

WHAT IS DOING IN LEGISLATIVE SESSION

WOULD TAKE PEN AND BONUS BOARD FROM GOVERNOR

Control of the penitentiary would be transferred from the governor to the state board of control under house bill No. 224, introduced yesterday by Settlement, Marion county. Handling of penitentiary funds would be taken entirely out from under the governor and the warden and would be placed in the board's hands.

The state treasurer and the attorney general would be added to the World war veterans state aid commission if house bill No. 226, introduced by North, Multnomah county, becomes a law. North made the proposal, he explained, to cover any situation that might arise were the governor's recommendation to load bonus act funds to eastern Oregon farmers for re-seeding purposes to be acted upon favorably.

Enactment of the bill would cause the governor to lose his majority control on the bonus commission.

PORTLAND STUDENTS VISIT LEGISLATURE

A party of 65 civic students from Multnomah county high schools came to Salem yesterday to see how laws are made. The party, under the direction of W. C. Alderson, county superintendent of schools, was composed of Corbett, Park Rose, Gresham and Riverdale high schools. With them were: G. N. McKay, principal of the Gresham school; Mrs. Anna Stillman, principal of Riverdale school; Ray E. Cannon, principal of Park Rose school, and W. C. Lawrence, president of the Gresham high school board.

$225,000 ASKED FOR BUILDING AT MONMOUTH

Appropriation of $225,000 for building and equipping two structures at the Monmouth normal school is sought in house bill No. 222, introduced yesterday afternoon by the Polk county delegation. Eighty thousand is desired for constructing a class room building and equipping same at Monmouth. The sum of $145,000 is sought for building a high school at Independence to be used as a training plant for normal school students.

NEW CHEMISTRY CHANGES WORLD

New York, Jan. 20.—A new civilization with a new chemistry making possible the transmutation of elements, including the changing of substances into gold, is likely as the result of an attempt to apply practically the Einstein theory of relativity, Dr. E. E. Free, editor of the Scientific American, said at a luncheon meeting of the Lions club.

"We are on the verge of entering a new kind of chemistry," Dr. Free explained, "and with that, perhaps, a new kind of civilization. If, as we expect, we can give practical application to the Einstein theory, which will be able to augment the world's supply of certain things of which there is a definite shortage. The world needs more platinum, more iodine, more helium. As far as we know, there is a shortage of supply."

SALEM HI TO PLAY EUGENE HERE TONIGHT

Tonight the Salem high school basketball team will clash with their ancient rivals when they meet the Eugene five on the local floor. The game promises to be the hardest fought of the season as Eugene has a fast team and with the added fight between these two schools the fans will witness the best game of the year.

Eugene has a team of veterans and they have been going good so far, so Salem will have a formidable foe. In Milligan, the visitors have one of the fastest men for some time. He is elusive and able to cover a lot of floor. Salem has been going good and seems to have found their stride in the Newberg game. If they play as good as they did in that game they will more than likely come out on the long end of the score.

Drager, Heenan and Ellis have been going good so far this season although they have had hard luck in many of their shots in several of the games. Bob Drager, guard, has improved with every game and the locals are assured of a good man in that position next year. Salem will have a team of veterans for next year but will be handicapped to a great extent with the graduation of Heenan and Ellis. Ashby, the other guard, who is a veteran from last year is doing better than last year and has been holding his estate on the other side to small scores. His size is the only thing that handicaps him, oftentimes being too short to intercept the opponents passes.

Tonight's main game will start at 7:45 o'clock.

The Wedfoot basketball team took a decision over the Jason Lee comrades last night and defeated them by a score of 24 to 13. Jason Lee played better ball in the first half but were unable to keep up the fast pace set by the Wedfooters. In the second half the Wedfoot team forged ahead after several good shots. They have a fast team and are desirous of meeting any team that is in the 131-pound class. Games may be arranged by calling Chick Simpson of the Salem high school.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY TRAFFIC

Speaker Burdick has named Representatives Graham and McCallister as members of a special committee to study traffic regulations with the idea of obtaining a more uniform plan. Regulations in force in neighboring states will be taken into consideration. A member of the senate, the secretary of state, and the chief of the traffic division of the state will complete the committee under terms of the house joint resolution. Senator Hall will be the senate member.

Speaker Burdick named Representatives Coffey, Carkin and Mendell to report on the per diem and mileage of house members.

LIMIT UNDERTAKERS TO 1000 PERCENT PROFIT

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 30.—In the smaller communities of the state where "men retire early and arise with the sun," locomotive whistles disturb them in their sleep and it is proposed in a bill introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Cooper of Omaha to abolish these "shrill shrieks of the night."

