Attractive Concert Tonight

Nearly five weeks have passed since Salem concert goers have had the opportunity of attending a concert. The pre-holiday season was marked with a number of affairs in which artists of both local and national fame were presented. Several of the musical clubs gave their annual Christmas concerts and all of the leading church choirs prepared beautiful Yuletide programs. As a reaction came a lull in musical activities which will be broken tonight in the concert given by the MacDowell club.

Occupying the foremost place on the program will be Frederick W. Goodrich, organist, and Miss Frances Virginia Melton, pianist. Professor Goodrich is recognized as a musician of the highest type. His entire life has been devoted to the pursuit of musical study and teaching. Music is his avocation as well as his vocation. He commenced his career as an organist in London more than twenty five years ago, with the position of choir director in one of the largest Anglican churches in the British capital. For the past twenty years he has made his home in this country and he is now recognized as one of the foremost organists in the northwest. He is dean of the Portland chapter of the American Guild of Organists. Professor Goodrich will give three groups of numbers in the concert tonight.

Miss Melton's appearance is awaited with great interest for it will mark her debut before a Salem audience. With the training gained as the result of years of study with such masters as William Sherwood, Wagner Swayne, Harold Bauer, Severin Eisenberger and Theodor Leachetzky and with several years of concert experience Miss Melton's appearance on a program adds immensely to its attractiveness.

Miss Nellie Schwab, soprano, and Leslie Springer, baritone, are two local singers who will appear in a group tonight. Both are the possessors of splendid voices well trained.

The concert will open at 8:15 this evening. This is the third in the series sponsored by the MacDowell club. Madame Freda Stjerna, Swedish American soprano, and Royal Dammun, baritone, are the two artists of national renown who will appear under the MacDowell club auspices later in the musical season.

The Oregon Civic League, the Portland Federation of Women's Organizations and the American Association of University Women are jointly giving a luncheon in the crystal room of the Hotel Benson, Saturday at 12:15 p. m. for a discussion of international relations and a world court. The principal address will be given by Judge Charles H. Carey, who will speak on "Why the United States Should Participate in a World Court." Mrs. A. W. Cooney, regional director of A. A. U. W., will tell of the interest of that organization in a world court.—Oregon Journal.

Mrs. J. C. Mullen entertained the members of the "Idle Hour" club at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The first part of the afternoon was spent in sewing after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

In the group were Mrs. W. J. Lebold, Mrs. M. Dearing, Mrs. Teeters, who were special guests, and Mrs. V. M. Clark, Mrs. E. G. Gritton, Mrs. Thomas Tuseen, Mrs. Elton Rae and the hostess, Mrs. Mullen.

Miss Elizabeth Levy prizes as her choicest possession the violin which she had the opportunity to purchase more than a year ago from the private collection of Caesar Thompson, her eminent teacher. It is a violin which she selected personally for Miss Levy. It is the work of Antonio Groggiani, a master craftsman who lived in Legheno, Italy, more than two hundred years ago. Groggiani made the instrument for a girl and it is said to possess tonal qualities especially suited to a woman's bowing. It has been endorsed as genuine by some of the leading firms of the east. Miss Levy will use this violin in her home coming concert next Wednesday evening in the First Christian church.

Members of the T. H. D. club will meet on Monday evening at the home of Miss Pauline Patterson.

Hiding a rash won't heal it Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail, and only serve to draw attention to the defects. Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment. It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm. Benefit Tea Yesterday Successful

Generally accorded to be one of the outstanding social affairs of the season was the silver tea sponsored yesterday by the Salem Women's club for the benefit of the scholarship fund maintained by the Oregon Federation of Clubs. More than two hundred and fifty prominent Salem women were guests at the club house during calling hours yesterday. Between fifty five and sixty dollars will be added to the scholarship fund as the result of the tea.

Wreath of winter greenery, red carnations, and potted plants were attractively arranged in the drawing room of the club house. In the receiving line were Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, president of the club, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. George H. Alden and Mrs. J. A. Churchill.

Assisting about were Mrs. W. P. Fargo, Mrs. Seymour Jones, Mrs. B. E. Carrier, Mrs. Harwood Hall, Mrs. Ronald Glover, Mrs. L. H. McMahon, Mrs. Max Buren, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. W. D. Clark, Mrs. G. R. Bonnell, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Miss Frances Richards, Mrs. H. T. Love, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. A. M. Chapman, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. C. A. Kella, Miss Leora Carver, Mrs. Morton E. Peck, Miss Margaret Cooper and Miss Mattie Beatty.

The tea table was very attractive with a huge black bowl filled with greenery and red carnations. The color plan was completed with black luster candlesticks and red candles. Preceding during the afternoon were Mrs. W. C. Kantine, Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Mrs. C. P. Biehop and Mrs. Henry Bean. Assisting in serving were Mrs. E. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Horace Williston, Mrs. Carl Becke, Mrs. C. E. Bates, Mrs. T.

Other officers chosen were First vice president, Mrs. F. J. Boedertfeld; vice president of northern deanery, Mrs. John Tall, Astoria; vice president of central deanery, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Salem; vice president of southwestern deanery, Mrs. W. E. Couper, Marshfield; vice president of southeastern deanery, Mrs. P. K. Miss Elizabeth Levy prizes as her choicest possession the violin which she had the opportunity to purchase more than a year ago from the private collection of Caesar Thompson, her eminent teacher. It is a violin which she selected personally for Miss Levy. It is the work of Antonio Groggiani, a master craftsman who lived in Legheno, Italy, more than two hundred years ago. Groggiani made the instrument for a girl and it is said to possess tonal qualities especially suited to a woman's bowing. It has been endorsed as genuine by some of the leading firms of the east. Miss Levy will use this
