Shaft and George A. Smith. Demurrer has been filed in circuit court by C. Y. Hule to the complaint of Rosie Battalion charging Hule with slander. The state has filed a demurrer for W. E. Crews, corporation commissioner, in the suit brought against Crews by the Standard Gold Mining company seeking to force Crews to accept $10 as a license fee, rather than $50 which Crews alleges is due his department. The suit is of wide interest to mining companies. Charles Glenn, sheriff of Malheur county, was in Salem yesterday bringing four prisoners to the penitentiary. Sheriff Slusher, of Clatsop county is here to return to Astoria L. Hendrickson, arrested in Silverton for Astoria officials on a forgery charge. The Willamette river will reach a point 15 or 20 feet above normal some time Sunday, according to word received this afternoon by Clarence Oliver, official government observer for Salem, in a communication from the Portland office. The communication reads as follows: Albany 15.3 rising, Jefferson 13 feet midday, now 11.5. Crest at Salem probably 19-20 feet Sunday. This would indicate that the Santiam river is now falling, but that the Willamette is still rising. At 2:00 o'clock this afternoon the Willamette at Salem was 17.2 above normal, a rise of .9 since seven o'clock this morning. CARD OF THANKS We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors for the beautiful floral offerings and words of sympathy received during the sickness and death of our little one. —Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Kleen and family. 26

Plans River Steamer Line Up Willamette Frank J. Smith, "Steamboat Smith" of Portland, was in Salem today scouting into the possibility of a new steamer line to operate on the Willamette river between Salem and Portland. The Northwestern, the steamer now making the run, is chartered by the Salem Pulp & Paper company from its Portland owners, he says, and the directors of the company are to call a special meeting tomorrow to determine whether or not they will be willing to relinquish the business to a private steamer company. His company, if it decides to go into the business, will operate the year round, Mr. Smith says, and furnish a passenger as well as a freight service. "If we go into it we'll go into it right," he stated, "with the idea of working up a permanent business. The trouble in the past has been that there have been too many sporadic attempts by people who didn't have the proper equipment." He has worked with river steamers all his life, he says, running on the Willamette 52 years ago. STAYTON LUMBER FIRM UNDER FORECLOSURE Another, and perhaps the final chapter in the troubles of the Brown-Petzel Lumber company of Stayton, which was considered by everyone a prosperous and going concern up to a few weeks ago, came yesterday when a default order was signed by Judge Kelly along with a decree providing for foreclosure on the lumber company's properties at Stayton. The foreclosure is to cover debts aggregating $17,000 and in addition attorneys' fees for $750 and interest covering a considerable period of time. The $17,000 represents sums borrowed by the lumber company from various people but all under one assignment. The First State Bank of Stayton is one of the plaintiffs. ESCAPED TRUSTY CAUGHT William Lovevace, who escaped from the state prison October 7, 1922, while employed as a trusty, is in custody in Los Angeles, according to a telegram received by Warden Dalrymple yesterday from Chief of Police Heath of that city and an officer will leave at once to return him here. Lovevace, alias Frank Smith, was received from Union county September 28, 1919, to do one to ten years for assault with intent to commit rape. At the time he was only 14 years old. He was paroled March 23, 1918, and returned and sent to the insane hospital October 5, 1918. September 26, 1919, he was transferred from the insane hospital to the penitentiary and was again paroled April 7, 1920. He was again returned to the penitentiary May 28, 1921, and escaped October 7, 1922. CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the beautiful floral offerings at the interment of our father. —J. A. Kapphahn, E. L. Kapphahn, Frank Kapphahn, Warner Kapphahn. 26

The mask is made from the upper part of a woman's stocking, evidently, and has two slits cut in it which could be conveniently used as eye holes. Sandford is explaining possession of the article declared that he used it in the Spokane country where the cold was intense, to pull down his ears when he was riding box cars.
