

Cut-Off Budha's Head When Rain Failed But Glued It Back On Again

Tokio, Oct. 6.—Faith almost approaching superstition still characterizes the simple-minded country folks' attitude towards the image of Buddha. A despatch from Oye-damachi, Nagano-ken, reports that an extraordinary manifestation of such faith was made in Shtotamura.

Because of the continuous drought the villagers assembled and held a prayer meeting before the local stone image of Buddha in the hope of calling down rain. The meeting continued for a week at the end of which, much to the disappointment of the villagers, no rain came. The men were so seriously excited at the "ineptness" of the Buddha that they beheaded the image. A few days later the rain came down on torrents.

The intimidated men then pulled the headless Buddha by a rope up to a village physician for diagnosis after the traditional custom. The physician reinstated the head by means of cement and bandaging the neck declared that he would be all right in a week's time.

ILLNESS CRIPPLES BEARCATS FOR GAME

Due to sickness of three of the Bearcats lineup, Coach Bohler is going to be forced to present an eleven in the game at Eugene Saturday with the University of Oregon that is full of pep but lacking, to a great extent, in experience.

Jones, is being kept out of the game with a severe cold, Baggoti, by a minor injury received in practice, and Oliver, by a cluster of boils. All three men played in the game last Saturday with the Alumni and showed to advantage. Practice in both offensive and defensive plays have been going on during the week and the men that will take the places of those kept out are heavy but lack experience. It is likely that Moore, Skirvin, and Warner will be the selections, 'Bohler said this morning.

A rousing send off is being planned by the students of the university for the Bearcat team when they leave Saturday morning for Eugene.

Normal News

The annual reception given the students and townspeople by President Landers and the members of the faculty, last Saturday evening opened the Normal's social year auspiciously.

The guests were received in the chapel which had been most attractively decorated with autumn flowers and foliage. President Landers gave a short address formally welcoming the newcomers and those returning after the summer's vacation to the normal. To this, Miss May Burgoyne responded fittingly in behalf of the members of the student body. A varied program followed consisting of music by Miss Moore, reading by Miss Darrah and instrumental selections by Misses Peterson which were all enthusiastically received.

Further interesting numbers were three solo dances by Miss Ruth Hjerdis of O. A. C. Department of Physical Training, and several vocal numbers by Mrs.

Landers. Refreshments were served in the rooms in the west wing of the building.

The first student body meeting of the year was held last Thursday with Miss Jane Gunn, the vice president in charge. Mr. Burton Bell, the president, has not yet recovered sufficiently after a recent operation to return to school, though he expects to be in soon. Only routine business was taken up at this meeting.
