

EDDY PREDICTS WORLD WAR IN NEXT 10 YEARS

That present world conditions indicate another war within the next ten years was the statement made this morning by Dr. Sherwood Eddy, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Eddy spoke in chapel at Willamette university, the auditorium at Waller hall being filled to overflowing.

He spoke of a trip which he recently completed across Asia and Europe and around the world.

"I haven't a drop of pacifist blood in me," he stated. "I was at the front with the British army before America entered the war, but while up there at the front I began to be troubled at what I saw." He gave a description of war conditions and their results, and declared that after 10 years he had decided that war was wrong and that he was "done with it forever."

Present conditions throughout the world are the result of ideas based on property privileges, strife and personal profit, he said. He described "Robber's Row" in a Chinese city he visited. Eighty million Chinese boys and girls are without school privileges, he stated, and are forced to work 7 days a week at from 5 to 12 cents a day.

Conditions in Russia, through which Dr. Eddy passed, Europe and even the United States were described as based upon an equally unjust economic order. The United States is the only country in the world which still has lynchings, he said. He quoted a Methodist minister as saying that most of those who participated in lynchings were Methodists and Baptists.

Charitable institutions in the United States are "only the ambulance service," he stated. "The firing line is down on Wall street."

Memorial Tribute to George W. Sturgis

(By Judge Peter H. D'Arcy)
George W. Sturgis, Oregon pioneer, has passed away. He was born in Marion county seventy-two years ago. He was the child of pioneer parents who knew the vicissitudes and trials of the primitive days of Marion county.

Mr. Sturgis was a farmer and stock raiser. He performed the various duties of life with an earnestness and sincerity that were characteristic of his life. His modesty and worth indicated his real merit. As a husband and father he was all that could be expected of one. His home life was ideal. He had the true American conception of manhood. Mr. Sturgis believed in fair play, self-reliance and the giving of an equal opportunity to all persons. He was an advocate of the highest traits of character, a tolerant and high-minded spirit. He trusted his fellow citizens and believed in their integrity and honesty.

He was my school mate and boyhood friend and I mourn his loss. His pallbearers consisted of those friends and acquaintances who attended school with him in the old Central school building that stood on the block where the Salem high school has been erected. The personal friend and school mate who bore his body to the grave were E. M. Croisan, Eugene Manning, A. N. Moore, George Croisan, George Ferrall and the writer of this tribute.

His memory will be treasured by the friends of the olden days on account of his virtues, genial and many qualities. Mr. Sturgis was of the rare type of manhood who never strayed from the straight and narrow path of duty. At all times cherished the best ideals of American citizenship. The large attendance at his funeral showed the splendid estimation placed upon his life work. True to himself, he was true to his neighbors and friends, and they appreciated these principles. Breathing nothing but loyalty to his country he could not be anything else than kindly disposed to the people among whom he lived. Endowed

Broke Up Housekeeping
"We had to break up housekeeping because of my wife's stomach trouble. No medicine did her any good for more than a few hours. On a visit to Oshkosh a friend presented Magy's Wonderful Remedy so highly my wife tried it and she has enjoyed the best of health since taking it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. Perry, D. J. Fry and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

ADVOCATES OF GOODING BILL GIVE ARGUMENTS

Washington, Jan. 21.—Supporters of the Gooding bill to prevent railroads from charging higher freight rates for short hauls than long hauls over the same route were given further opportunity to present arguments on the measure today at hearings before the house commerce committee.

Frank Lyon, attorney for the Luckenbach steamship company, headed the list of witnesses.

Before Lyon was called, James A. Ford, secretary of the Interstate rate association and managing secretary of the Spokane, Washington, chamber of commerce endorsed the bill.

It sometimes looked, he asserted, as if the railroads were trying "to wear us out" and it would be much easier for the compact transcontinental lines to organize to make application for rates than for the seven million people scattered over the intermountain region to organize to oppose such application.

One argument advanced against the bill, Mr. Ford said is that the railroads must have the freight now going through the Panama canal, should they obtain the five and a half million tons now carried by that route, he added, they would hardly realize any difference as it is insignificant when compared to the tonnage they now carry.

MODERN FAGIN HEADS WALL STREET THIEVES

New York, Jan. 21.—Several bands of thieves headed by a "Fagin" are preying on Wall Street banking and brokerage houses, and at least $4,000,000 worth of stolen securities is in the hands of New York's underworld, said Alfred Tyrill, adjuster for a large surety company, today. He said the company had offered a $100,000 reward for the return of $1,000,000 worth of stolen bonds. Youths are placed as messengers in stock exchange and banking houses through forged references furnished by this "Fagin," said Tyrill.

HINTS FOR WOMEN

More important to women than the question of food, the latest fancy work to beautify the home or points in etiquette or dress, is the subject of health. There are thousands of women everywhere afflicted with stubborn ailments which make life a burden. These ailments may be easily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a woman's medicine for woman's ills prepared from roots and herbs. After three generations of success it is recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.—Adv.
