

PRICE OF WHEAT REACHES $2 ON CHICAGO MARKET

RED WINTER SELLS FOR $2; SLUMP FOLLOWS

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Predictions that the Chicago wheat market would reach as high as $2 a bushel this season were fulfilled, but only in a limited technical sense. Two carloads of No. 2 red winter grade brought that price. The 12 price represented just a premium paid in dollars.

Heavy profit taking alone led to a reaction after May delivery had touched $1.88. A break of more than 2 cents a bushel ensued and price changes became so rapid that it was difficult to execute orders at anywhere near board quotations.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Opening wheat quotations, which were lower than yesterday's finish to 5/8 higher, May $1.85 to $1.85 1/2 and July $1.56 to $1.56 1/2, were followed by a slight setback and then by a sharp general advance.

After opening unchanged to 5/8 up, May $1.30 to $1.30 1/2, corn receded a little and then scored good general gains.

The wheat close was unsettled, ranging from 1/2 cent decline to 1/2 cent gain, May $1.85 and July $1.56 to $1.57.

Corn, however, closed firm, 5/8 to 1 cent net higher, May $1.30 to $1.30 1/2.

FRUIT MEN TO OPPOSE CHILD LABOR STATUTE

While growers divided on an concerted action at their recent meeting in Portland, nevertheless as an individual matter it is understood considerable opposition will come from that source to ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution now before the legislature in the shape of a resolution and already facts and figures are being arrayed by individual growers and packers to attack the ratification a direct slap at one of the leading industries in the northwest.

Canners and packers point out that already Oregon has a set of child labor laws which provide every safeguard against any possible unwelcome methods being used in connection with the employment of children, that the enactment afforded healthful occupation under most healthy conditions to thousands of girls many of whom are under 14 years of age. That such employment does not interfere with their school work, that it is all carried on in case of minor cases under supervision and by the consent of the state labor department, and that in numerous cases without this employment families are children themselves would suffer for the necessities of life. In addition it is pointed out that these earnings are of utmost importance to the communities in which they are situated, both to the agricultural and urban interests and to derive the full benefit of labor would be an almost irretrievable loss to the industry.

Canners go further and say that if all of the girls who are now employed at seasonal occupations in canneries and similar occupations under 14 years of age were deprived of the right to work that an irreparable injury would be done to the children themselves, who now are permitted to work in an honest livelihood which privilege they would be deprived of otherwise.

Some local packers who have made inquiries among members of the child labor amendment who fear that the child labor amendment will not be ratified when up for final vote in the legislature.

THREE INQUIRIES FOR DRIED PRUNES

Three inquiries in the last two days received from exporters by R. I. McLaughlin of the firm of Baker, Kelly & McLaughlin, states it probably will be a month before an active strawberry buying season opens up, but the firm will be in here as usual next year, probably being located this year in the new addition of the Capital Ice & Storage company. The firm has been here for seven years going into its eighth season, handling barrelled strawberries.

Portland has a good strawberry berry crop this year from what can be gathered, although nothing definite about these lines can be determined for some time to come yet.

PEAR GROWERS TO CONTINUE OPTION

By the terms of the crop agreement which the California Pear Growers association has with its members, there is an option following the 1924 season for the association to decide whether it will continue through the 1925 season or not. It was voted by the board of directors of the Pear association at the regular meeting in December that the association will exercise its option and continue under the present crop agreement for the coming three seasons.

PRINCIPALS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY

Getup along New York's flits to the effect that Alice Brady, noted actress, will be one of the earliest starters in the 1925 Mariette Swoopstakes, and has coupled her name with that of Kenneth McKenna, actor, said to have been cast for her future leading man in the little drama of life. Miss Brady is the divorced wife of James Crane. The couple have one child, Cyrus H. McCormick, millionaire head of the Harvester Company, has been made defendant in a suit for $500,000 for alleged alienation of the affections of Mrs. Edwin W. Jacobs, of New York, whose husband is the plaintiff. McCormick's counsel has not replied to the charges except to request transfer of the proceedings from the State to the Federal courts in New York. Meanwhile, it is reported, Mrs. Jacobs is strangely missing. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has given stock of the Standard Oil Company of California, valued at approximately $1,000,000, to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York to further the museum's educational work. Trustees of the museum have voted to add the gift to the museum's permanent endowment fund. Isadora Duncan, noted dancer, who has been living in Berlin, refused a passport visa to go to Paris because of her alleged connection with the Bolshevik movement when she visited Moscow. She is reported planning an appeal against the action of the Embassy.

