Rummage Sale Opens Saturday

Extensive plans for securing articles for their rummage sale from their members and friends have been completed by the committee of the business and professional women's club in charge of the sale which will be held in the store room formerly occupied by G. W. Johnson and company beginning Saturday, January 10. Printed cards have been sent out which the plea is made for all kinds of old clothes, underwear and shoes. Boy scouts will collect bundles on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Rummage sales have always been a favorite resource of organizations in need of funds. In addition to their lucrative value they have another advantage. They are a means of aiding people who are not reached through the ordinary channels of charity. Many poor families depend almost entirely upon securing their winter supply of clothes from the rummage sales held by different clubs and church societies. They are unable to pay the purchase price of new materials, they will not accept charity, and the rummage sale where slightly worn articles can be secured at a cheap price, where old clothing fit only for working over can be purchased for almost nothing, is the solution of the problem.

The business and professional women have sponsored a number of these sales since their organization and through experience they find men's clothing is in special demand. The proceeds from the sale which will open Saturday will go toward the building fund.

In charge of this sale are Miss Julia K. Webster, Mrs. M. E. Brewer and Miss Philpotts.

A resume of Bach and a short study of Beethoven will occupy members of the music study section of the Salem Arts League when they meet at the home of Mrs. J. F. Lau, 794 north Summer street, at 8:15 this evening.

Of interest to her Salem friends is the news of the engagement of Miss Bertha Remington to Everett Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Walker of Newberg. The announcement was made Christmas day at a dinner given by Mrs. C. H. Farling, Miss Remington's mother. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Remington has been making her home in Newberg since leaving Salem a number of months ago.

Members of the business and professional women's club will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms at six thirty tomorrow evening when supper will be served. Following will be an "inventory" meeting when the assets of the organization will be balanced against the liabilities.

Miss Frances Martin entertained at a delightful Mah Jong party in her home Saturday. High honors were won by Miss Marjorie Webb and consolation went to Miss Isabel Morehouse.

Guests of Miss Martin included Miss Elizabeth Waters, Miss Cynthia Delano, Miss Phyllis Day, Miss Maxine Myers, Miss Margaret Morehouse, Miss Isabel Morehouse, Miss Marjorie Webb, Miss Marjorie Marcus, Miss Dorothy White, Miss Bertha Babcock, Miss Virginia Sisson and Miss Virginia Berger.

The ladies aid society of the Leelle Methodist church will sponsor a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Mason Bishop, 1350 south Commercial street, tomorrow afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Bishop will be Mrs. J. L. Ingray, Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Allen.

Miss Mary-Eyre and Miss Margaret Purvine were the guests for several days during the holidays of Miss Jeanette Klotzing of Eugene. They were the house guests at Miss Klotzing's country home on the River road.

A group of her little friends gathered at the home of Miss Claude Townsend Saturday afternoon on the occasion of her twelfth birthday. For several hours of pleasure, attractive pink and white decorations were used about the living and dining rooms of the Townsend home.

The hostess, Mrs. Claude Townsend, was assisted by Mrs. Milton Steward.

The guests of little Miss Townsend were Florence Turner, Gladys Farmer, Lavelle Kure, June Steward, Marie Cohenberger, Marie Carmichael, Doris Steward, Vera Steward and Herbert Townsend.

Members of chapter G of the P. E. O. sisterhood will entertain their husbands at dinner tomorrow at the Salem Woman's clubhouse. Entertainment features will include music by the players from Moore's music house.

The committee in charge of the "B. L. L." dinner includes Mrs. D. X. Beecher, Mrs. O. E. Price, Mrs. G. W. Laffar, Mrs. A. C. Parr, Mrs. W. M. Smith and Mrs. B. J. Miles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burt left yesterday for Portland where they will remain for several days.

Frank Patterson returned to Corvallis Sunday after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Patterson. Mr. Patterson is a freeman and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Round-Up Club Is Entertained

Covers were placed for ten last night about a table centered with a huge birthday cake with thirteen candles when Mrs. E. I. Doan entertained for her son, Ellis. Guests at the birthday party were Lucy Klein, Enola Johnson, Dorothy Pickens, Helen Doan, Donald Johnson, Kenneth Klein, Stanley King, Charles West and the honor guest, Ellis Doan.

Attractive decorations of pink and white carnations with fern were placed about the rooms. Games entertained the group before and after the dinner which was served at five.

Mrs. C. E. Bates will be hostess to the Rapherian club on Thursday.

The ladies of the First Evangelical church will have an all day meeting in the church parlors tomorrow. The committee in charge of the dinner at noon includes Mrs. J. B. Ulrich, Mrs. Burgess, and Mrs. J. A. Remington.

