WINTER'S ICY HAND CLOSES ON NORTHWEST WITH FIRST SNOWFALL

Omak, Wash., Oct. 16.—The first snow of the year was reported falling in western Nebraska and South Dakota today.

The weather bureau here said that the snow was moving toward the southwest.

Champlin, Wyo., Oct. 16.—Champlin got its first snow today but up to noon the fall had not been heavy. A blinding storm swept over Sherman Hill, the highest point on the Union Pacific railroad and the Lincoln highway yesterday.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 16.—The first grip of winter's icy hand closed on the northern states today with the news of snowfall in the North and South Dakota. In most cases the snow was reported melting so fast, but Perreys Falls, Minn., advisors said that a three-inch blanket of white covered the ground.

Supreme Court Divided Upon Listing Opinion

Press prices which have become stabilized early in the year for the first time in years, are being held by a number of newspapers, a copy of which was received by the Supreme Court today. The court announced that it had been asked to list the case.
