Booths For Seal Sale Now Open

The sale of Red Cross seals throughout the state has been going forward with a real spirit this year, and sales have been increasingly high. In Salem today the opening of booths in the different stores and banks in charge of the matrons and maids of the city marks the beginning of a steady drive for the sale of stamps until Christmas day. Even now Salem has reordered on the stamps and it is hoped that this necessity will arise often.

This is one of the projects, annually carried on through the pre-Christmas days, that the women's organizations of the state stand firmly behind, and in Salem the Woman's club is doing all in its power to make the campaign a success. Leaders in education, professional men, and business men, representatives from every walk in life are glad to back this movement to aid the Oregon tuberculosis work.

Mrs. Fred Thompson is in charge of the sale in Salem, readily assisted by club women of the city. The sale of stamps officially opened Monday in the post office when the booth was in charge of Mrs. Grant Bonell. Mrs. Louis Griffith and Mrs. Arthur Boshen were in charge of the booth the rest of the week. Next week Mrs. William Walton and Mrs. Gertrude Page will take care of the post office sale, while the week before Christmas Mrs. W. E. Anderson will be in charge.

This morning found women in charge of booths in the different stores and banks, with assistants selected to handle the booth at stated hours. Mrs. Chester Cox will look after the booth in the Ladd and Bush bank; Mrs. F. L. Utter and Mrs. Ray Smith, the Bank of Commerce and the United States National bank; Mrs. N. C. Kafoury, Kafoury store; Mrs. Carl Becke, People's Cash store; Millers will be handled by the P. E. O.'s, and Mrs. McMechan will have charge of the booth in Worth and Gray's store.

Mrs. W. M. Smith was a charming hostess Wednesday afternoon honoring her mother, Mrs. M. B. Churchill on her seventy-first birthday. It was an especially enjoyable occasion and the women spent the afternoon with their needlework and conversation passing the hours away very happily. The rooms were gay with yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Smith was assisted in serving by her daughter, Margaret. The women who were invited in for the afternoon were: Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. W. M. Farrington, Mrs. Ida Niles, Mrs. Ida Babcock, Mrs. C. A. Downs, Mrs. Louella Stone, Mrs. Rachel Reeder, Mrs. Ruth Dennison, Mrs. Lorena Wise, Mrs. Octavia Hoppes.

Starring Miss Mildred Strevey, senior at Willamette university, the operetta "Yanki San," written and directed by Miss Minna Harding, head of the public speaking and dramatic department of Willamette university, was presented in Waller hall chapel Tuesday.

The music was written by Miss Spaulding, a former instructor at Willamette. The operetta tells the story of a Japanese princess, Yanki San, whose father had been banished from the court of the Mikado to the island of No Man. The seven sisters of the little princess treated her very badly because of their jealousy. Nevertheless the fame of the beauty of Yanki San traveled far and it is upon this theme that the operetta is developed.

Those taking part in the production were Pauline Remington, Zeida Mukkey, Ethelyn Yerex, Elaine Oberg, Mary Wells, Mildred Strevey, Ruth Hill, Martha Mallory, Ruby Rosenkrantz, Irma Boughey, Francis Purdy, Virgil Anderson, Roy Skeen, Si Neher, Eliot Curry, Lloyd Walts.

Elsie Hop Lee, student at Willamette, secured many of the Oriental garments worn in the play. Most of them were directly imported from the Orient. Albert Guyer had charge of the designing the scenery.

Proceeds of the operetta went towards defraying the expenses of the Willamette university debate team, which is to make an extensive eastern tour next semester.

Mrs. Frank Newman Dillon of Los Angeles is visiting in Salem, her former home, with Mrs. Lela McMechan. Mrs. Dillon will also spend the week end in Portland where she will visit her brother, John Tate. Mrs. Dillon will also spend sometime in Woodburn visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Spaulding and two children, Jean and Clifford, Jr. from Newberg will be the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spaulding.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hunter will be hosts tonight for a community dinner with the members of the Tasso club as guests.

SALEM TO HEAR MARGUERITE D'ALVAREY

Contralto Soloist here Friday

The Rappharian club met Thursday with Mrs. Albert Stewart and part of the afternoon was spent in folding red cross stamps for the mailing work. And then the afternoon passed with social things. Officers were elected for the club with Mrs. Ronald Glover, president; Mrs. E. A. Colony, vice president, and Mrs. H. V. Compton, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting planned for the club will be in January with Mrs. Ronald Glover.