Miss Wilda Lathrop entertained at the country home of her aunt, Mrs. O. L. Dencer, on Tuesday evening. The occasion was Miss Lathrop's eighteenth birthday. The rooms were prettily decorated with holiday colors, holly poinsettias, ferns and Oregon grape. Music and games were the divisions of the evening.

Mrs. Lathrop was assisted in serving by Mrs. Dencer and Mrs. H. L. Gille.

Included in the group were Miss Mabel Wolfe, Miss Gladys Redding, Miss Lucille Burton, Miss Lotha Peley, Miss Crystal Mills, Miss Christina Jorgensen, Miss Lucille Gille, Miss Wilda Lathrop, Gerald Billeter, Aubrey Crawford, Martin Redding, Emil Jorgensen, Ronald Craven, Paul Blesinger, Sidney Bartlett and Ray Hurley.

Mrs. Sophia Ritchie was pleasantly surprised Sunday, her eighty-third birthday, when a group of her children and grandchildren gathered at the home of her son, V. H. Ritchie, and spent the day with her.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ritchie, Jimmie Ritchie, Jr., Mrs. M. V. Ritchie, Mrs. Rau Ritchie, Ruth Ritchie, John Ritchie and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Ritchie.

The aid society of the Women's Relief Corps will hold an all day meeting at the armory on Thursday. A pot luck lunch will be served at noon. Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting and a complete attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Grabenhorst were charming hosts on Friday evening when they entertained the Friendly "500" club in their home. Holiday decorations were used attractively. High score was won by Mrs. Kennedy and low went to Mr. Kennedy.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peary and Mr. and Mrs. George Grabenhorst. Members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. L. Lunsford, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Budlong, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Grabenhorst.

The club will be entertained in two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kennedy.

Mrs. Saddle Orr-Dunbar, president of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs and executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, will leave Thursday for the east, going first to Washington, D. C. where on Saturday, January 12, there will be a meeting of the headquarters maintaining fund committee of which she is a member, her territory for this work including Oregon, Washington and Idaho. On the following day will open the meeting of the board of directors of the General Federation of Women's clubs, the president, Mrs. John D. Sherman, presiding. Mrs. Dunbar is a director in the general federation, having been elected to the biennial in Los Angeles last June.

Following the board meeting Mrs. Dunbar will attend the conference on the cause and cure of war, called by Carrie Chapman Catt, and at which approximately 5,000,000 American women will be represented through the General Federation of Women's clubs, the American Association of University Women, National Council of Jewish Women, Y. W. C. A., W. C. T. U., League of Women Voters, Council of Women for Home Missions and Federation of Women's Board of Foreign Missions.

From Washington Mrs. Dunbar will go to Cincinnati to visit relatives, and then proceed to St. Louis to attend the meeting of the executive committee of the national conference of tuberculosis secretaries, of which she is secretary-treasurer, which will be held January 22, 23 and 24. This conference will be preceded by a conference for institute workers, and in this Mrs. Dunbar will take a conspicuous part, she having been the first state secretary authorized by the National Tuberculosis association to give this course, which was presented last summer as a part of the extension work of the University of Oregon. Mrs. Dunbar will be absent the entire month of January.—Oregon Journal.

The story telling section of the Salem Arts League will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Martin Perrethelien for an impromptu program. An invitation has been extended to anyone interested.

Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding and Mrs. Lewis Griffith motored to Portland this morning to spend the day.

Monday evening followed by a late party at the Liberty. In the group were Miss Bigler, Miss Edna Vogt, Miss Frances Plov, Miss Christine Halvorsen and Miss Golda Wheeler. Miss Bigler, who formerly made her home in Salem, is in the nurses' training school at St. Francis hospital, San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clifford have just returned from Corvallis where Mr. Clifford gave a talk before the weekly forum on methods of simplifying the calendar.

This subject is timely because the annual meeting of the American association for Advancement of Science, sitting now in Washington, D. C., has just adopted resolutions favoring it. During the past few years several organizations of business men have been formed at different places in this country advocating simplification of the calendar.

Abroad the subject has been much discussed. An international commission with official representatives from various governments has been considering such projects for a number of years at Geneva, Switzerland. The league of nations has recently given official sanction to revision of the calendar by appointment of a committee to consider it.

Mr. Clifford has been a student of this subject for more than fifteen years and was the first to publish in this country the plan which is being advocated abroad. The recent activities have aroused much interest in this subject and Mr. Clifford has been asked to repeat his talk in Salem. It is planned that this will be done in the near future.

A number of the Salem members of Nydia Temple, Daughters of the Nile, are planning to motor to Portland tomorrow to attend the annual election of officers. The business meeting will be preceded by a luncheon which will be served in the Pythian temple from twelve to one.

