

JAIL KLANSMEN FOR DISTURBANCE

Long Beach, Cal., Nov. 5.—Two men who were arrested Friday night when a demonstration credited by the police to the Ku Klux Klan halted an address by Thomas Lee Woolwine, democratic candidate for governor, were arraigned here and their cases set for Wednesday.

The men are S. M. Mitchell, said to be an officer of the Ku Klux Klan and James T. Butterfield, former chief of police for Long Beach. The charge on which they were arraigned was "conspiring to break up a public meeting."

A blanket warrant for the arrest of a number of other persons, about half of them women, who walked out of the hall with Mitchell and Butterfield shortly after Woolwine read an alleged notice of Klan members calling on them to attend the meeting and walk out at a given signal, has been issued, but at noon today no further arrests had been made in connection with the alleged Klan demonstration.

West Salem

The M. E. church and Epworth League gave a penny social in the town hall on the evening of the 5th. The hall was artistically decorated with autumn leaves and other things representing the autumn season, with yellow and black paper used profusely throughout the building. Pumpkin faces, witches, owl and black cats could be seen glaring at you in every corner. Nearly everyone present was disguised and upon entering caused much fun and merriment. In one corner of the room was an old witch, hid in a wigwag of autumn leaves and corn foliage, continually stirring her kettle in order to tell the young girls' and boys' future destinies, while in another corner was concealed an old gypsy with a spinning wheel for the bachelor girl, bachelors, widows and widowers to spin out their doom. A beautiful fairy could be seen dishing out doughnuts and cider. The function was a success, both socially and financially, for everyone present had a merrytime and the proceeds amounted to $7.92.

One of the most enjoyable Halloween parties of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas on Front street on Saturday evening, given in honor of their daughter, Della, and over twenty of her friends. The rooms were very beautifully adorned with autumn leaves and flowers and things symbolic of Halloween—black cats, witches and pumpkin faces were bewitching—each room interwound with yellow and black crepe paper. The amusements of the evening consisted of different games and music with the usual menu of pumpkin pie and cider. The guests included were: Sidney Hawthorne, Harold Elbert, Carl Byers, Wynne Grier, Edward and Harold Watson, Harry and Gladys Creasy, Robert Miller, Arthur Hathaway, Ted Wolke, Homer Phillips, Anna Cappe, Mary Talent, Helen Sanda, Wanda Wiekler, Densie Jacoba, Claudine Gerth, Lucy, Gertrude and Charlie Needham, Doretha and Della Douglas.

Mrs. Hatton of Dallas was the guest of Mrs. S. A. Leach, Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. O. H. Creasy was hostess Tuesday evening for her son, Claude Creasy and about forty of his friends. The occasion was a Halloween party and everyone came in the masquerade attire. The house was attractively decorated with autumn foliage and drapings of yellow and black crepe paper and things carrying out the spirit of Halloween. The evening was enjoyed with music, Halloween pranks and playing games, after which a four-course luncheon was served.

Larsen Says He Was Forced to Quit Work

"Tanlac measures up to everything claimed for it," declared James Larsen, a well known painter and interior decorator, of E. 4025 28th St., Spokane, Wash.

"I had contracted lead poisoning in the course of my work, which caused all kinds of trouble with my stomach, and no one who hasn't been through it can possibly realize how a man suffers whose stomach is upset by lead poisoning. Time and time again I had to quit work on account of the terrible gripping pains and awful sickness in my stomach, and I couldn't begin to tell how much this cost me in time lost from work.

"Well, sir, Tanlac overcame this trouble completely and built me up in every way. I haven't lost a day from work since I started taking it, and to look at me now, no one would think I ever had a sick day."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. (Adv.)

Salem friends, has returned from a hunting expedition near Roseburg. They were lucky enough to get two deers.