Honoring Mrs. Seymour Jones who left today to spend the holiday season in California, Mrs. John H. Scott and Mrs. John H. Albert were delightful hostesses for an attractive one o'clock luncheon at the Scott home yesterday. Covers were laid for eight around a daintily appointed table centered with a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Jones and daughter, Jeanette, left today by motor for San Francisco where they will remain until after the holidays with Mrs. Geiger, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. G. W. Lafar was hostess Thursday afternoon for one of the very pleasant meetings of the P. E. O. sisterhood. The program planned was in charge of Mrs. Harwood Hall of Chemawa and was Old Spain, through Ibanes. The women also decided to present a mirror for over the fire place in the living room of the old people's home. The next meeting which will be with Mrs. Oscar Price will have Mrs. J. J. Evans in charge of the program, "The Light That Failed," by Kipling. The social hour will be spent with a Christmas party. Special guests who were invited for the meeting Thursday were, Miss Alice Hollister, Mrs. Christenson of Nebraska, and Miss Reynolds of California.

Fancy needlework filled the afternoon hours for the Amicus club Thursday when they met as the guests of Mrs. Lawrence Simond for their regular meeting.

Mrs. John H. Scott and Mrs. John H. Albert were joint hostesses Thursday afternoon for the meeting of the Piety Hill club at the Scott home. The afternoon passed with needlework and social conversation and the women left to meet again with Mrs. E. T. Barnes and Mrs. W. E. Kirk in January.

Mrs. John McNary was hostess Thursday afternoon for the bridge-luncheon club for one of their pleasant meetings. Additional guests bidden for the luncheon and bridge games were Mrs. Ed Baker, Mrs. W. Dancy, Mrs. James Dusenbury and Mrs. F. G. Sargent of San Francisco. The next meeting will be next week with Mrs. Henry Meyers.

Mrs. F. G. Sargent who has been the guest of Mrs. T. A. Livesley for the past week returned to her home in San Francisco last night. Mrs. Sargent was a very popular and widely entertained visitor among the smart social set while in Salem.

There will be a special meeting of the Highland Mother's club and the Highland parent teachers association at the school next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Very interesting and important business is scheduled to come before the meeting and everyone is urged to be there.

Mrs. L. G. Curtis returned to her home here this week after spending a year in California visiting with friends in different cities. Mrs. Curtis also spent a short time in Mexico.

D'Alvarez Contralto To Be Here

Music and Drama of Toronto, Canada, has this to say of Marguerite D'Alvarez, the famous English-Peruvian contralto, who will appear here in concert at the armory on Friday evening, December 15th: "Those who failed to hear the great and glorious singer, Marguerite D'Alvarez, missed one of the most beautiful and thrilling exhibitions of the art of singing that has been heard in years. She is undoubtedly the greatest contralto of the past 25 years. Her power and gusto of her singing has been equalled by but one vocalist heard here, and that was the late Enrico Caruso. The thrill and enthusiasm she imparted has been happily expressed by many critics who predict the day when crowds will storm Massey hall to hear D'Alvarez."

When Marguerite D'Alvarez gave the eighth and final concert of her season in the Melbourne town hall, a great audience gathered to hear her and she received ovation after ovation as the program went on. Her tones were magnificent and the apex of enchantment was reached in three glorious numbers, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Dalia and the "Habenera" and "Segmilla" from Carmen.

Her voice is velvety like Matzenauer's and sonorous like Schumann-Helms. She is capable of swaying an audience to tears one minute and to laughter the next. When she sang the little mother song "My Bonnie Lad," she typified the tender passion of motherhood while "Night" ended in an open chord, suggesting the broken column over a neglected tomb and the singer positively reveled in its sadness.

With guests from Portland, Woodburn, Silverton and Polk county the county veterans association met here yesterday for an all day meeting, which was a very successful and enjoyable affair. Mrs. Lizzie Smith, vice president of the association, presided in the absence of Gideon Stolz, president, and under her able supervision the program for the day was well worked out. In the morning the regular business session was held and at noon a delightful basket dinner was served with a whole roast pig centering the huge table. In the afternoon the program was given.

