

BEARCATS ARE REWARDED FOR ATHLETIC WORK

Annual award day exercises were held at Willamette university last evening at the chapel at which time sixteen men, who represented Willamette in football and basketball during the past year received emblems.

Fasnacht, Booth, Findley and Notson, manager, received sweater awards for work in football. Erickson was awarded a sweater for work in basketball.

Certificates, given for performance in football to those who have already received sweaters, were given Patton, Sherwood, Isham, Stolzhise, Huston, Wilkinson, Oliver, Lilligren, Rhodes, Moore and Hartley.

Certificates for basketball playing were given Logan, Patterson, Robertson, Hartley and Fasnacht. Patton and Logan were given the large "W" blanket, the highest honor the university has to bestow for athletic prowess. To receive this award the athlete must have won letters in the same sport for three years.

Presentation of awards was made by Dr. Carl Greag Doney, president of Willamette.

Following the exercise, the members of the "W" club met at the Gray Belle at a banquet.

ELOCUTION CONTEST ARRANGEMENTS MADE

Mt. Angel College, St. Benedict, Or., March 21.—An elocution contest will be held soon and the two winners will get gold medals at the commencement exercises in June, one medal for the senior and one for the junior orator winning. Preliminary tests will be held the later part of this month to determine the most capable men for the final contest.

The tryouts will be held in conjunction with the national oratorical contest sponsored by a Portland newspaper. There are at least six students out for the national contest.
