OREGON DEFEATS AGGIE ELEVEN BY FOLLOWING BALL

Showing their traditional fight and following the ball every minute of the game, the University of Oregon football team Saturday afternoon broke the tie existing between them and Oregon Agricultural College for the past two years and won a 10 to 0 victory on the Corvallis field.

While both of Oregon's scores, a place kick and touchdown, came as the direct results of breaks in the game, that fact detracts little from the credit due the Eugene lads. Outweighed and battling on a slow muddy field, Oregon had easily the better of the argument.

All of Oregon's points were scored during the first period. Garber, Aggie safety, dropped the first of the Oregon punts early in the first quarter and Latham recovered on the Aggies' 16-yard line. A forward pass and two line bucks failed to make yardage for Oregon and Chapman dropped back for a kick from the 20-yard line. The ball sailed true between the uprights.

A few minutes later, when Garber let another of the Oregon kicks roll close to the goal, Callison, Oregon center broke through the line and blocked Gill's attempted punt, the ball rolling behind the Aggie goal line where Spears, Oregon end, fell on it.

Saturday Washington defeated Stanford 12 to 8. They will present serious opposition to the Oregon aspirations for championship honors in the northwest.

California continued its steam roller tactics of piling up huge scores when it trimmed Nevada 61 to 13, Saturday, and Coach Mathews' Idaho Vandals held the University of Southern California to a 10 to 0 score.

To Probe Outrages "The responsible government of the state is determined that regardless of cost or consequence, a most thorough investigation will be made of the outrages reported to have been made by the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana. Certain terrorizing outrages have been committed; certain horrifying ceremonies have been reported and it is vital that responsibility shall be fixed and offenders punished, not because of any organized association but in spite of this.

"The law of state and nation must be upheld under any and all circumstances."

At the same time, in discussing the controversy in its relation to the campaign just closed during which it was an issue in many states, Mr. Newberry expressed the conviction that "fair analysis of the vote in Michigan and other states where friends and political enemies alike have suffered defeat will demonstrate that a general feeling of unrest was mainly responsible."

The present situation, however, he said rendered "futile" his further service in the senate since it meant he would continue to be hampered by partisan political persecution." Should future op-
