CHANG THREATENS BRITISH SUBJECTS THRU MANCHURIA

Peking, Aug. 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Grave alarm is felt by British subjects throughout Manchuria over the threat of Chang Tso-Lin, governor of the province, to withhold his protection of British lives and property in reprisal for what he calls British contempt of his authority. Chang declares the Manchurians are contemplating a boycott of British business and says he will not be responsible for action taken by the people if the present methods of British subjects in Manchuria continue.

The text of Chang's speech publicly attacking the Britons was published in today's newspapers. On August 12, it developed, Chang invited several American and British merchants to his headquarters in Mukden. There, in the presence of the Americans, he bitterly attacked the Britons. During the course of his speech, the Manchurian governor made three specific charges against the British.

First, he declared that in the war between himself and Wu Pei Fu, the northern military leader who defeated Chang and revived the old republican parliament, Manchurian soldiers were killed with bombs hurled from British airplanes.

Second, Chang charged, the British have been opposing his seizure of the railroad extending from Shan Hai-Kuan to Mukden, whereas they have not protested the capture of Peking by Wu Pei Fu nor the seizure of the Hankow railroad by him.

In the third instance, Chang asserted, the British were opposing his seizure of the salt revenues of Manchuria, thus discriminating in favor of Tuchons who hold revenues.

Chang continued that if the British methods did not change, "the negative force of opposition would become a positive one and the physical forces of several millions of people will continue and enter into the struggle."

In his speech, Chang Tso-Lin made no reference to the Americans. It is supposed that the Americans were invited merely to hear what Chang had to say that the British legation here has instituted an investigation of the matter, preparatory to entering a protest.

UNION PACIFIC HEAD CONFERS WITH OFFICIALS

Washington Aug. 21.—Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific railroad, and Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, continued today a series of conferences on the railway strike situation with some officials of the government. The conferences, it was said, were without special significance.

E. R. Jackman was in Salem from Corvallis over Sunday. Allen Porter, of Silverton, had a minor operation performed this morning.

Several members of the Cherrian band will go to Independence tomorrow where they will play for the Ford and Fordson exposition.

William Carver of Salem, former newspaper reporter and recently an investigator of election frauds for the Hall forces in the primary contest, has been appointed receiver of the Southwestern Oregon News, published at Marshfield.

A. W. Wyttenberg of Jennings Lodge was arrested Saturday night for cutting corners in the business district. His bond was fixed at $20 which he was unable to furnish, and his car was held in lieu of the bond. He appeared this morning and paid the bond and regained the car.

SCOUTS EAT WELL ON TRIP

Some idea of the task of feeding the 42 persons connected with the Boy Scout camp at Cascadia August 1-18 can be imagined when it is known that on the mornings when least was on the menu there were 255 slices placed on the table. Other supplies were necessary to the following amounts: 150 baking powder biscuits per meal, 125 smoking hot doughnuts when supplied, and three and one-half gallons of cocoa.

Twenty pounds of bacon and 8 pounds of salt pork were also taken on the trip, besides four and three-quarter cases of milk, 60 pounds of butter and jam donated by C. E. Clancy, 460 pounds of potatoes, 240 loaves of bread, 2 cases of eggs, 30 pounds of dried prunes, 23 pounds of cheese, and 20 pounds of rice, all besides the fresh vegetables and milk secured from nearby farms. It will be noticed that meat, aside from the bacon and salt pork used for adding flavor to potatoes and beans, were not among the articles of food. On two occasions canned salmon was served, however. The first Sunday that the boys were in camp a supply of roast veal was served and on the second Sunday all the chicken that possibly could be eaten was on the menu. Aside from these four times beans and cheese served the place of meat.

R. R. Orne, cook for the camp, kept track of the meals served and found that there were 2007 individual servings. Figuring all the expenses attached to the commissary each meal cost about 10 1/2 cents per person. Mr. Orne is an expert doughnut and pastry man and often prepared batches of the sinkers which the boys declared "hit the spot."

While on the trip the boys were treated to watermelon, the treat of P. E. Fullerton. He sent 11 monstrous ripe melons to the camp. They were so large that only about three could be eaten by the boys at one time. All the boys are very enthusiastic about the trip and it is expected that an even larger number of boys will go next year. It is almost certain that such will be the case in view of the economic manner in which the camp was run.

FAIR BOOSTERS URGE GREATER COOPERATION

The Portland exposition caravan, headed by Mayor George Baker, arrived in Salem yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, just six minutes off their schedule. The caravan was received by the Salem Lions club at the junction of the highway and the Albany road and escorted into Salem to the east entrance of the court house. The welcome speech was given by Councilman Utter in the absence of Mayor George Halvorsen, who was to have welcomed the exposition boosters.

Mayor Baker responded with a talk on the exposition and an urgent request that greater co-operation be fostered between the various districts of the state to make Oregon greater and better. Frank Deckebach, member of the 1925 exposition committee, presided at the meeting.

Mayor Baker's speech was broadcasted by radio from the scene of the gathering. The caravan has been on the road for the past 12 days and has covered a distance of 1400 miles through eastern, central and western Oregon. Leaving Salem, the boosters proceeded to Woodburn and then on into Portland and the end of the journey.

vacation to a study of military service and training for service. I am not sure, however, but you have profited quite as well as your country. If my eye testifies correctly, you have benefited from the physical training which always means a higher state of American manhood. You have benefited by learning discipline. You have benefited as all America might well benefit by learning a little more impressively the obligations of the citizen to his country. It is a rather interesting thing modern science has learned that the ill of the nerv-

"You will be interested to know that the volunteer citizens training movement last year enlisted about 11,000 recruits. This year there were 25,000 of you in the various camps. If I could have my wish, this number would increase until more than 100,000 were annually studying and preparing for armed service, not that we ever expect to be called upon for such service, but solely for national defense and the preservation of the government under which we all live.

"There is new assurance; there is new confidence; there is new belief in the perpetuity of this American republic when one can stand as I have stood this morning and noted such a company of ready volunteer defenders as you have shown us in this review. Again, my congratulations and my gratitude for your country."
