THIELSEN BUYS LANSING RANCH SELLING HOME

A deal has just been closed whereby Fred Thielsen, manager of the Rodgers Paper company, becomes possessor of the beautiful E. Y. Lansing place on the Jefferson road about a mile east of the junction of the Jefferson and Liberty highways. As a part of the deal the Thielsens exchange their home property at Lincoln and Rock streets and there the Lansings contemplate making their home. Both of the properties are show places. The Thielsen property is immediately adjoining the new $100,000 home of T. A. Livesley on Fairmount hill, overlooking the Willamette river and the Polk county hills.

The Lansing home is not visible from the Pacific Highway setting a short way back in the hills. It is a wonderful place, however, a large country residence modern in every particular with hardwood floors, and to convey an idea as to the type of home it is, it may be stated it boasts of five fireplaces. Along with the home goes 87 acres of land. This includes acreages of prune, apples and cherries, and also a good sized block of English walnuts.

Mr. Thielsen states that it is his present plan to keep the farm land intact and place a caretaker in charge of the farming operations. Eventually, however, he contemplates cutting up the farm land, keeping about 10 acres of it in connection with his new home. Consideration on the deal was not given out as a trade of the two properties constituted a part of it.

DID GROUNDHOG STAY OUT LONG ENOUGH TODAY?

This bids fair to be remembered in Salem's history as the year of the great ground hog controversy. Two distinct schools of thought on the ground hog question came to light today, this being ground hog day, one averring beyond peradventure of a doubt that the ground hog comes out of his hole, snoops about a bit in the early morning hours and if he finds the sun is shining, returns to his hibernation for another six weeks. The other school of thought declares that the ground hog comes out of his hole early in the morning, snoops around all day and if the sun shines any time during the day, goes back into his hole and stays there.

Adherents of each school of thought pooh-pooh at the theory advanced by adherents of the other school. Each is firmly convinced that his own theory is the only correct one. Consequently, if the first school is correct good weather is due for the next six weeks, and an early spring, and if the second school of thought is right, bad weather may be expected, as the ground hog saw plenty of sunshine if he stuck around outside all day today—and incidentally he also got wet.

The weather alone will determine which school has the right dope.

RECIPROCAL INCOME TAX ENGLAND AND DENMARK

Geneva, Feb. 2.—What league of nations officials regard as an important development in connection with the problem of double taxation has been revealed by Denmark with the league treaty signed by Denmark and Great Britain for reciprocal exemption from income tax in certain cases of profits accruing from the business of shipping.

A special commission of the league is studying double taxation questions to find a remedy for the payment of incomes taxes by firms or individuals in two countries and the Danish-British agreement has created interest as establishing a precedent in one definite field of industry.

FLOOD OF BILLS MARK LAST DAY OF INTRODUCTION

The heroic painting "The Inception of the Birth of Oregon," which many people have viewed at Champoeg, Oregon, would be purchased by the state for $15,000, under house bill 306 introduced today by Hall, Washington county. The picture depicts meeting of pioneers at Champoeg when they voted for American rather than British control over the Oregon country. The picture is hanging temporarily in Governor Pierce's office where the legislators have viewed it. The canvass is the work of Gagnux, an artist of French descent.

A bill providing for the organization of improvement districts outside of incorporated centers was introduced by Representative Meindl, Multnomah county. The bill would provide for the organization of street lighting districts, sidewalks, streets, and other development, except water systems. Elections for the formation of such districts must be called by the county court or county commissioners upon petition of fifteen per cent of the voters residing in the district seeking such organization.

Removal of buildings or other improvements on lands mortgaged to the state land board would be punishable by a fine up to $500 and imprisonment of not more than six months under house bill 331 introduced by the committee on public lands.

Ability to read and write English intelligently would be a requirement for voters or contenders for office at school elections under house bill 325 introduced by Representative Hall, Columbia county. Parents of children of school age and residing in the district or tax payers would be qualified to vote. The chairman of the school board would be empowered to challenge any voter.

The state highway commission would be empowered to acquire scenic lands, camp sites, or other desirable property of historic or other special interest adjacent to highways of the state under house bill 323 introduced by Representative Ford.

A small blaze that caught part of a woodpile in the alleyway between State and Ferry streets and Commercial and Liberty caused a summons of the fire department shortly after 2 o'clock today. It was started by a gallon bucket of tar set over the fire box door to the Barr furnace by a truck driver who was repairing his truck across the alley. He went away and left the bucket of tar, which melted and ignited. A box is kept over the furnace door as a safety measure, but the truck driver was permitted to remove this sheetiron box on the supposition that he would watch the tar.

RECORD TRIP UP WILLAMETTE BY RIVER BOAT

A record trip up the Willamette from Portland was reported this morning by Captain Kruze, in charge of the river steamer Northwestern. The Northwestern last night made the trip through the locks at Oregon City with the water there the highest that it has ever been for any boat passing through in the history of river shipping, he states. Some shipping has been done above the locks with the water at higher levels than last night's, but no boat ever went through the locks before under similar circumstances.

A crew of men practically twice the strength of the usual crew was required to open the gates. After the boat came thru great difficulty was experienced in closing the gates slowly without allowing them to crash shut.

"We made the trip in about the usual time," said Captain Kruze. "The current was swifter, but we took advantage of a lot of eddies that don't usually exist. We cut a lot of corners—rode over a lot of wheat fields and potato patches."

