Mansfield Dancers on February 18

One of the outstanding attractions of the winter concert season in Salem will be an event of February 18 with the appearance of the Portia Mansfield dancers under the sponsorship of the Civic Music club. This will be the third of a series of concerts in which artists of national fame are brought before local audiences. Grace Wood Jess, folk song artist, gave the October concert; Ricardo Martin, tenor, came to Salem in November and Germaine Schnitzer, famed pianist, will appear during the month of March.

The Portia Mansfield troupe has won unqualified praise from all of the concert critics. This is their first tour of the west. They comprise twelve solo and ensemble dancers—all girls with the exception of Jack Daw, who is one of the featured members of the organization.

The young girls, the majority of them Wellesley college girls, who are in the group have varied with Portia Mansfield for years. In addition to dancing they have studied the allied arts, particularly sculpturing, as Miss Mansfield, herself a sculptor, finds it a great aid in physical expression.

The program given by these dancers has a particular appeal to all lovers of beauty and harmony for one beautiful scene follows another in rapid succession. Classic compositions are given rhythmic visualization in a manner that pleases the most discriminating. They will appear in the Grand theater on February 18.

Miss Maurine Larson and Miss Nellie Putnam, who have been visiting at their homes for the past month, left on the Shasta Sunday morning for St. Helena, California, where they are enrolled in a nurse's training school.

Because of the popularity and success of the card party which they sponsored last Wednesday the Security Benefit association decided to repeat the affair this week. The second card party will be given Wednesday evening in McCornack hall with Mrs. P. M. Gregory and Mrs. G. W. Hatfield in charge. Mrs. Park and Mrs. Staley will take charge of the refreshments.

The Lincoln McKinley parent teacher association will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the Lincoln school for a business and program meeting. Rev. U. S. Crowder will speak on the child labor amendment. Mrs. Harry Harms, accompanied by Miss Genevieve Findley, will give several solos. A short business meeting will follow. Anyone interested will be welcomed at this meeting.

The Salem War Mothers will sponsor a cooked food sale on Saturday in the Southern Pacific offices on north Liberty street.

The second in the series of card parties sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Daughters of America will be given tomorrow evening in McCornack hall, not on February 3 as was first announced.

The winners of the highest scores during the series of four evenings of playing will be awarded beautiful prizes at the last of the parties which will be held immediately before the beginning of Lent. All members of the parish and their friends will be entertained by the two organizations.

Many out of town women were guests at the social meeting of the Salem Woman's club held in the club house on Saturday afternoon. A capacity crowd—practically every seat was taken—enjoyed the program which had been arranged.

Seymour Jones gave a forceful and extremely interesting lecture on the place that women occupy in the world of politics. Grace E. Hall, Oregonian verse writer, gave an impromptu talk which was also enjoyed.

Ronald Craven, tenor, sang several solos prior to Mr. Jones' talk. Afterward Mrs. J. E. Law, contralto, pleased the group with two solos.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Doughton and two children of Albany will spend several weeks in Salem.

EVERY man, woman and child wants to be strong, healthy and correct weight. It means the joy of living. To be minus strength and underweight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S.S.S., since 1926, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the top of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body.

More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. aids Nature in building them by the million! There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today. The seventeenth birthday of Adam Ohmart was delightfully celebrated in Liberty on Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Ohmart entertained at a family dinner in her honor. Mrs. W. C. Kinney of Astoria, who has the distinction of being the only woman member of the 1925 legislative assembly, was a special guest.

Last night before a fireplace banked with lilies, daffodils and woodwardia ferns, and with heavy brass candelabra in which twinkling candles burned on the mantel, Rev. E. H. Pence read the services uniting Miss Helen West and Ellery Wheeler Stone in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald West on Overton street. The bride, who was given away by her father, was handsome in a gown of white satin with godets beaded in crystal and rhinestones, with long tight sleeves and a long veil of tulle which was caught with rosettes over each ear. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

Mrs. James Herbert Malarky, who was the bride's only attendant, wore a gown of pale pink lace cut in straight lines with godets of deeper tulle beaded in rhinestones. Her bouquet was dark pink rosebuds, freesias and violets. Edgar Stone attended his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a delicious supper was served. The table, which glowed in the light of candles in crystal candelabra about a centerpiece of pink tulle and freesias, was presided over by Mrs. George T. Willett, Mrs. Henry Van Duzer, Mrs. George T. Gerlinger and Mrs. A. C. Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone left immediately for a wedding trip in Canada. They will be away about two weeks, after which they will be at home at The Regiline in Oakland, Cal., about February 14.—Sunday Oregonian.

