

AUTO LICENSE REVISION HELD UNLIKELY

PROPOSALS NOW IN HOPPERS ARE DOOMED, BELIEF

(By Harry N. Crain.)

For those who are interested in legislation relative to revision of the Oregon automobile license fees and who will read there in "handwriting on the wall" in the current resolution introduced in the house yesterday afternoon by Representative Carlin, which calls for a reaffirmation by the legislature of the principles underlying the state's system of financing its highway program.

In no uncertain terms the resolution takes a direct slap at the eight or ten bills now in the house and senate committees dealing with license revision in its various forms by declaring against a policy which would not recognize the principle of the motorists paying for the highways.

Reformers are Roused. "The adoption of such an attitude by the automobile interests at the state," reads the resolution, "cannot but have, if persisted in, one of the following results: Either to prevent the early completion of our road system or throw the burden of the payment of bonds now issued and the completion of our highway program upon the already too heavily taxed farmers and owners of real property in the state."

That one paragraph appears to express a sentiment that has been hovering on the lips of more than one member of both houses and is constantly being its way upward toward open utterance. There is a surprisingly prevalent attitude among the legislators to leave well enough alone, and for the amount of noise that has been made over the bills presented there is to be found remarkably little sentiment among the lawmakers themselves favorable to any dabbling with the present system, principally because any change would disrupt the plans under which nearly $40,000,000 in highway bonds have been issued and by the provisions of which the refunding of this indebtedness is to be accomplished. With the peak of the bond debt load due in 1926 and 1927 the inclination is strongly leaning against any tampering or experimenting with revenue sources that are now operating smoothly and without burdensome weight upon anyone.

Mostly Noise. Claim. Although there are two or three distinct sets of measures in the legislature practically all of the noise regarding them is being made by the Oregon State Motor association, its friends and the opposition to its aggressive program. The motor association has been and still is persistent to the length of demanding the enactment of its program, and has even assumed a dictatorial attitude that is not wearing well with many of the solons. Approached yesterday with regard to the various proposals one member of the house declared that he was weary of the whole business already, and added: "That motor association bunch is taking itself too damned seriously."

Also adding fuel to the silent opposition is the squabbling that is going on among those who are seeking the legislation, a situation that is fast creating the feeling that the best that can come out of the tangle is a lot of compromise bills that may prove expensive to the state.

The vote on the Carlin resolution will reveal a lot of things regarding the probable fate of license fee revisions at this session.

STAPLES STANDS PAT IN JUNKET REFUSAL

Because of the refusal of Senator Staples to be a member of the ways and means sub-committee to visit the eastern Oregon hospital for the insane at Pendleton, President Moser of the senate appointed Senator Toose, chairman of the senate ways and means committee, to go on the trip. Staples refused to go because Speaker Burdick of the house withdrew Representative Bennett of Multnomah county from the committee and appointed Representative McCallister of Marion county in his place.

FLOCK OF BILLS APPEAR IN HOUSE

A flock of bills, most of minor importance, were introduced Tuesday in the house.

No. 159, by Hamilton of Bond, would make it compulsory for assessment life associations operating on a mutual or assessment plan to use the word "assessment" on all certificates, certificates issued and would prohibit them from using the term "call premium" or other misleading words. The measure would except trust orders.

House bill 162, by McCallister of Marion county, would authorize the governor to sign petitions for drainage districts on behalf of the state when so authorized or instructed by order of the board of control.

Farmers would be relieved of the provisions of the motor vehicle law applying to truck and bus operation under house bill 160, introduced by Hercher of Douglas county.

Use of spray guns in painting buildings with lead base paints would be prohibited under house bill 149 introduced yesterday by Representative Hurlburt, Multnomah county. The measure, according to Hurlburt is a health protective bill for the benefit of workmen. It does not apply to tree spraying or the painting of farm buildings.

House bill 147 introduced yesterday by the committee on food and dairy products would prohibit the sale of certain adulterants in stock feed. Feeding stuffs containing buckwheat, rice hulls, cottonseed hulls, peanut shells, sawdust, cellulose, molasses or dehydrated, mill, elevator sweepings, dust or deleterious ingredients would be banned. Feeding stuffs containing more than 12 per cent fibre would be outlawed.

