

BOALT ADVISES DAIRYING UPON CUT OFF LANDS

Fred L. Boalt, editor of the Portland News, speaking at the chamber of commerce yesterday, said if prosperity was to continue in Oregon something must be done to take the place of forests that are being rapidly cut down.

Mr. Boalt said that in driving to Astoria about all he could see was stumps and he didn't like to see stumps as that generally meant unoccupied land.

He suggested that the big solution of the stump land was the dairy business. And to get more men who would handle the dairy proposition like they do in Sweden, on cut over land, he rather favored more liberal immigration laws.

William D. Andrews, buyer of flax in all parts of the world, spoke briefly. He told members of the chamber of commerce that Oregon was one of the most wonderful flax countries in the world and that only the flax along the Lya river in Belgium could equal the Willamette valley grown flax. He exhibited samples of Russian and Irish flax along with that grown near Salem, saying the Oregon flax was the best of all.

Mr. Andrews complimented Robert Crawford, superintendent of state flax, on his retting tanks, saying the process was one of the best in the world. He also suggested that flax should be pulled when in flower, as this left more oil in the stem.

Judge P. H. D'Arcy called attention to the fact that he had lived in Salem 65 years as he came to Salem 65 years ago today. He then sang a number of songs, the way they were sung in Salem half a century ago.

KING'S POPULAR REVIEW TO PLAY RETURN DATE

"King's 1924 Revue," which played to capacity business for one week at the High theater last September, has been booked for four days and opened last night October 20, in a big musical comedy hit, "Two Gay Old Sports." The bill is said to be one of the best in the company's repertoire and is interspersed with specialties, singing, dancing and novelty number.

The California Poppy chorus is a line of attractive girls from the golden state who have good voices and wear costumes of the latest designs.

Several new acts and new principals have been added to the cast since the company appeared here last fall and there is but little doubt but that the High theater will be packed to the wall during the engagement of this popular company.

Miss Majorie King, who won the hearts of her audiences in her numerous and varied exotic dances, will appear in a dance that made her a star in the east and abroad with the larger theatrical enterprises. Altogether the show promises to be one of the snappiest and diversified entertainments that has been booked in this city at popular prices.

27 GRECIAN CHILDREN KILLED IN STAMPEDE

Athens, Greece, Oct. 21.—(By Associated Press.)—The official casualty list, made public today, of the stampele last night in a moving picture house here caused by a false alarm of fire believed to have been raised by pickpockets shows that 27 children were killed and about 50 other persons, many of them children, were injured.

STANDARD OIL PLEADS CONTRACT LONG EXPIRED

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Many of the contracts mentioned by the government in its suit started last June under the Sherman act against some fifty oil companies expired long before the suit was filed, the Standard Oil company of Indiana set up here in its answer. The Texas company recently filed a general denial of the charges.

The licensing of one company to use the patents of another was the result of many patents, some of which overlapped others, so that some of the companies were threatening each other with infringement suits, according to the answer. To obviate this situation, the answer sets forth, it was agreed to adjust these controversies for use of "cracking" patents by licensing the companies.

These so-called pooling agreements were not combinations in restraint of trade or commerce among the states or foreign nations, as charged by the government, the answer asserted, but, on the contrary, the Standard Oil company of Indiana "has endeavored to and has observed in letter and spirit the laws of the United States of America."

The defendant company, according to the answer, owns 23 defendant valid United States patents for the cracking process. Early in its experience in licensing other companies to use its patents, the answer said, there were restrictive clauses in the contracts, as advised by its legal counsel, for the protection of its business, but that "all contracts containing the restrictive provision" about which the government complained, expired more than six years before filing the suit so that "long prior to the commencement of this suit the practice of placing any restriction whatsoever upon licensees had been abandoned." Its licensees now, the company contended, "are wholly free of limitation as to quantity of production, place of sale or price."

BROOKLYN PLAYERS ASSAULT BELL HOP

Wenatchee, Wash., Oct. 21.—Edward Brown, Milton Stock, J. Mitchell and Berney Nels, members of the Brooklyn National league baseball team, which played here Sunday, were arrested last night at the Elman hotel charged with assaulting William Weaver, 16-year-old bellhop. Weaver is in a hospital with a broken jaw and two teeth knocked out.

The players were released this morning in police court on $400 bail upon two separate charges, one of drunkenness and disorderly conduct and the other third degree assault. They are charged with wrecking the hotel office when they were ordered out and assaulting Weaver because he refused to unlock a room in the hotel at their request.

PROPOSAL ROCK NEAR NESKOWIN CLOSED TO ENTRY

Proposal Rock, which lies in the Pacific ocean in the surf line at Neskowin and upon which Jack F. Kuykendall has sought to locate for the alleged purpose of establishing a commercial lookout and sightseeing point, has been temporarily withdrawn from entry by an executive order, according to word received here.

The application of Kuykendall for a survey of the island has also been rejected.

Kuykendall's proposal to utilize Proposal Rock as a commercial sightseeing point roused a storm of protest from various Salem people and others having summer homes at Neskowin, and action was immediately taken to prevent his securing control of the island. The results of the protest was reflected here yesterday in the form of the following telegram:

"The commissioner general of the land office advises that an executive order was issued under the date of October 6, 1924, temporarily withdrawing the unsurveyed island known as Proposal Rock, situated in the Pacific ocean, from all forms of settlement, location, or disposal for classification, and it the aid of legislation. Therefore, the application of Jack F. Kuykendall for a survey of the island was rejected subject to his right of appeal to the department within 30 days of receipt of notice of the decision rejecting his application. The United States surveyor general has been directed to notify all parties interested of the action taken, and to report to the general land office transmitting evidences of service of notice upon them of rejection of application for a survey of said island."

IDENTIFY BODY AS W. R. KING

Medford, Or., Oct. 21.—Positive identification Sunday of a rifle found beside the human skeleton, discovered a week ago by deer hunters in the Trail district, solved a 19-year-old mystery, and proves the body to be that of William R. King, last heard of by friends and relatives in January, 1905, according to a statement today by Coroner John A. Perl. Herman and Charles King of North Bend, Or., brothers of the dead man, made the identification, and yesterday visited the scene of the tragedy with the coroner.

The rifle a 60-90 calibre Colt, was positively identified by the brothers as one sent to William King by their father from Michigan, by the presence of a specially made peep sight on the barrel.

King was a homesteader in the Trail district, well known in this city, and his sudden disappearance created a furore at the time.

It is the theory of the coroner that King left his cabin on a hunt and met with an accident, dying of exposure.

King was a native of Ottawa county, Michigan, and with two other brothers, took up homesteads in the Trail district.

This Dress Was Made in Our Store Yesterday in 35 Minutes!

Yesterday we did it! Actually made a dress in 35 minutes. It is called the One Hour Dress but we actually made it complete in 35 minutes.

The One Hour Dress is the creation of Mary Brooks Picken, Director of Instruction of the Woman's Institute, Scranton, Pa., the largest school of dressmaking in the world. She designed it to show women how easy it is to make their own stylish, distinctive clothes, when they have proper instruction. We are enabled to demonstrate the making of the One Hour Dress through special permission of the Woman's Institute.

Come in and See the Dress Made Today

Two demonstrations of the making of the dress will be given in the store every day this week. Be sure not to miss these demonstrations.
