SEARCH FOR LOST FLYERS TURNS TO NEW TERRITORY

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 14—Army land and air forces in southern Arizona expected to concentrate their efforts in the Santa Rita mountain region south of Tucson today in their search for Colonel Francisco C. Marshall and Lieutenant C. L. Webber, missing aviators.

Additional information received late yesterday served to support the growing belief that the aviators went down in the Santa Rita mountains when they disappeared last Thursday while on their way from San Diego to Fort Huachuca, Arizona.

A rancher living near Holveta, a mining camp, 35 miles south of Tucson, reported to Fort Huachuca officers that he heard what he believed to be an airplane motor firing irregularly last Thursday and shortly afterwards an explosion.

Three days ago a mail carrier reported that he had seen an airplane Thursday in the same region. He also described the plane as firing irregularly.

PROGRESSIVE BLOG

Colonel E. B. Winans, in general command of the search, announced late last night that three persons in the Whetstone mountains, near the Santa Rita range, also had reported seeing the airplane.

In sharp language, challenged the arguments made by the executive in his message to congress urging enactment of the legislation and charged Mr. Lasker with having made "a highly improper proposal" in order to obtain the support of organized labor.

"I don't believe that a worse bill than this ever came before the senate of the United States for its consideration," he asserted.

CAMPAIGNS LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE

Mrs. Elsa Obst and daughters

"Campaigns like mother used to make" bids fair to become a new household phrase. Ella, fourteen, and Frances Obst, thirteen—daughters of Mrs. Elsa Obst, newly elected treasurer of Ramsey county, Minnesota—campaign for their mother after school hours with immense success.

They made many stump speeches and distributed campaign literature.

It does not guarantee the building of a single new ship or the maintenance of those we have. It is wholly bad, and the attempt to force it upon an unwilling country cannot be too strongly condemned.

The senator enumerated a series of farmer and labor organizations opposing the bill and declared he was prepared to make the statement that three-fourths of the American people had gone on record as opposed to a ship subsidy "and more particularly to the terms of this bill."

Lasker sought support. "I content myself," said the senator, "with the statement that Chairman Lasker sought a conference with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and made a highly improper proposal to a group of labor officials that they disregard the will and the interests of their membership and support the pending bill."

"This conference took place on April 6 and 7 in the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor in the city of Washington. Chairman Lasker then and there, I am informed, offered to withdraw certain provisions in the pending bill dealing with labor if he could thereby induce the labor organizations to abate their opposition to the bill."

"Let it be said to the everlasting memory of the American people that this conference took place on April 6 and 7 in the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor in the city of Washington. Chairman Lasker then and there, I am informed, offered to withdraw certain provisions in the pending bill dealing with labor if he could thereby induce the labor organizations to abate their opposition to the bill."

JUDGE COKE TO GET JOB; OLCOTT TO FILL VACANCY

Washington, Dec. 14—During the visit here of Governor Olcott it became definitely known that soon after the governor's return to Oregon, Judge John S. Coke of Marshfield will be named as United States district attorney at Portland, on Attorney General Daugherty's nomination to the president, to succeed District Attorney Humphreys, who has held over until this time.

The appointment is as certain as anything save death or taxes, and the promotion of Judge Coke to the federal office will permit Governor Olcott to appoint a successor to Judge Coke before he leaves office. It is planned to have the appointments take place about January 1.

About all the League of Nations has done so far is to wish the United States belonged.

The Christmas Spirit. For more than nineteen centuries the Christian world has regarded Christmas as a day of universal observance, of cheer and goodwill. The spirit of giving was epitomized when those three Wise Men of yore traveled far across plain and desert to lay their gifts at the feet of a new-born Child. Christmas means giving—giving of our worldly goods to those less fortunate than ourselves; of our friendship and love.