ACTIVE BUYING EXPECTED FOR ALL PRUNE LINES

The prune market for the spring both in California and Oregon, is unquestionably working into the situation which we have been indicating all fall says the California Fruit News. Both domestic and foreign buying is expected by the best-informed factors concerned with each line to be, beginning early in the spring, as active an offering for sale will permit. There are, of course, a good many prunes of 1924 crop still even well-preserved factors are surprised at the amount of fruit in time of the small quantity that the total would seem to be. If, of course, there were plenty of prunes for sale in Europe from their last crop, our position on the coast in this line would not be so favorable, even with the same statistical position here. But the fact that there are, apparently, no prunes anywhere else in that part of the coast makes what might be a fair tonnage for the time of year under some other conditions, a small tonnage under conditions as they are.

The relationship in value between some of the sizes will undoubtedly tend to continue adjustment toward a more reasonable differential, it is thought, and 50c and 60c may be expected to show advances to equalize with the larger and smaller sizes, we should think before these letters move much.

In Oregon prunes, 40c preponderate in the prunes left unsold, which, by the way, as a whole, are in possibly even better shape than California. There are a few 20-40s reported in the northwest still left in Italian but these are being held back so far as straight size orders are concerned, as they are moving 40c and 50c through assortment requirements.

LOVING CUP FOR BEST HEREFORDS SENT TO SMITH

County Commissioner Smith has received a letter from O. M. Plummer, secretary of the Pacific International Livestock association at Portland, advising him that the American Meat Packers' loving cup which Smith won last year with a carload of Herefords, will be sent to him in the near future.

"I think it is a pretty outstanding thing when a carload of Herefords from up the valley can trim all the rest from all over the country," writes Plummer to Smith.

The county commissioner is feeling rather cocky over the winning of this cup, in fact more cocky than if the 87. Paul oil well in which he holds some stock should bring in a gusher. He intends to have the cup on exhibition at the courthouse for a while when it arrives.

"St. Paul and Jim Smith against the world for raising Herefords," declares the county commissioner. "We will even bank our white-faced calves against the governor's."

COUNTY COURT PLANS TO ATTEND PORTLAND MEET

The Marion county court will go in a body to attend the two day session of the annual meeting of county judges and commissioners in Portland January 15 and 16 as matters of prime importance to this county are scheduled to come up, particularly matters dealing with road legislation.

What the legislature does or does not do in regard to market road legislation means life or death to the future of the Marion county market road program, all members of the county court here are agreed. If the legislature leaves the statutes as they stand, then the court feels certain that a continued development of the market road program can go on uninterrupted with assurance of additional paving each year. If a monkey wrench is thrown in the machinery there is a possibility that the market road development of hard surfacing on market roads in this county at least depends upon the market road fund, say members of the court.

One of the important things along the lines of road work this court expects the convention to do is to name a committee of three to be at Salem all during the session and assist in development of road laws and put the rollers under any legislation that may be inimical to the best interests of the counties. It is expected that Judge Harvey Cross of Clackamas will head this delegation and it is more than likely one member of the Marion county court will be on the committee, as a representative of this county would be at not so great an expense remaining here during the session.

In addition the local court will insist that a fight be made on any effort to revive legislation which would benefit contractors by insisting on advertising for road work over a certain amount. The county court here is well satisfied with the force account work that can be done and declare it can be done better and cheaper on its own account than under contracts. In addition the local court will insist on a scrap being made against the bidding proposition in purchase of machinery for county road work, declaring that under that system road machinery can be forced upon the county which it does not want.

START SALES CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE SEASON

A bulletin recently issued to the trade by the California Prune and Apicot Growers association, San Jose, advises market conditions to be most favorable and also states that the association is just about to launch an aggressive sales and advertising program during the balance of the old season. Regarding management of the association, following the resignation of A. M. Mortensen as general manager, the association states for the information of the trade: "O. O. Rhoades, president of the association, has by the board of directors been appointed to assume the duties of general manager temporarily in addition to his duties as president. A permanent general manager has not yet been selected but President Rhoades began taking over the duties of Mr. Mortensen's office some little time before his retirement, so that no interruption in the activities of the association and no adverse effect upon marketing conditions has been experienced."
