STATES SENATOR VOTED IN INTEREST OF POCKETBOOK

Washington, Feb. 21.—A charge that Senator Phipps, republican, Colorado, had voted as a member of the appropriations committee to "put money into his own pocket," was made in the senate today by Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona.

The Arizona senator was protesting against the reduction by the commission from $765,000 to $515,000 for the Yuma irrigation project in California and Arizona. Asserting that the Southern Sierra High Power company now supplies electric current in the district which could be served from a plant to be erected in the Yuma project, Senator Ashurst said:

"One of the stockholders of this company sits on this committee, how did he vote?"

"I voted to cut this item out," returns Phipps.

"Ah, that's what I thought," thundered Senator Ashurst. "You voted to put money into your own pocket."

"I warn the senator not to go too far," said Senator Phipps. "I don't care anything about your warnings," returned Senator Ashurst.

Senator Phipps said he would make a statement in his own time explaining.

DAUGHERTY TO STAND PAT ON RESIGNATION

Washington, Feb. 21.—Attorney General Daugherty in a letter today to Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania declared his retirement "voluntary or otherwise, would be a concession of the truth of all the baseless charges" against him. He added he never would be a party to such a proceeding.

In the face of the story of oil trading the attorney general has remained adamant in his determination not to quit the cabinet. He spent most of today at work at his hotel on war fraud cases and told intimates that he had no intention of resigning.

He takes the position that he is guilty of no wrongdoing and has used no confidential official information as the basis of stock investments.

The view of republican senators who want Mr. Daugherty to retire is that such a prolonged inquiry even if the attorney general eventually were found entirely blameless, might further undermine public confidence and prove continually embarrassing to the president.

The prosecution, which District Attorney Baker of Hood River county has assured the commission will be pushed energetically, will be the first under the law passed by the last legislature forbidding wanton destruction of trees and shrubs along the public highways.

"The tragedy of the situation," according to Klein, "is that they have practically ruined what was designed as a public park."

PHONE COMPANY DESTROYS TREES ALONG HIGHWAY

Charging the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company with "wanton destruction of trees along the Columbia highway near Cascade Locks," the state highway commission intends to prosecute to the limit, according to the statement of Roy Klein, highway engineer and secretary of the commission.

Klein declares that the telephone company destroyed the trees along the highway without so much as consulting the highway department, as is the custom, and that they worked so fast that the department knew nothing of the destruction until it had been accomplished.

LAND GRANTS GIVEN RAILROADS TO BE PROBED

Washington, Feb. 21.—A complete investigation of the federal government land grants to the Northern Pacific Railway company is planned by congressional leaders. It probably will be conducted by a joint committee of the house and senate.

Chairman Sinnott and Chairman Lenroot of the house and senate public lands committees are conferring on the subject with a view to agreement as to procedures before inquiry resolutions are passed.

Probably the first action by congress will be adoption of the resolution sponsored by the agriculture and interior departments and directing the secretary of the interior to defer adjustments of the Northern Pacific claims and to withhold the issuing of an additional patents on lands claimed by the road pending inquiry.

The railway company is claiming an additional three million acres of lands in the national forests in Montana and Washington under its grants of more than half a century ago. The claim is contested by the agriculture department, which contends that the company has received more land than it was entitled to under the acts of congress.

BOY SCOUTS TO CONTINUE DRIVE FOR A BUDGET

Due to the lack of workers, the Boy Scout drive which was to have lasted but three days, ending today, is not completed and will be continued until the full amount is raised, according to a statement made this morning by those in charge of the drive.

"But about 20 per cent of the public have been solicited, and from present indications, the full budget of about $6000 will be raised," H. B. Zinsner, scout executive, said this morning. "The trouble is not in the lack of response by the public, but the inability of the few workers to see the public."

In practically every instance, subscriptions this year are larger than those received from the previous year last year Zinsner said. Persons for workers in great and Mr. Zinsner asks that anyone who would be willing to give a portion of their time for even one week notify him or Dr. Henry E. Morris.

The Boy Scout work was presented to the Realtors at their weekly luncheon this noon and voted to back the movement and the present drive in every way possible.

The Southern Pacific company has denied application of the Umpqua Valley Broccoli association for a reduced freight rate on broccoli shipped from Hood River to Portland, according to information received today at the offices of the public service commission.

It was contended by the petitioners that the present rates are excessive when compared with the charges for water transportation between lower California points and Portland.

GROTTO HOLDS CELEBRATION AT LARGE INITIATION

More than 200 visiting Grotto members from Portland and other Willamette valley towns, gathered in Salem last evening to be present at the installation of officers for the coming year for the El Karez, local Grotto, initiation of more than 40 new members, and the annual visit of Charles Mintzinger, deputy grand monarch. George Edward Hatch of New York, past grand monarch, also inspected the local lodge.

A big parade reaching about three blocks in length was held at 8 o'clock following which the organization members met in the Masonic temple for the meeting.

Officers installed were: B. E. Kuhn, monarch, re-elected; Merrill D. Ohling, chief justice; Earl Daise, master of ceremonies; Glenn C. Niles, secretary; Jacob Fuhrer, treasurer; Dr. W. A. Johnson, marshal; Otto Hoppes, captain of the guard; and Peter Rasmussen, sentinel.

The Caliph Grotto visitors of Portland, were accompanied by their patrol team. The whole Portland delegation came on a special train.

MILES M'KEE TO INVESTIGATE HARE MURDER

Miles McKee, acting as a special agent for the attorney general's office, will investigate the shooting and killing of Lawrence Hare, alleged bootlegger, near Brookings last Saturday by Paul Mumpower, one of George Cleaver's prohibition enforcement agents. Attorney General Van Winkle announced last night.

McKee was designated for the work after J. C. Johnson, district attorney of Curry county, has requested the governor's office for assistance in this case, and upon the telegraphed demand from three Gold Beach citizens that Mumpower be prosecuted for murder.

In Johnson's request for assistance in prosecuting the state agent in seen the echo of the charges and counter charges that have passed between Governor Pierce and the district attorney of the state, and it is considered here that Johnson is putting it up to the governor to shoulder the burden of prosecuting Cleaver's agent and remove any possibility of charges of malicious persecution in the conduct of the trial.
