

NEGLECT OF BUSINESS OF CITY RAPPED

sharply to the condition on 12th street. One or two citizens in the lobby were allowed to speak on the subject. Charles Maxwell said that on Twenty-fourth street the walls were so bad that sometimes when he stepped on the end of a board the other end would fly four feet high, and that he spent three days in bed as a result on one occasion. He said he and another resident had fixed some of the walls so that the boards now fit up only about half a foot when the pedestrian steps on the other end. Another citizen called the council's attention to injuries received recently by Mrs. E. C. Fennell on Twenty-first street, and asked compensation from the city. An inquiry was ordered.

Klett Invores Grade
Alderman Vandevort cited another case of injury and said there are a thousand places in the city where similar actions could happen. Ralph Thompson complained that Otto Klett had built a new walk in front of his new building on Ferry street that is six inches higher than the walk in front of the Public property that joins it. Vandevort wanted to know what the city engineer knew about this, and Engineer Hugh Rogers replied that Klett had never obtained a grade from the engineer's office. Mayor Gleason asked Rogers to look into it, declaring that if it is built according to the wrong grade the city can take the walk out.

Bids for the construction of several new sidewalks were read from two bidders, Adolph Tombock and G. M. Oglesby & Son, and were referred to the street committee, although Alderman George Thompson insisted that the council should act at once because of the proximity of cold weather. The locations of the proposed sidewalks on which bids were received are:

- South side of Market street between Capitol and Twelfth, east side of Batesman street, north side of Belmont between Commercial and Liberty, west side of Twenty-first between Frederick and D, east side of Twenty-first between Frederick and D, west side of north Nineteenth between Nebraska and Kansas, east side of Cherry avenue, west side of Fairgrounds road, west side of Capitol between Hunt and Madison, west side of north Fifth between Columbia and South street.

Sewer Ordered Fixed
Unless immediate action is taken for the improvement and extension of the Union street sewer outlet at the river, citizens of the vicinity will appeal to the state board of health, Alderman Daney told the council last night. The council instructed the sewer committee to act on the matter, and Chairman George Thompson said that the material had been ordered for the work and there would be no further delay. Al Godfrey, a resident of the district, allowed to speak on the question, declared that if the work is not done before high water the residents will have the odor from the sewer to contend with all next summer. He urged that the sewer outlet be extended to the middle of the river as is done at Corvallis, Albany and elsewhere.

No opposition was heard to a petition of the Veterans of Foreign Wars that they be allowed to install "housings" for flagstaffs in the sidewalks in front of business houses down town. These are an inch and a half in diameter, seven inches deep and will set in the sidewalks 13 inches from the edge. They will be flush with the surface of the walk, and when not in use will be plugged and capped with devices provided for the purpose. They are designed for holiday or celebration use.

Sinclair Starts Fireworks
A spirited discussion arose over a resolution introduced by Alderman Sinclair providing that the city deliver a quit claim deed to Samuel Phillips and others relative to a portion of Division street between High and Church streets. The parts of the street affected, it was said, have never been vacated. "Does that mean we are giving away our streets?" asked Alderman Purvine.

"That's it exactly," answered Vandevort.
"I don't think the council has power to give away the city's streets," interposed City Attorney Smith.
"We already have given away four acres of that street," declared Vandevort. "We have given away thousands of dollars."
"I think that was by vacation," explained the attorney.
"Well we've given 'er away, that's a cinch," Vandevort asserted.
Alderman Sinclair, who introduced the resolution, said a quit claim deed had already been given one person and the council should not discriminate against the others.
Van Patten moved that the city engineer have an abstract of the street made, but this was voted down, and Sinclair's resolution was referred to the street committee, the city engineer and the city attorney.

Tamales Not Machines
Charles Maxwell, who a few evenings ago essayed to operate a tamale wagon on the street, complained that he had been stopped by the officers, the alternative being that he pay a license of $15 a day. Whether the city ordinance against selling merchandise, mechanical devices, etc., unless the vendor pay a heavy graduated license fee beginning with $15 a day, would apply to Maxwell caused a debate. Mayor Gleason wanted to know if a tamale was a mechanical device, and the city attorney said it was merchandise and would come under the ordinance. But all the councilmen were for Maxwell, and took no action. This means that he will operate without a license.

"I am a taxpayer and try to be a good citizen," said Maxwell in making his plea to the council. "I don't want to be a leech. Yet I applied to Salem employers for work and was told that they wanted to save the jobs for the college boys. So I learned how to make tamales, and started my wagon. I was stopped in an hour. A year ago a man came in here from Oklahoma. He didn't own a bit of property. He operated a long time, paid no taxes and then left for Oklahoma, owing everybody in Salem. I started my wagon at 5 o'clock and they made me quit at 6."