When Jim Hamilton married Ruth Mason, they had little to "go on" but love. For five years they toiled side-by-side. Children came.

Then—oil was discovered on the little ranch. Overnight, Jim Hamilton became rich. The next step was to move to New York City where they could live as befitted their new station in life.

So to New York they went, under gentle protest from Ruth. Jim became instantly popular—especially with women. One fascinated him beyond expression. She seemed to possess every grace, every refinement that Ruth did not.

And this is just the bare beginning of one of the most heart-gripping life-dramas that human beings ever played. Did Jim remember the little wife who had labored so faithfully, who had sacrificed so willingly, who had devoted herself, body and soul, to the man she loved? Did she admit defeat, and surrender him to the "other woman"—or did she battle tirelessly, fiercely, savagely, to hold her mate? And what of the other woman? Did her artful wiles, her subtle allurements, prove winning

Other Heart-Stirring True Stories in the February Issue Are:

"The Price of Fame"—Nellie wanted to become a great actress. But like hundreds of girls who go to Hollywood each year, hoping to become movie stars, Nellie did not dream of the price exacted for fame by those who shape movie destinies. A powerful, thrillingly dramatic true-life story that every girl should read.

"The Evil Men Do"—When Evelyn became private secretary to the great Enoch Blair, his interest in her set her head in a whirl. First came his invitation to dine—then long rides in the country. Suddenly she found herself in the grip of a mad adventure from which she seemed powerless to escape. A startling chapter lifted from the book of a young girl's life.

"Human Wreckage"—When he married Helen Kirke he thought his happiness was complete. Then he met Olga Harmon, a famous dancer. Came a moment of madness when wife, home, honor were forgotten. A masterpiece in the true-life stories of men.

In the Same Issue:

"The Tell-Tale Tattoo" "Up From Nowhere"
 "Through the Flame" "Her Fighting Mate"
 "As God Intended" "Just in Time"
 "The Jilted Woman" "Why Men Change"
 "Love's Redemption" "Her Former Lover"
 "A Strange Marriage"

And Five Other True Stories From Life

A Letter from the Heart of an Indiana Social Worker

Editor "True Story"—Dear Sir:

I am assistant matron in a school for delinquent girls in a small Indiana town. Each evening we have reading for the inmates. A week ago I purchased a copy of the True Story Magazine with no intention of letting these girls read it. It was the first one I have ever read and I have no words with which to explain my surprise at the value of this book.

Tonight I took this book into the girls' dormitory and I told them I wanted to read them a story. I turned to the one in the September issue entitled "Her Birthright." As I read the arms of one of the girls nearest me went around my neck, and I felt her body shudder. There were sobs through the little audience, and when I had finished all wanted to talk at once, so I told them I wanted each one of them to tell me what they thought of the story. One of them said, "Oh, Mrs. —, I had only had that book a year ago, I would not be here today a disgrace, the mother of a baby without a name and I only seventeen." Another little girl, she is only fifteen and will become a mother in a couple of months, cried as if her heart would break and uttered a short prayer for this girl and for her sisters in this home.

So I have made this resolve: Each month, not one, but three or four magazines will be placed with these girls so they can read them themselves. What they get from these wonderful true stories will give them heart to live their days here, but the greatest good they will reap from them will be when they have served their time here and are again put out into the cold world to go the right path or the wrong. But so great is my belief in "True Story" that I fervently believe they could not possibly step from the narrow road again as long as they read the stories in this book, and they say they can hardly wait until the October issue is out. I frequently hear them discussing "True Story" and with an eagerness that is worth worlds to see.

Sincerely yours,

Children Cry for

The Pathway of Fools

WHEN Jim Hamilton married Ruth Mason, they had little to "go on" but love. For five years they toiled side-by-side. Children came. Then—oil was discovered on the little ranch. Overnight, Jim Hamilton became rich. The next step was to move to New York City where they could live as befitted their new station in life.

So to New York they went, under gentle protest from Ruth. Jim became instantly popular—especially with women. One fascinated him beyond expression. She seemed to possess every grace, every refinement that Ruth did not.

And this is just the bare beginning of one of the most heart-gripping life-dramas that human beings ever played. Did Jim remember the little wife who had labored so faithfully, who had sacrificed so willingly, who had devoted herself, body and soul, to the man she loved? Did she admit defeat, and surrender him to the "other woman"—or did she battle tirelessly, fiercely, savagely, to hold her mate? And what of the other woman? Did her artful wiles, her subtle allurements, prove winning

"You fool! What did you think I married you for? Your good looks? Your personality?" She laughed—a mocking laugh, that made my over-taxed nerves quiver.