The Northwestern discharged its cargo at Salem this morning. The boat will remain at dock here until the present flood waters subside, it has been announced. The probability was expressed that the trip back to Portland will begin sometime tomorrow morning. The boat is being cleaned and generally equipped for passenger service, and will be ready for inspection for a passenger license within a few days, it is said.

PEARL KUMLER GIVEN DIVORCE

Circuit Judge McMahan today decided the famous divorce case of Ovid Kumler against Pearl Kumler, reversing things by granting a divorce to the wife, when the husband was seeking it and also giving the wife her maiden name of Pearl Plank, and an undivided one-third interest in real property involved. The court also awarded the wife all of the household furniture and effects, save only that which she wished to give to her spouse.

The court also declared the allegation that she had had relations with one Jack Easter as untrue and also freed her from the stigma of other allegations as to infidelity included in the husband's complaint, asserting that these allegations were made to annoy and harrass the defendant. The court further found that the husband has an ungovernable temper.

BOOTLEGGERS ELECTED SCHALL?

Washington, Feb. 2.—Charges of extortion of upwards of $75,000 from Minnesota bootleggers for use in the senatorial campaign of Representative Thomas D. Schall are made in a petition of contest filed today in the senate by the defeated opponent, Senator Magnus Johnson, farmer-labor.

Senator Johnson alleges that the "extortion" was with the "knowledge and consent" of Mr. Schall and that the money was used in the campaign. He declared it came from persons indicted in Minneapolis and other cities of Minnesota for violation of the liquor laws.

The further allegation was made that a "dummy" judge was installed in the Schall campaign headquarters to give credence to promises of "protection" and "immunity."

SENATE PASSES FOUR BILLS AT OPENING SESSION

The senate today passed a bill by the Umatilla county delegation providing for an increase in salaries of Umatilla county officers and submitting the question to the people.

The senate passed a bill by Senators Davis and Dennis providing for the burial of the widows and children of indigent soldiers and sailors of the Civil war, Spanish war, Philippine insurrection and the Indian wars.

Representative Hammond's house bill authorizing the state land board to execute the trust created by the will of John T. Apperson, decreased, was passed by the senate today.

Mr. Apperson left a fund to send students to the Oregon Agricultural college and the bill legalizes administration of the fund by the land board.

A bill introduced by the Multnomah delegation in the house, permitting idle money of the interstate bridge fund to be invested in interest bearing securities was passed by the senate.

M'CARTY HERE SEEKING CHILD

Ignatius McCarty, confidential investigator with offices in the Mills building, San Francisco, has arrived here and officers are wondering what his visit has to do with citations which he caused to be served on his wife, Dorothy McCarty last summer. Dorothy McCarty is a niece of Rose E. Simon, prominent hop rancher in Mission Bottom, and she has been living with Miss Simon for some time. The citations McCarty caused to have served on her were issued out of a San Francisco court.

According to what can be gathered here the couple have separated, Mrs. McCarty bringing their child to Oregon and McCarty is endeavoring to get it back.

NO ACTION FOR ELECTING HEAD FOR WILLAMETTE

Nothing was done at the meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of Willamette university to indicate that a president might be selected at the coming meeting of the board. This statement was made this morning by Dr. B. L. Steeves, president of the board of trustees, and Dean George H. Alden, acting president of the university. The committee meeting, which was held last Saturday, had to do only with routine affairs of the institution, it is stated.

Affairs with regard to the presidency are in exactly the status they were two months ago, it is said. At that time there was some agitation among the students concerning Dr. Dubach, dean of men at the Oregon Agricultural college. None at present actively connected with Willamette have applied to succeed Mr. Doney, or are being considered for the office, it has been definitely stated by Dean Alden.

Nothing has been heard to indicate that Dr. Carl G. Doney, now president of the university, and now on a year's vacation in the east, is any more likely to return than he was two months ago. When he left Salem last summer his house was vacated and a quantity of his household goods sold at auction. Other articles were boxed and taken east, while some were stored and still remain in Salem, it is said.

Whether or not the question of a new president will be considered at the mid-year meeting of the trustees, which is set for February 10 at Portland, is not definitely known.

EITHER KUYKENDALL OR NEUNER GET JOB

That either Robert B. Kuykendall of Portland or George Neuner of Roseburg will be appointed United States attorney for Oregon is the latest indication contained in information received here from Washington. These two are the leading candidates for the office, and Senator Ritner has received a telegram from Senator Stanfield saying that one of the two probably will be appointed.

A few days ago when it appeared that a deadlock existed relative to the choice between Neuner and Kuykendall, a petition was circulated by Ritner and other asking the Oregon senators to recommend the appointment of Louis E. Bean of Eugene in the event it was found impossible to break the deadlock.

STONE SECOND TIME FAVORED

Washington, Feb. 2.—For a second time the senate judiciary committee today ordered a favorable report on the nomination of Attorney General Stone to be a supreme court justice.

The action was taken behind closed doors after senators had reviewed again the circumstances surrounding the new legal proceeding here against Senator Wheeler of Montana and the objections raised to Mr. Stone's argument before the supreme court years ago as counsel for the Morgan estate in the Ownbey case.

Administration leaders expect confirmation by the senate without much delay, opponents of the nomination having indicated they see little object in attempting a prolonged fight.

Members of the committee said there were no notes in opposition when the committee acted today, but that some of the senators withheld their votes.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, who is counsel for Senator Wheeler and who took the lead in cross examining the attorney general when he appeared before the committee last Wednesday, attended the committee meeting.