Mrs. F. M. Gilbaugh gave a surprise birthday party on Saturday evening in honor of her husband, Frank Gilbaugh, and her sister, Mrs. J. M. Rentfro. At 7 o'clock an appetizing and sumptuous dinner was served by the hostess. The rooms were seasonable and prettily decorated with various colors of chrysanthemums and ferns. The guests were kept busy with contests, the losing side popping corn for the winning side, and in playing different games. The guests that enjoyed the occasion were all formerly of Nebraska, except one and from the east too. Those present were: John Rentfro and family of Salem, J. M. Rentfro and family, J. C. Skipper and family, Lulu Colson, Lulla Russell and F. M. Gilbaugh and family.

Mrs. Mary Miller was a dinner guest with Mrs. Dr. Prime of Salem, Wednesday.

J. Jacobs was a Portland business visitor Thursday.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. E. Breckenridge on last Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent sewing patches for a quilt. The attendance was small as some of the members are still working. The next meeting will be in a fortnight.

Gertrude Watsling of Valsets was a guest at the Needman home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Gilbaugh spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. J. M. Rentfro.

Mrs. Bontridge and little girl of Albany visited her mother, Mrs. Hunt, Sunday.

Mrs. E. G. Gritton, who underwent an operation at the Salem hospital, was brought to her home last week and her many friends are glad to know she is much improved in health. She is still confined to bed and has for her nurse Miss Harvey of Fourth street.

Mrs. Meggers of Salem visited her daughter, Mrs. Kamiska, Tuesday.

A joint meeting of the boards of stewards of the Summit and West Salem churches met in the town hall, Sunday afternoon to transact some business. The meetings was well attended by both churches.

Those sick in our midst are Charles Phillips' children and Mrs. S. A. Leach. Mrs. Leach has been seriously ill the past week, but feels some better at this time.

Arthur Moore and his brother, who have been on a hunting trip, returned bringing their friends a treat of venison, as they were fortunate enough to get two deers.

Frances Hunt was a last of the week guest of her aunt at Dayton.

Mrs. Grittinger and daughter, Esther, made a flying visit at the A. D. Leach dwelling Thursday.

Macley News

The Macley Ladies Aid society met at the grange hall Wednesday with Mrs. Jesse Martin and Mrs. Harry Martin as joint hostesses. After a bountiful dinner, games were played, then the devotional and business hour. The ladies voted to change their name to Merry Maids and Matrons of Macley. The hall was beautifully decorated with orange and black and the table pieces were pumpkins filled with flowers. Those present were: Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. John Teckenberg, Mrs. T. S. MacKenzie, Mrs. Wm. Farr, Mrs. H. W. Locke, Mrs. Jesse Martin, Mrs. Julia Deyarmond, Mrs. Marvay Taylor, Mrs. Florence Cannon, Mrs. J. W. Plank, Mrs. Frank Robinson, Mrs. Edw. M. Locke, T. S. MacKenzie, Loyd LeDuc.

Miss Alta Martin is spending the week end with friends in Dallas.

Mrs. Julia Deyarmond is visiting with friends at Macley, on her way to California where she will make her future home.

The Macley grange met at the hall Friday night with a good attendance and several new members were enrolled.

RODENT EXTERMINATION

Washington, Nov. 6.—Damage by smaller predatory rodents on stockmen's ranges, while not so spectacular as that by wolves, mountain lions and coyotes, is very considerable, and in some cases more than equals that of the predatory animals, according to Dr. A. K. Fisher, of the United States biological survey. There should be closer cooperation, particularly in the matter of appropriations, between the federal and state governments, so that the largest amount available from both sources may be obtained, he says.

The department of agriculture declares that if the prairie dog alone were exterminated over its entire range, which is economically possible, 4,000,000 more cattle and 4,000,000 more sheep could be raised on that area, because of the increase in the amount of forage.

CORVALLIS TOO MUCH FOR LOCAL LADS; WIN 3-0

Barely nosing out a 3 to 0 victory, the Corvallis high school eleven took the Salem high school team into camp Saturday afternoon in one of the hardest fought games that either team will have this year. Corvallis score came from a 20 yard drop kick near the close of the third quarter after they had made four successive first downs. With the loss of the game Salem loses all chances for the state championship.