"The high cost" of burial arrangements and funeral would be "reduced" in Nebraska if a bill introduced in the lower house of the legislature yesterday by Representative Wood, becomes law. Undertakers' profits would be limited to 1000 per cent under the measure.

PORTLAND ASKS FOR NEW ARMORY

Appropriation of $300,000 is sought for the construction of an armory at Portland under terms of a bill introduced by Hurlburt, Multnomah county. The bill stipulates that $600,000 shall be raised by private subscription before the $300,000 requested becomes available. The site of the present armory is specified.

House bill No. 227, introduced by German of Multnomah county, would give the city of Portland about half of the funds received by Multnomah county from auto license fees. The bill is a repetition of many of its brothers who have gone down to defeat in the past.

WOULD BAR DOGS FROM AUTO RUNNING BOARDS

Fido will have to walk or auto makers will have to change the style of building to include a seat for the dog member of traveling families if a bill introduced yesterday afternoon by Representative Peirce of Coos and Curry becomes a law. Peirce's bill would prevent dogs riding on the running boards of automobiles.

DEMAND REPORT ON CORPORATION BUREAU PROBE

Demand is made upon Governor Pierce in a resolution introduced by Representative Longnecker that he furnish the house with a report of the special committee which several months ago investigated rumors concerning the integrity of certain employees of the corporation department and involving the alleged acceptance of money.

The investigation was ordered several months ago and was made by a committee composed of Robert I. Hankin and Lester W. Humphreys. The committee held hearings, heard witnesses and filed its report with a complete transcript of the evidence, but the report was never made public by the governor.

Society

Mrs. T. G. High, her brother, James McConnell, and Mrs. H. D. Trover spent several days at Newkirk last week.

The scholarship loan fund will be benefited by the card party and tea which Willamette chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will give this afternoon at the Portland hotel, beginning at 2 o'clock. Cards, five hundred and mah jongg will attract large numbers of Portland women who find these among their favorite diversions. Tea will be served at 4 o'clock. To winners of high score prizes will be awarded.

Mrs. W. W. McCredie, regent of the chapter, has had charge of arrangements as general chairman of the occasion, assisted by Mesdames Harry G. Melvin, Arthur M. Dibble, William H. Ambler and U. G. Smith. A large committee of members of the chapter is assisting.—Oregonian.

Cafeteria dinner will be served tomorrow noon in McCornack hall by members of the Women's Relief corps. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Rose R. Voria, Mrs. Antoinette Bennett, Mrs. Louise Krappé, Mrs. Emma Thompson and Mrs. Bernice Bouffleur.

The Salem Floral society will elect officers for the year at their meeting in the chamber of commerce auditorium tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. A talk on the combination of colors in the planting of perennials will be given by H. V. Bateman, gardener at the state hospital. Open discussion will also be held on the subject of twenty five facts that every amateur gardener should know.

Mrs. C. I. Adams entertained the Book and Thimble club at an interesting afternoon recently in her home on Kingswood Heights. Ferns and holly were used attractively about the rooms.

The main feature of the study period was a round table discussion on "What the Legislature is Doing," followed by a discussion on the child labor amendment. Later Mrs. Adams conducted a spelling match with a prize offered the winner. Because of the difficulty encountered in "spelling down" any of the members the prize became the joint property of the club. During the special hour the advertisement puzzle introduced by Mrs. Bentley furnished much merriment. The winner was Mrs. Max Gehlar. Musical numbers were given by the club quartet and by Mrs. E. Pattison and Mrs. L. F. Brown. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. C. R. Schwartz.

In the group were Mrs. Mary the Beaver, Mrs. L. F. Brown, Mrs. E. Pattison, Mrs. E. Manning, Mrs. B. Adams, Mrs. F. H. Bentley, Mrs. C. R. Schwartz, Mrs. D. Adams, Mrs. M. Gehlar, Mrs. Fred Kubin and the hostess, Mrs. Adams.

Mrs. Emma Beckett will entertain the club at their next meeting. Mrs. C. H. Schwartz and Mrs. C. I. Adams will take charge of the program.

Miss Lena Belle Tartar, Miss Gretchen Kraemer and Miss Alice Thompson, all of whom are members of the music faculty in the Salem schools, will be in Portland this evening to hear the San Carlo grand opera company present

Golden West Coffee

Quality only can hold friends so many years

There's nothing like real quality in coffee to bring friendliness bubbling to the top. It certainly has made heaps of people and Golden West friendly these 40-odd years. And the best of it—those friends remain.

Golden West Coffee has been constant, too—never a slip 'twixen cup and lip—just steadily getting better as the selective choice of the world's best-flavored high-grown berries, and vacuumic blending, steel cutting and vacuumic packing have perfected that velvet-smooth taste and enticing aroma.

Economical—of course—seeming to yield more delicious cups to the pound.