The senate yesterday afternoon passed Senator Brown's bill placing jurisdiction over trespass cases in the court of the justice of the peace. His measure making it a misdemeanor to encroach upon

MEMORIAL ASKS M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL BE PASSED

House joint memorial No. 6, introduced yesterday afternoon, asks congress to pass legislation providing for a farmers' expert corporation which is embodied in the McNary-Haugen bill. The following representatives introduced the memorial: Mann, Shumway, Russell, Fitzmaurice, Hunter, Miller, Buchanan, Wheeler, Tosi, Roberts, A. R. and C. A. Hunter and Hazlett.

The house yesterday afternoon adopted a house joint resolution by the Multnomah delegation providing for a constitution amendment which would permit Portland school district No. 1 to raise $500,000 in addition to the sum raised under the 6 per cent tax limitation clause. The additional sum with that made possible by the regular levy would thereafter be the base on which the 6 per cent limitation would apply.

SHROCK OFFERS POULTRY BILLS

Sum of $7500 for the investigation of poultry diseases prevalent in the state would be provided in house bill 140 introduced Monday by Shrock, Clackamas county. The work would be done in connection with the Oregon Agricultural college's experiment station.

Shrock also introduced house bill 141, providing for an appropriation of $10,000 to finance "the Oregon hen laying contest." The contest of the breedless would also be conducted under the direction of the Oregon Agricultural college on the latter's grounds.

The basket limit of steelhead salmon in Tillamook county streams where commercial fishing is prohibited would be set at five fish a week under house bill 142 introduced by Winslow, Tillamook county. Fine up to $100 or a jail sentence not to exceed 30 days would be meted out to violators of the law.

The killing of Chinese pheasants in Tillamook county would be prohibited under house bill 143, also introduced by Winslow. The bag limit on other game birds would be cut considerably.

either enclosed or unenclosed private property without the consent of the owner passed earlier in the day.

Two local livestock bills from the house were passed by the senate yesterday. One of these, introduced by Representative Swaa, repeals an act of 1911 which attempted to prohibit livestock running at large in Multnomah county. The measure was defective, however, and is said to have resulted in harm rather than benefit. The other measure passed yesterday prohibits livestock running at large in Hood River county outside the Mount Hood forest reserve. It was introduced in the house by Representative Hazlett.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

EDDY SPONSORS SECOND BILL OF PROHI PROGRAM

Senator Eddy introduced a bill Tuesday that would make more drastic than at present the punishment for persons convicted of driving motor vehicles while intoxicated. The penalty fixed is a fine of from $100 to $500 and imprisonment of from 60 days to 6 months. The bill is the second of the Anti-Saloon league proposals strengthening the dry laws to drop into the legislative hopper.

The senate engaged in considerable hilarity yesterday when a resolution thanking L. N. Day for a map of the state came up for adoption. The resolution, introduced by the resolution committee in compliance with a request of the governor, was lavishly laudatory of Mr. Day and caused Senator Garland to inquire if Day were dead.

"I never knew of such a tribute being paid a man while he was alive," said Garland.

The resolution concluded by wishing Mr. Day a continued success in the future.

President Moser added to the hilarity by saying: "Senator Joseph moves adoption of the resolution." It was unanimous, but Joseph explained his vote.

Newspapers discarded by the both houses of the legislature will be distributed among the inmates of state institutions through a house concurrent resolution by Representative Rashlight that was adopted by the senate Tuesday.

Ryerson Joins Lobby. C. M. Ryerson, editor of the Oregon Labor Press, was around the legislature yesterday. Ryerson is working in the interest of the child labor amendment proposal.

COOLIDGE OPPOSED TO UNIFYING AIR SERVICES

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Coolidge is opposed to unification of the army and navy air services as proposed in the Curry bill. Secretary Wilbur today informed the house military committee.

The naval secretary declined to discuss the president's views beyond the bare statement that the executive saw no need for the creation of a separate air force. He said he talked to Mr. Coolidge about the proposal this morning and had been authorized to make the statement as to the president's views.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent cold lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)