The visitors began at the very first to tear in and after working the ball to midfield punted to Salem's seven yard line. The punt was returned and Corvallis again started in. It was plain from the beginning that Salem was playing a defensive game, for a time at least. Although outplayed the local team was not outfought and the old Salem fight is probably responsible for the fact that the visitors could not cross the line. An attempted place kick on the second play before the end of the first period by Corvallis from the 35 yard line fell short.

Salem Kick Fails

The second quarter was like the first with Salem showing a spurt but once when they worked the ball to the 40 yard line and attempted a kick. The line did not hold and the kick was blocked.

Following the place kick by the visitors in the third quarter the local team began to try forward passes. A number were completed for short gains until early in the last quarter Salem worked to the 40 yard line from where Adolph attempted another place kick. The angle was too great and the distance too far and the kick failed. Again when Salem gained possession of the ball they started the passing game which came to an untimely end when Averit, Corvallis full back, intercepted a throw and got away to a long run around right end. He was forced out on the two yard line and when tackled dropped the ball with Salem recovering and kicking to safety. However the visitors were intent on making a touchdown and were going strong when the final whistle blew.

Corvallis Lad Hurt

On the fourth play at the beginning of the game, Daniels, left end for Corvallis, suffered a broken shoulder and was carried from the field. In the third quarter Ringle, Salem's right end was carried from the field with several broken ribs. Up until the time of his injury, he was in every play. On more than one occasion he got down under the Salem punts and down the receiver before he was barely under way. Jones at left tackle also played a stellar game for the locals with his tackles, blocks, and recovery of fumbles.

The lineups were: Salem—Reinhart, lb; Jones, It; Hamilton, Ig; Harris, c; Ausman, rg; Moorman, rt; Ringle, re; Brown, q; Post, lb; Lilligren, rb; Adolph f. Corvallis—Daniels, lb; Sweaney, It; Taylor, Ig; Mosher, c; Epperly, rg; Montgomery, rt; Olson, re; Denman, q; R. Montgomery, lb; Edwards, rb; Avert, f.

Officials: Emil Hauser, Chema, referee; Sam Kasterberg, Mt. Angel, umpire; Jack Hays, Salem, head linesman.

BUSINESS PROPERTY HERE CHANGES HANDS

A deal was completed Saturday afternoon for the sale of the Patterson property, fronting on Commercial street and north and added to the new Bonesteel garage on south Commercial just south of the Oregon Electric tracks and extending clear through the block to Liberty street, from Margaret M. Commons to Chalmers H. Brown. Mrs. Commons was here Saturday and signed the final papers. The deal was made through A. C. Bohmstedt.

The property has a frontage of 50 feet and is vacant on Commercial street. A modern residence is located on the Liberty street end. What will be done with the property has not been announced. Mr. Brown is the agent for the Hoffman Motor Sales company.

The bright side of the Near East situation is the outside.

DISABLED VETS ALLOWED $300 FOR FARM NEEDS

Disabled war veterans of this vicinity and the Pacific northwest taking agricultural training under the direction of the government on their own or leased land projects will hereafter be entitled to a maximum of $300 from the government for farm equipment, according to information given out by L. C. Jessop of Seattle, northwest district manager of the United States veterans' bureau. It is believed that this provision will stimulate training along agricultural lines on the part of veterans in line for rehabilitation under the direction of the veterans' bureau, he stated. Less money will be needed by the veteran to establish himself on a farm.

There are 230 disabled war veterans in the Pacific northwest training to become capable farmers on their own or leased land at the present time, Mr. Jessop said. These men receive $30 a month or more from the government until they are able to handle their land projects without outside aid. A total of approximately 500 other vocational trainees of this district are learning agricultural work of various kinds.

Veterans' organizations everywhere are pushing the congressional measure known as the Knutson bill which will, if passed, administer loans on farm mortgage security to disabled war veterans not to exceed 75 per cent of the total value of the farm, real estate nor $2000 to a man.
