OREGON SHIPPERS NOT COMPLAINING OF CAR SHORTAGE

In spite of the prevailing car shortage as set forth in press dispatches and in reports submitted by the railroads themselves fewer complaints are being received by the public service commission here than ever before.

To date only three shippers have laid their complaints before the commission, it was stated by Secretary Ellis this morning. Each of these cases involved only a small number of cars and each complaint was immediately remedied through the commission's traffic department to the satisfaction of the shipper.

Members of the commission this morning were unable to reconcile the absence of complaints on the part of shippers with the reported shortage of cars but declared that they stood ready to do everything in their power to relieve such shortages as were called to their attention.

In anticipation of a shortage at this time of year, a condition which has been prevalent in this section for years past with the exception of 1921 when there was no car shortage, the commission has for some time past exacted of the various roads operating in Oregon daily reports on the car situation.

The reports of the Southern Pacific company for Wednesday show a shortage of only 347 cars as compared to a shortage of 2371 cars in 1920. The reports of the Oregon-Washington railroad for Wednesday show a shortage of 529 cars, the greatest so far reported this year, as compared to a shortage of 297 on the same date in 1920.

REAL SCHLATTER NOW BUM IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 20.—"You can find me every afternoon on a bench in Lincoln park," said a man who declares he, and not another man who died under the same name and a reputation in St. Louis, recently, was "king" Francis Schlatter, alleged "divine healer" to newspapermen who wanted to know where they could locate him today in case of developments in the case.

According to the Los Angeles Times, this man is "undoubtedly" the original of photographs it has on file of Francis Schlatter who was convicted in the United States court here in 1917 of having used the mails to defraud in connection with the sales of "blessed handkerchiefs." This man said fortune had failed him since he received a sentence of 18 months in the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, Washington, after his conviction, and that his former affluence had forsaken him and left him a "bum."

CHILD SLAYER PROVED TO BE FORMER CONVICT

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—A man who gave his name to the police as Charles Buckley when arrested on charges of manslaughter and driving an automobile while intoxicated, growing out of the death of Marion Newton, four years old, under the wheels of his car last night, is in reality Charles H. Fenton, who served a 14 months' sentence in the McNeil Island prison for a violation of the Mann act, according to the police record.

The prisoner's wife, who was with him at the time of the killing of the baby girl, was booked on a charge of drunkenness.

Owing to the material reduction in the cotton crop of Texas, the largest cotton crop in the history of that state will be produced this year.

SPLIT IN RANKS OF VENIZELISTS

Athens, Oct. 20.—(By Associated Press.)—The royalist newspapers declare the movement in favor of the republic has caused a split in the ranks of the Venizelists and that long telegrams have been forwarded to M. Venizelos in London outlining the political situation and asking for instructions.

One newspaper expresses the opinion that because of "disagreeable impressions produced among the people by the firing of the republic shell," Venizelos will disavow the movement and make it clear he favors a "crowned democracy."

When M. Venizelos on Tuesday was informed that a movement for a republic with himself as president had been launched in Greece he declined to comment, according to London dispatches, but declared he was irrevocably determined to retire to private life when the Turkish peace treaty was signed.

Normal News

Mr. J. J. Handsaker of Portland, chairman of the Near East Relief for Oregon, addressed the students at the chapel hour on Monday morning. He presented the subject in a most vivid forceful way. In response to his appeal for help, $300 has already been raised and $100 more is pledged to be paid by the end of the week. Such a report reflects decidedly upon the student body of O. N. S.

Miss Taylor made a business trip to Portland last Thursday. A dancing party will be given in the gymnasium on Saturday evening, October 21. The arrangements for this party are in the hands of the Seniors who are planning some features characteristic of Hallow'een. Local friends on the Normal's social list are cordially invited to attend this party.

President Landers read an interesting letter from Miss Clara Allen '22, at the chapel hour on Tuesday. The letter reported the activities of a most enthusiastic group of Normalites who set forth the needs of the Normal during the institute week in Astoria, Oregon. They are more vigorously carrying on the campaign for a bigger and better O. N. S.

President Landers addressed the W. C. T. U. at McMinnville and the county institute at Oregon City last week.

A motion picture made from J. O. Curwood's book "The Valley of Silent Men" will be shown in the chapel on Friday evening. The story is well known and should make an interesting picture.

Friends of Burton Bell are much gratified that he has sufficiently recovered his health to resume his school work. Mr. Bell is president of the student body organization this year.

Mr. Beattie spoke at the institute in Baker county last week. The seniors held their class election last Thursday afternoon. The following officers were elected:

Frances Lord, president; Kathryn Peterson, vice-president; Marion Jenkins, secretary; Mabel Rae Green, treasurer; J. Otto Burcham, sergeant at arms; O. Emily Bergen, song leader.

PLANS TO CONTEST FOR TAYLOR ESTATE

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 20.—William Edward Taylor of San Francisco, passing through Cheyenne last evening on his way from Laramie to Denver told the local representative of the Associated Press that he was about ready to begin proceedings for a contest of the will of William Desmond Taylor, slain movie director of Los Angeles.

Records unearthed at Laramie, he said, had convinced him that he is the son of the dead man and therefore entitled to a share of the $20,000 estate left by the director to his daughter, Ethel Taylor.

COLUMBIA GRAPHOPHONE COMPANY New York. Old Ballads with new beauty. HERE is a treat, indeed, for the lover of good music—the first recordings made in America by the famous London String Quartet. This month's Columbia all-star program gives you two of their best—"Sally in Our Alley" and "Cherry Ripe." As played by such masters of tone and technique, these two quaint old-world ballads become a rare ensemble of exquisite harmony—a perfect rendition of music in one of its most difficult and delightful forms. These two selections, beautiful as they are, are merely typical of all Columbia offerings. In the November Columbia Records, out to-day, you have a treasury of golden melody from which to choose, vocal and instrumental solos, orchestral selections, sentimental ballads, or if your mood is such, the latest dance hits and popular songs. Each is a masterpiece of tone and technique. Each is a flawless reproduction of the original voice or instrument, giving you melody unmarred by obnoxious scratch or scrape or other disconcerting surface sound. The new Columbia Records are ready at Columbia Dealers, waiting for you to come in and play them. Tear out the list now. Take it in and listen to this delightful collection of latest selections.