Routine Business Done
Much routine work was disposed of. Two ordinance bills passed after third reading. One requires permits from the city recorder for the construction of filling stations, and the other provides that hereafter all sidewalks on the north side of Lincoln street between Fairmount avenue and High street shall be 8 1/2 feet instead of one foot from the property line. This is to give parking space.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the improvement of Trade and

Skinny men

All over this big broad land of ours thousands of underweight men are putting on pounds of good healthy flesh with McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets.

Charles H. a young Deuman of Suffern, N. Y., who was named in France, gained 8 1/2 pounds in three weeks. Read what he says: "One day I heard of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—just about three weeks ago, I got a box and started to take them. Since then I have taken two more boxes, all but 14 tablets. The result is wonderful—never since I was five-and-sixty have I been so strong and felt so good. I have already gained 8 1/2 pounds, 60 tablets, 60 cents."

For weak, run-down, underweight nervous men, women, children.

J. C. Perry, Central Pharmacy, D. J. Fry sell lots of them. "Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets."—Adv.

Ferry streets.
A report of the committee on public buildings recommending that the William building on State street between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth shall be set back on a line with the other buildings was adopted. A report of the fire and water committee was adopted recommending a hydrant at Capital and D streets on petition of the school board. Other resolutions adopted were the following:

By the ways and means committee, authorizing the sale of lot 1, block 13, Oaks addition to P. H. Dehman.

By the license committee, authorizing the refund of $50 of the 1924 license fee to the Southern Pacific.

By the sewer committee, declaring intention to construct a sewer on Superior street, also resolutions for sewers on Twenty-fourth from Marion for a distance of 250 feet, on Twenty-first street from Nebraska avenue, a sewer on John street.

Resolution directing the city engineer to order H. M. Knightlinger to remove an ole barn from lot 6, block 3, George H. Jones addition. By the street committee, declaring intention to improve Hunt street, also south Cottage between Ferry and Trade.

Property owners of Magnaw street petitioned for the paving of that street from Superior to Rural. It was referred to the street committee. Petitions were received for lights on Thirteenth between Rural avenue and Hoyt and at the intersection of Fifth and Academy. They were referred to the light committee.

Petitions were received for sewers on Twenty-first and in the alley between north Twenty-first and Thompson. These were referred to the sewer committee.

A remonstrance against the paving of Wilson street signed by Gerald Volk and many others was referred to the city engineer.

Given first and second reading and referred were a bill to assess the cost of paving south Twenty-first, from State to the Turner road, and a bill to suppress the operation of peddlers in the city. A bill that was introduced by Van Patten some time ago restricting restrictions relative to building along streets in certain districts was indefinitely postponed on his motion. Mayor Gleason spoke in favor of the early adoption of a city building code.

The council adjourned to Friday night of this week when the annual budget meeting will be held. A preliminary informal meeting will be held by the Council Thursday night.

Joint-Ease for Stiff, Swollen Joints Rheumatic or Otherwise

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets In—Joint Agony Gets Out."

It was a high class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make craky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for all sorts of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at Daniel J. Fry's and drug stores everywhere for 50 cents a tube.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.

Every rheumatic sufferer ought to send today for free book, "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism." (Just out.) Address H. P. Clearwater, box 800, Hallowell, Maine.—Adv.

ELLIOTT DEXTER HERE THURSDAY IN "THE HAVOC"

Elliott Dexter is a firm believer in the adage that "Variety is the Spice of Life." Having just finished the most conspicuous part he ever has portrayed on the screen—that of the husband in "The Fast Set"—he is coming forth as a star in the spoken drama and this city has been included in the brief tour he will play in "The Havoc," by H. S. Sheldon.

Dexter has a large following among patrons of the picture theaters. He has been identified with some of the most noteworthy screen productions that have been presented in recent years. Among them are "The Romance of the Redwoods," "We Can't Have Everything," "The Squaw Man," "Don't Change Your Husband," "Anatol," "Only Thirty-eight," "Something to Think About," "Flaming Youth," "For Better or for Worse," and "Common Law." "The Fast Set," which he has just completed in William DeMille's production of "Spring Cleaning."

For the purposes of his starring venture in the spoken drama, Mr. Dexter has been particularly fortunate in securing "The Havoc," which was originally presented in the east for two seasons by Henry Miller and proved a popular attraction. It is a modern presentation of a complex domestic problem confronting a New York family

Sciatic Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pain which shoots down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The disease is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain.

The quickest, safest and surest way to get rid of the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenburh Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, all the pain and soreness. Continue until the Neuritis has entirely disappeared and you are able to work and rest in comfort once again. J. C. Perry Drug store keeps this Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it. Mail orders received.—Adv.

INGROWN NAIL Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.
