

FLAX GROWERS WILL DISCUSS IMPROVEMENTS

Next Saturday morning there will be held a meeting of officers and directors of the Willamette Valley Flax & Hemp Growers Cooperative association to determine just what shall be done in the way of placing equipment in the company's plant at Rickreall.

At Turner, the company will soon begin the grinding of seed that cannot be used for planting, along with flax chaff and bolts, to make a product to be known as flax dairy seed. An analysis of the flax bolts has shown that it contains ingredients especially adapted for dairy feed.

May Instal Machines.

At Rickreall, the flax company owns the large warehouse and mill building, and the question to be discussed by the directors Saturday is as to how much machinery should be placed in the building to care for this year's crop of flax grown in the Rickreall section and now stored in the buildings there.

The company now has 200 tons of flax stored in the Rickreall plant, just as brought from the field. One-fifth of this flax is of a quality that can be manufactured into flax fibre, while the remainder will be made into tow.

George W. Eyre, president of the company, has just returned from Seattle where he secured orders for sufficient tow to use up all the flax now owned by the company. The price was $100 a ton, a higher price than ever before received for tow.

Payroll Is Large.

At Turner, the company now has a payroll ranging from $700 to $1000 a month.

The officers and directors of the Willamette Valley Flax & Hemp Growers Cooperative association are as follows: George W. Eyre, president; D. F. Eastburn of Aumsville, vice-president; W. Jay Denham of Turner, Charles E. Eyre of Turner, E. L. Porter of Aumsville, George M. Hooyer of Salem rural route 3, and E. T. Tidd of Rickreall are directors. A. C. Bohrnstedt is secretary and treasurer.

MISTLAND PRUNES ARE EN ROUTE TO EUROPE

Mistland prunes are now being shipped in large allotments several times a week from the Portland docks, according to information received at the office of the Oregon Growers Cooperative association.

The Swedish motorship San Francisco is loading this week 2,000,000 pounds of Mistland prunes to be taken direct to Holland and to Swedish ports.

The steamer Lukenbach will also leave the Portland dock within a few days with 2,000,000 pounds of Mistland prunes for North Atlantic ports.

Refrigerator boats known as the Tuscan Star and Narenta will leave Saturday loaded with Mistland prunes direct for English ports.

WILLAMETTE STUDENTS GET LOAN FUND HELP

Forty-eight students of Willamette university are to receive loans approximating $4500 from the Methodist board of education, New York, in order that they may continue with their school work, according to George Alden, dean of the college. The sums vary in amount from $30 to $150.

The fund from which the money is taken is a revolving fund so that the money is loaned to a student to be paid in full within three years after leaving school without interest and when paid back goes to aid another seeker of knowledge.

Paper Mill Plans To Make Improvements

In line with its policy of gradually increasing not only the capacity but the efficiency of the paper mill, plans are now under way by the Oregon Pulp & Paper company for the erection of a wood room and the installation of a sawmill or cut up room, along the river front just west of the mill.

Heretofore, logs for the paper mill have been drawn up into the mill over a chute, then sawed into blocks by men, then split by hand labor and then passed on into the cutter.

By the installation of a large drag saw to be run by electricity, logs for the mill will be cut into blocks in the new wood room over the bank of the river. From the saw, blocks will be passed to a heavy automatic steam splitter that will do the work of six men. This steam splitter is made of four knives in the form of a cross and works similar to a pile driver.

The new building will be 70 by 100 feet and built on piling. Under the direction of Fred A. Erickson, this work is now under way.

When the new wood room is completed, logs will be lifted direct from the river by electricity, placed directly under the saw, and then forwarded to the automatic splitter. All work from picking up logs out of the river to forwarding blocks to the cutter, which is now being done by hand, will be done by machinery.

The paper mill now has also under construction, the erection of a large addition to the mill to be used by a new paper making machine with a capacity of the first large machine installed at the opening of the mill. This new machine cost about $150,000.

The Oregon Pulp & Paper company now has invested in the Salem mill about $1,200,000. It employs on an average 200 workers with a payroll close to $1000 a day.

COMEDIANS HERE IN NEW VEHICLE

Based on events following the passage of the 13th amendment, "Now and Then," the latest comedy from the pen of Aaron Hoffman is the offering of Kolb and Dill, the ever-welcome comedians, who come to the Grand theater for an engagement of one night only, Tuesday, November 28. Kolb & Dill are carrying with them their special orchestra, a musical aggregation which has gained fame for clever and unusual playing.

While a great number of former successes of Kolb and Dill were plotless, "Now and Then" has a distinct plot which endures throughout the three acts of the play. In the opinion of critics, "Now and Then" is by far the most brilliant thing Hoffman has turned out in many seasons.

Its lines sparkle with witticisms and its situations are distinctly unique in theatrical history. In the cast supporting Kolb and Dill are May Clay, Julia Blanc, John Fee, Wilbur Cushman, Charles Yule, Frank Wallace, Allyn Lewis, Jack Whittemore and others.

HARVARD YOUTH THREATENED BY KLAN IN LETTER

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 22.—Whether the Ku Klux Klan invaded Harvard college or Subort Clay of Colorado Springs, a sophomore, had been made a subject of a practical joke, was in doubt today. On top of a warning to leave the city signed "K. K. K." and a telephone call of the same nature, Clay said that a fellow student called on him just before he retired last night and representing himself as a klanman, made a threatening attitude.

The effect of his caller's message, he said, was that he had "better shut up or get out." Clay said he was staying on, hoping it was all a joke, yet somewhat concerned because, as a former member of the klan in Colorado, he knew enough of its workings to be afraid.

The Harvard college office, to which Clay reported the threats, advised him they were undoubtedly part of a joke and today let it be known that it regarded the matter in that light. The police refused Clay's request for a permit to go armed and said the case seemed to be one for the college authorities to handle. The police, however, turned over to postal officials the warning letter, which was mailed here.

GOVERNOR ROBERTSON SCORES FIRST BLOOD

Oklmulgee, Okla., Nov. 22.—The district court of Okmulgee county has no jurisdiction to hear a motion to revoke an order granting Governor J. B. Robertson a change of venue for his trial on a charge of accepting a bribe, Judge Thomas A. Edwards ruled in sustaining a motion of the governor's counsel challenging the court's authority to hear proceedings in the case.

Governor Robertson's attorneys asserted in the motion that the court did not have jurisdiction because the case has been transferred to Pontotoc county through District Judge Wright's decision Thursday granting the governor a change of venue.

SCHOOLS OF DALLAS TO HAVE VACATION

Dallas, Nov. 22.—In order that the pupils of the high and grade schools in Dallas may properly observe Thanksgiving day on Thursday, November 30, the schools will close Wednesday evening, November 29, and reopen on Monday morning, December 4. A goodly number of the teachers are figuring on going to their homes to observe the holiday.

GIVE RIGHT-OF-WAY TO SIRENS, POLICE SUGGEST

When you hear a siren it is well to get out of the way. Otherwise you may be struck and damaged will probably be a minus quantity. When you hear a siren you can know that it is either on a police car, a fire truck or an ambulance and these are allowed, by law, the right-of-way over other vehicles.

"There have been several near-accidents in Salem already," acting Desk Sergeant R. Parrent said today. "Apparently motorists do not understand that a siren may be used only by fire, police or ambulance vehicles. All drivers should pull out of the way when they hear the siren of an approaching vehicle."

The suggested solution of the vexing problem as to why men leave home is that they don't like to stay there alone.