Miss Elsie Rorer of Albany, spent the week end in Salem.

Senator Davis Will Offer Bills to Help Warm Springs Unit

Senator Davis has in tentative form two irrigation bills that will be introduced during the week, one relating to obligations or contracts between the state and the federal government and the other relating to water rights, both designed to afford relief to the Warm Springs district, though they are general in their application.

Under the former the state board would have authority to enter into obligation with the federal government for construction, operation and maintenance of the necessary works for the delivery and distribution of water under the provisions of the act of December 3, 1912, in this contract to provide for payment of charges to the United States upon the basis authorized by the fact finders' act, and under such rules as may be promulgated by the federal reclamation service.

It is provided that in irrigation districts which enter into contract with the government for the payment of charges to the government upon the basis authorized by the fact finders' act annual levies of assessments for the purpose of making the payments may be made by the board of directors on a basis provided in the fact finders' act either before or after judicial confirmation of apportionment of benefits, and in those districts annual levies for making construction payments to the federal government may be made on the basis of the gross average annual acre income of the lands of the district, or its divisions, as such income is determined by the secretary of the interior, and if collections any year prove insufficient to meet the obligations of the district the levy shall be increased the following year to cover the deficit. The bill carries the emergency clause.

The water rights bill provides that whenever any irrigation district has in good faith undertaken to appropriate water for irrigation purposes and has constructed or partly constructed a storage and distribution system, and is proceeding to apply the waters to beneficial use, it shall have an extension of time to January 1, 1925, in which to complete the appropriation of water. The irrigation district is declared to be the owner of all rights, subject only to existing rights on such streams, desiring to sell any excess storage, surplus water or water rights, or to dispose of by contract or lease any undeveloped hydro-electric power, provisions is made in the act for this to be done.

Within 30 days after a district no decides to dispose of water the board would be required to file with the state engineer a petition to determine the amount of surplus water that the district may sell without segregating water from land, also whether the public interest will be subserved by segregating the water from the land, and if so, then the total amount of water that may be sold by the district. The engineer would be required to get a survey of the condition of the land by the extension service of the Oregon Agricultural college, or by the college in co-operation with the federal reclamation service, which survey shall be conclusive evidence of the condition of the land. Within 60 days after receipt of the petition the state engineer would be required to file his report with the directors and the directors would then have immediate right to sell

The bill carries the emergency clause.

The water rights bill provides that whenever any irrigation district has in good faith undertaken to appropriate water for irrigation purposes and has constructed or partly constructed a storage and distribution system, and is proceeding to apply the waters to beneficial use, it shall have an extension of time to January 1, 1925, in which to complete the appropriation of water. The irrigation district is declared to be the owner of all rights, subject only to existing rights on such streams, desiring to sell any excess storage, surplus water or water rights, or to dispose of by contract or lease any undeveloped hydro-electric power, provisions is made in the act for this to be done.

Within 30 days after a district no decides to dispose of water the board would be required to file with the state engineer a petition to determine the amount of surplus water that the district may sell without segregating water from land, also whether the public interest will be subserved by segregating the water from the land, and if so, then the total amount of water that may be sold by the district. The engineer would be required to get a survey of the condition of the land by the extension service of the Oregon Agricultural college, or by the college in co-operation with the federal reclamation service, which survey shall be conclusive evidence of the condition of the land. Within 60 days after receipt of the petition the state engineer would be required to file his report with the directors and the directors would then have immediate right to sell

Senator Davis Will Offer Bills to Help Warm Springs Unit

Senator Davis has in tentative form two irrigation bills that will be introduced during the week, one relating to obligations or contracts between the state and the federal government and the other relating to water rights, both designed to afford relief to the Warm Springs district, though they are general in their application.

Under the former the state board would have authority to enter into obligation with the federal government for construction, operation and maintenance of the necessary works for the delivery and distribution of water under the provisions of the act of December 3, 1912, in this contract to provide for payment of charges to the United States upon the basis authorized by the fact finders' act, and under such rules as may be promulgated by the federal reclamation service.

It is provided that in irrigation districts which enter into contract with the government for the payment of charges to the government upon the basis authorized by the fact finders' act annual levies of assessments for the purpose of making the payments may be made by the board of directors on a basis provided in the fact finders' act either before or after judicial confirmation of apportionment of benefits, and in those districts annual levies for making construction payments to the federal government may be made on the basis of the gross average annual acre income of the lands of the district, or its divisions,
