Falls Asleep at Wheel of Auto; Car Hits Pole

Bellingham, Wash., July 15.—J. J. Donovan, vice-president of the Bloedel Donovan Mills, is in the hospital here today suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident early this morning as he was driving to Bellingham from the company's lumber camp at Saxon. Apparently falling asleep, Mr. Donovan drove his car into a telephone pole. His face was cut by glass and he was bruised, but his injuries are not considered serious. Mr. Donovan had assisted yesterday in fighting forest fire at Marysville and went last night to Saxon, where a fire was threatening the camp. The camp was saved, it was reported this morning, but considerable damage to timber had resulted, and there is still danger that some of the buildings will be burned if the wind springs up again.

SENATE REJECTS PROPOSAL FOR DYE EMBARGO

Washington, July 15.—The senate today rejected, 36 to 22, the provision of the tariff bill proposing to continue the existing dye embargo for one year from the passage of the bill.

By unanimous agreement on motion of Chairman McCumber of the finance committee, there was eliminated the further provision in the bill under which the dye embargo might have been continued for an additional year by the president upon satisfactory showing of the necessity for such a step.

NEW REGULATION RAISES N. G. NON-COMM' PAY

New rulings of the war department bring the payment of national guardsmen quarterly instead of semi-annual, and increase rates of non-commissioned officers, according to information from the adjutant general's office. Privates will draw $1. for each drill day as heretofore, but would not have done so if this ruling had not passed. First class privates are reduced from $1.17 to $1.15; corporals increased from $1.27 to $1.40; sergeants from $1.50 to $1.80; staff sergeants, $1.50 to $2.40; and first sergeants from $1.77 to $2.80; master signal electricians from $2.47 to $4.20.

According to present plans, a state-wide association of poultrymen will be organized at the national convention of instructors and investigators in poultry husbandry at Oregon Agricultural college this month.

FANCY DIVING TO BE SEEN BEFORE CONCERT AT PARK

Those who are going to attend the band concert next Tuesday evening, which is to be held at the children's playground, formerly the high school athletic field, should plan to get there by 7:15 o'clock so as to witness the fancy diving stunts that will be given by a team led by Julian Burroughs, O. A. C. all-round athlete. The mill creek which runs through the park furnishes a good place for the events.

It will also be interesting for those attending to walk around the park and see what equipment has been installed. The park is reached by auto by turning north on Fourteenth street from Center. Signs will be posted showing where to turn in. Between three and four acres in the park will furnish splendid parking facilities so that a person may sit in the machine and hear the band.

BIG SUNDAY SHOW AT BLIGH THEATER

Dixie Boy Morris furnishes his quota of comedy in his offering the "Sun-Kissed Boy from Dixie," consisting of black-face singing, talking and eccentric dancing. He is a whole show by himself.

Leelle Girls start the show in a pleasing manner in a stinging and musical revue. They are attractive, wear pretty costumes, have good harmony singing voices and both good musicians.

Gladys Walton can be seen in a new sort of role at the Bligh theater Sunday and Monday.

It is not only new for her but new to the screen. It is a role pictured from the popular song, "Second Hand Rose," which was a hit immediately after its publication by Shapiro Bernstein & Co., and which seems destined to last as long as people love popular music.

The figure of "Second Hand Rose" was suggested to Universal officials as the heroine of a screen story. A. P. Younger, a scenario writer, was assigned to follow his ideas in the matter and write a story suitable for Miss Walton.

The disbarment proceedings brought by the state bar association against Joseph Woerndle, Portland attorney, will be argued before the supreme court here Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Woerndle is charged with disloyalty to the United States government it being alleged that he secured a passport in his own name which he later gave to Hans Boehm, alleged German spy.

Not Her Fault Says She: Hubby Did Everything

Alleging that he insisted upon and inveigled her into the marriage which took place in 1902, two months after her divorce from her previous husband, Henry Little, Mrs. Mary J. Charlesworth of Seattle filed her answer to the divorce complaint of her husband, Crooks Charlesworth, in which he asks that the marriage be annulled because of illegality and charges her with taking advantage of his ignorance of the divorce laws of the United States at that time.

Mrs. Charlesworth also claims in her answer that her husband deserted her on December 8, 1920, and lived with one Mabel E. Chrisholm of Seattle and that her husband left the state of Washington to escape the consequences of the law.

In reply to his statement that she is 17 years older than he, and to prove him over 24 at the time of the marriage in 1902, she offers the court affidavits of her friends. She asks for a division of property valued at $15,000, and that the marriage be declared void.

Summer squash is on the market today at the fairly reasonable price of 15 cents a pound. The housewife will have to look for them for they have not received general distribution.
Shippers' prices on eggs increase one cent this morning bringing their buying quotations up to 21 cents, which is a fair indication that eggs are not going to remain cheap much longer.

BERRY GROWERS OFFER PICKERS 2 CENTS PER LB.

Many of the loganberry growers, driven to despair over the shortage of pickers, are now offering 2 cents per pound box for picking. They figure that as long as they are going in the hole financially anyway they might as well save what they can and in that way lessen the deficit.

That is the case this year and many of the tourists hearing that a good price is being paid for picking about Salem plan to stop over and spend a few days in the berry fields. However, when they get here and after picking about half a day find that even at 2 cents per pound that they can not make more than $2.75 or $3.00, they hand in their checks and draw their money. Such an instance was brought to attention this morning by a brief interview with Mrs. James Levett of Portland, who with her husband and two sons were registered at the camp grounds last night.

The three men had been picking cherries at The Dalles and at the close of the season they began to look for other picking jobs. They had been making about $5.00 per day in the cherry orchards and expected to duplicate the performance in the loganberry patches. However, when they got here and tried it one afternoon they decided that they would be moving. Mrs. Levett said that if her husband and two sons could not make $4.00 per day they would do something else. This morning they started to look for a better paying job at the canneries. Up to the hour of going to press they have not found what they want in the line of work at "pre war prices."

There were 37 other camps made at the Salem auto park last night. Twenty-two, or more than half of the number had remained over from the previous night. The 18 camps registered for the first time last evening were made by the following:

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wolfe and party, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Jellison, Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. F. G. McDewitt, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Clement, Havre, Mont.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Croder, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Merritt, Blackfoot, Idaho.
