which just now is agitating the nation anything to do with complexion? Or is the far-famed climate of the San Francisco region changing?

These questions are being asked by those who love to study statistics and who have discovered that 65 per cent of the women students graduated this year from the University of California are blondes.

The wise ones shake their heads and opine "twas not alone thus—brunettes used to predominate. There must be a reason." Those who are interested in the subject say inquiry showed that the blondes were honest to goodness, un-peroxidized blondes.

So they have turned to the theories enunciated in the questions above to supply the answer. N. E. Glass has been elected school director at Cottage Grove over W. O. Wilson by a vote of 139 to 21.

Road work between Cascadia and Foster, including the Shea hill grade, has been completed.

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. When I began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed' for you were a 'friend indeed'." Mrs. GEORGE HARDEE, 1008 Byram St., Los Angeles, California.

Two Sides of Turnover

The alert business man dealing with present day conditions knows that the big word today is "Turnover." Whether he be a merchant, manufacturer, jobber, or banker, he sees that one thing with a clear vision unbiased by the limits of his own business. It is in the air, and on the tip of every tongue.

And yet many of them—entirely too many—are thinking on only one side of Turnover. They think of it as meaning rapid selling—putting money in and getting it out quickly and at a profit. They realize that they must put greatly increased efforts back of all their plans for selling and distribution.

The other half of Turnover is the consumer. All selling plans and efforts fail if the consumer doesn't want to buy. His desire for the product must be created. He must meet the seller half way. He must be in a mood to buy before the salesman meets him across the counter.
