Marion Senators In Position To Select President Of Senate

COUNTY TO BUILD CONCRETE BRIDGE

Plans are now all completed by the Marion county court for the building of a reinforced concrete bridge across the Pudding river early next spring, according to Judge W. M. Bushey. This bridge will be on the Silverton road from Salem. The old wooden bridge will remain in use during the winter months. The new concrete bridge is to be 102 feet long and 19 1/2 feet wide. As soon as the bridge is completed next spring, the county court will pave the approaches at each end. Already the footing of the new bridge has been placed and brought to a height that will enable work to begin early in the spring. The bridge will be the only one of its kind in which the entire work will be done by the county. Two smaller concrete bridges have been built near Mt. Angel entirely by the county, but the Pudding river bridge will be by far the largest. The estimated cost is $8,000.

BACON FUNERAL IS HELD TODAY

Chicago, Nov. 22.—The body of Frank Bacon, noted character actor, early today was removed from the hotel where he died Sunday, to the Blackstone theater, where until a week before his fatal illness, he appeared nightly for more than a year in the title role of "Lightnin'" of which he was the author. This afternoon, with hundreds of friends and stars of the world of make-believe in attendance, simple funeral services were said, and "Lightnin'" Bill Jones was laid to rest in a Chicago vault until next summer, when the body will be taken to Bacon's native California to find its final resting place near where he was born. Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball and former federal judge, close friend of Mr. Bacon, delivered a brief eulogy and the church service was that of the Church of Christ, Scientist, of which the veteran actor was a member.

Mrs. Frank Bath returned Sunday night from Canas, Washington, after attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Mary Etta Smith. Interment was had at Hopewell Cemetery, 3 o'clock Saturday, November 18, 1922.

Inflation in Germany is no longer confined to the heads of the Hohenzollerns.

Portland, Or., Nov. 22.—The cleaning up of the odds and ends of highway work for the year was begun Tuesday by the state highway commission, together with the outlining of next year's program, which will be finally determined as soon as it is ascertained what funds will be available. Several county delegations appeared before the commission to have advanced to the construction stage linked necessary to make completed roads in the various counties. These requests were taken under advisement pending the ascertainment of available funds. It was decided to ask the federal government for cooperation in the finishing of the Medford-Crater Lake road, a few miles of which remain to be graded and graded.

A contract was awarded to John Hampshire to widen and grade the last section of the Ashland-Klamath Falls highway in Jackson county. Bids were taken on this work last month but the work has been held up pending arrangements for financing on the part of the county.

A decision was reached to arbitrate the cost of ground for additional right of way at the west approach of the Oregon City bridge. The owner of the ground will choose an arbitrator and Clackamas county one, the two to choose a third man.

The commission opened bids for grading one mile between Canam and Oregon City. There were seven bidders. Rajotte & Winters were the lowest bidders. Their price was $98,610, which was under the estimate of the engineer. The bid was referred for the reason that the city and county and railroad companies are to cooperate in the cost of the work.

A contract was awarded to Metzger & Johnson to gravel a 12-mile section of the John Day highway in Wheeler county between Service creek and Valades ranch. The bid was $38,334.

The Union Bridge company was given the contract to replace the old Sherar bridge across the Deschutes river in Wasco county for $6394.

The bid of the Union Bridge company for a bridge across the Malheur river near Juntura was returned to the Malheur county court. The bid was $7615.

LICENSES REQUIRED FOR DOGS 8 MONTHS OLD For the benefit of those who own about half grown dogs it may be said, that a dog eight months old or over must wear a collar and the owner of the dog must take out a dog license, $1 for male dogs and $2 for female. If the dog happens to be just about eight months old or thereabouts on January 1, no license is necessary this year. But if said canine was born any time this year before the first day of May the owner is holding himself liable to a fine if a license is not secured.

LaFollett Pledged. Senator LaFollett is pledged to the support of Senator Eddy of Portland for the senate presidency, although in the event the eastern Oregon delegates succeed in lining up 15 votes for their candidate—whoever he may be—LaFollett has agreed to join hands with them in putting him across. Senator Brown is unpledged but is understood to lean strongly toward the candidacy of Senator Eddy of Roseburg, who is playing with Moser against the Upton and rill camps.

So important is the support of the two Marion county senators in the senatorial contest now pending that a delegation of Upton supporters visited Salem Tuesday in an effort to line up the Marion delegates for Upton. The effort, it is understood, was unavailing. The Upton adherents, however, are still optimistic claiming 14 senators as solidly pledged with two others besides the Marion delegates as likely candidates for the camp of the eastern Oregon candidate.

Eddy Holds Whip Hand. While the contest at the present instant looks like one between Upton and Moser, the situation is not without its other angles. Senator Eddy of Roseburg, recognized as one of the ablest members of the upper house of the state legislature has an even stronger personal following than has Moser. He, however, is willing to sacrifice his personal ambitions if by so doing he can defeat the plans of the delegates from east of the mountains to whose support has come the followers of Senator Hall.

Should Moser, on the other hand, not be able to muster sufficient strength to get across to the presidential chair, then his support will doubtless swing to Eddy.

Senator Johnson of Corvallis, a veteran legislator, is also regarded as a presidential possibility should the Upton boom fail to materialize. Johnson is at the present time regarded as lined up with the Upton forces although not having pledged himself to support any candidate.

The Commercial Basketball league, championed by the city Y. M., got away to a good start last night with the scores so low and close that they resemble baseball games. The Central Pharmacy team defeated the Bonesteel Motor company five 14-10; the United States National bank team won from the Better-Yet Bakers, 11-10; and the Anderson & Brown five took the Hauser Bros. team into camp 13-9.

All of the games were exceptionally fast considering the early part of the season. There were, however, too many fouls to brand the playing as the best but by the time they learn that Leslie Sparks and Coach Roy Bohler will call fouls whenever seen this evil will likely decrease. In every one of the games last night there were enough fouls called and enough free throws missed by the losers to have won the game.

The Central Pharmacy team, composed for the most part of players from last year's high school team, were called 11 times for fouls. Only four were converted. Their opponents made 12, of which half were converted. Bill Ashby, captain for the Hauser Bros. five, converted five out of seven attempts awarded on fouls.

Ashby with one field goal and his converted fouls was the high point man of the evening. Hulsey of the A. B. quintet and R. Lucas, of the Bankers team, each scored three field goals.