Among the special guests for the affair was Mr. McKey of Portland, department commander of the state, and Mrs. Clara Schroll of Hubbard, department president. The address of welcome was made by Dr. B. F. Town, senior vice commander, sons of veterans of Oregon and Washington, and the response was given by Mr. McKey. The rest of the program included singing by the audience, a reading by Mrs. Vera Glover, talk by Superintendent Kuser, vocal solo, Mrs. Martin Fereshtian, a reading by Miss Louise Jouglin, from Willamette university, remarks by Comrade Stevens of Portland and an address by H. H. Haynes, son of an old veteran from Portland. The meeting was very well attended, with a large representation from the other towns in the association and everyone expressed themselves as well pleased with the program and entertainment.

Mrs. Otto Shelberg will have her bazaar at her home on Court street this year.

Josephine Wunderl of Portland has been the house guest this week of Mrs. W. E. Anderson. Wednesday evening was semi-annual ladies night for the Salem rotarians and the local members of the organization entertained with a six o'clock dinner in the main dining room of the Marion hotel. The feature of the evening was an address by Geo. Falls, international lecturer of Vancouver, B. C., who talked on "International Good Will." The rest of the program was made up of musical numbers.

Two dances which will include university and college people are the University of Oregon dance, the twenty third and the O. A. C. dance the thirtieth. Both dances will be for the students homes for the holidays and the alumni and ex-students and both will be live affairs.

Mrs. Della Smallwood and daughter, Iol Bailey, returned to their home today after spending a week in Roseburg visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Roland.

Miss Lorena Geer was hostess last evening for about fourteen of the younger set.

Mrs. William Hughes has as her guest Miss Reynolds, her sister from California.

Education Topic For Club Day

Appropriate as a feature of national education week is the program given this afternoon for the meeting of the Salem Woman's club, in charge of Miss Lena Belle Tartar. With "A little learning is a dangerous thing," as a guide in the blue and blue calendar the program has been planned and worked out.

The program for the afternoon is especially interesting including as it does a music demonstration concerning the subject and naming of music, by Mrs. Tartar, the "Norwegian Bridal Chorus," played by Miss Irma Keefer, a physical education demonstration given by Miss Etta White with the pupils from the McKinley school, and a display of good books for Christmas shoppers arranged by Miss Flora Case.

Good books just now are a thing of great importance and the display includes books with finest bindings and best reading value. The musical demonstration will be presented by Miss Tartar through the following numbers: Three songs, "Summer Boat," "Cats of Kilkenny," "Santa Claus Song," by second grade, Richmond school; Gretchen Kremer, director.

"The Black Bird," "Popcorn Song," "Normandie Carol," fifth grade, Garfield school; Gretchen Kremer, director. "The Brook," and "Travel," seventh grade, Grant junior high school; Alice Thompson, director. "Florian's Song," "Out of My Deepest Sadness," eighth grade, Washington junior high school; Lena Belle Tartar, director. "Comrades of the Road," "When de Banjo Plays," "Recessional," high school chorus, Lena Belle Tartar, director.

Following the program the social hour will be in charge of Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. H. A. Corneyer, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. W. Connell Dyer, Mrs. C. E. Bates, Mrs. Frank Spears and Mrs. Paul Hendricks.

Mrs. F. P. Talkington, Miss Cora Talkington and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kantner were in Portland Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Lillian Brown Robertson which was held from the Finley parlors. A number of people from Condon, where Mr. and Mrs. Robertson have lived for the past year, and other friends were in Portland for the funeral, Rev. Kantner officiated.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop returned yesterday from a trip in which she visited in Pendleton with Chauncey Bishop for the Thanksgiving holiday, in Hood River with her sister, Mrs. C. T. Roberts, and in Portland at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bishop.

The Woman's republican study club will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. P. Bishop at two o'clock. No definite program has been worked out for the year and one will be arranged at this meeting.

Mrs. Gordon Lafar is entertaining as her guest, her sister, Mrs. Christenson of Nebraska.

Miss Elizabeth Braun, who has just returned from an extended trip throughout Europe will be a week end guest of Miss Emma Godfrey. Miss Braun is making her home in Portland now.
