FISH BOARD BILL PUT OVER UNTIL MONDAY

Some one suggested or even doubted as to whether it will be their identity.

Should development over the week end find the fish men still unable to break the bloc, it is anticipated that the bill will be passed by the simple majority they now hold, sent over to the house, where its passage by a two thirds vote is assured, and then concentrate their argumentative attacks upon the opposition in hopes of prying loose enough votes to overcome the veto that is sure to come. So far as can be learned no pressure of any kind has yet been brought to bear upon any senator to line him up.

Hopes were revived this morning that a compromise would be reached with the governor where by the game commission bill would be abandoned. Commissioner Price removed by the executive and replaced by a man suitable to the other members of the commission.

It was also pretty generally understood that few if any of the other measures directed at the governor's powers will be seriously pressed until there is more assurance that they can muster the required 40 votes in the house and 20 in the senate. In short, the hamstringing program now appears to have fallen flat.

Other members of the Pescawha crew are S. Bridges, J. Siverson, G. H. Rex, William Tickle and Pete Kenney.

CREW HELD AS RUM RUNNERS

Astoria, Feb. 5.—Bill in the sum of $5000 for Captain R. Pamphlet of the schooner Pescawha, and of $1000 for each of five members of his crew was set today when prisoners appeared before United States Commissioner H. K. Zimmerman, and waived preliminary hearing on charges developing from the seizure of the Pescawha by the coast guard cutter Algonquin as a rum runner. The Pescawha was captured off the Washington coast after it had rescued nine members of the shipwrecked crew of the schooner Caoba.

Captain Pamphlet stated he could raise bail for himself and the entire crew, but that it might require several days. At this suggestion the six will be taken to Portland.

Other members of the Pescawha crew are S. Bridges, J. Siverson, G. H. Rex, William Tickle and Pete Kenney.

After being removed to the Algonquin for a check, the slightly more than 1000 cases of liquor in the Pescawha's cargo was put aboard her again and sealed in the hold, preparatory to the removal of the schooner to Portland.

T. B. HOSPITAL FOR EASTERN OREGON URGED

Senator Jay H. Upton, Sadie Orr Dunbar and Grace Holmes last night urged upon the ways and means committee the proposal for a tuberculosis hospital in eastern Oregon. It is estimated that the cost will be $100,000, and if the state cannot afford to appropriate the money Senator Upton urged that a tax levy of one-tenth of a mill for two years be assessed for the purpose.

Asking an appropriation of $100,000 for premiums at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, G. M. Plummer, Judge C. H. Carey and Frank Robertson appeared before the committee. Only $65,000 was allowed by the session of 1923, which, it was claimed, was entirely inadequate.

The public service commission put in a request for $140,000, the sum which Governor Pierce and former State Treasurer Myers, as members of the budget committee, refused to recommend.

Dr. V. D. McNary of Pendleton, superintendent of the eastern Oregon hospital for the insane, appeared in behalf of that institution and advised the committee to increase his per capita estimate from $12 to $17.50. He also asked an appropriation for the construction of a new wing at the hospital at a cost of $28,000.

The Oregon historical society representatives appeared with a request for $22,000. The budget commission recommended $20,000.

The soldiers' home requested $82,430, which has received the approval of the budget board.

CLEAVER SAYS BOWER DOESN'T ENFORCE LAW

The last shred of evidence and testimony was gathered up by the prohibition department investigating committee yesterday, when George L. Cleaver, prohibition commissioner, was again on the stand. He was the last witness to be called, and rebutted in writing a statement in refutation of all previous testimony that was damaging to his case.

The committee will now begin to formulate its conclusions. The first session for the purpose will be held today at 5 o'clock p. m. Newspapers will not be permitted to attend.

Replying to Senator Haid, Cleaver said he believed he had done wrong toward District Attorney Tongue of Washington county in a letter written him on the subject of cooperation, and that he now cooperated and that he would co-operate Tongue a capable prosecutor.

Senator Eddy questioned Cleaver at length about his political activity. In the main he denied political activity in the counties, though he admitted that he had urged that someone be gotten by the field against Benton G. Burdick. Eddy asked Cleaver particularly if, during his participation in the LaFollette movement, he had used that political connection for or against any candidate for a state office. Cleaver explained that he had left the executive committee of the organization when it appeared that his presence on the committee might be a violation of the corrupt practices act because he held a state office, but said frankly that he had remained on the committee he probably would have urged the election of Jefferson Myers for state treasurer.

In minute detail Cleaver was questioned about his knowledge of the Labbe raid in Portland. In detail he told of the anonymous tip received about the Labbe home and of the advice from Governor Pierce to make the raid, and described in detail the conditions found at the Labbe home as told to him by his assistant, Willard Houston. Cleaver said he was not present in person. He said he admonished Houston to be very sure of his ground before he made the raid.

Asked to name sheriffs in Oregon who do not enforce the prohibition law, Cleaver named former Sheriff Zoeth Houser of Umatilla county, Cy Blingham of Grant, Low of Klamath, former Sheriff Wilson of Clatsop and Homer as not being good enforcers of the law were Truesdale of Grant and Moore of Jackson.

FLOOD FORCES SPAULDING'S SHUT DOWN

farmers' supplies being unloaded directly into a barn.
A current began flowing down the Willamette along for the first time yesterday afternoon.
All indications this afternoon pointed to higher flood waters than ever before in the history of the week. The Willamette river at Albany rose from 18.4 feet above normal last night to 20.1 feet above normal this morning. An increase of nearly two feet. The Santiam at Jefferson was more than 12 feet above normal early this afternoon, having risen more than a foot and a half since five o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A report given up by the weath or bureau at 2 p. m. today states that tomorrow the Willamette river at Salem will rise to between 21 and 22 feet above normal, going still higher Saturday.

The bank on the Polk county side of the river was several feet under water this afternoon.

Flood at Portland.

Portland, Or., Feb. 5.—Heavy rains in the past week have brought the Willamette river here to flood stage and the weather bureau predicts that if the rains continue a stage of 22 feet will be reached. The reading today was 17.5 feet. Basements on Front street were flooded today.

Highway Submerged

Eugene, Or., Feb. 5.—With the Willamette river at 14 1/2 feet in depth and steadily rising, automobile traffic to and from Eugene is virtually at a standstill for the time. The river has risen more than 6 feet during the past two days.

Water is spreading out over many acres along the Pacific highway, and at one place between here and Junction City it is more than two feet deep across the road. Traffic is being routed by the prairie road, through Irving, as passenger cars are unable to stay on the highway where the waters are swirling.

The Colburn road, another route to the north, is practically blocked off, and travelers have abandoned efforts to get through there.

The highway to the south is covered at Judkins Point near Eugene, but is still passable.

Work on the studios, which occupies 600 square feet of floor space, has been started and negotiations have been completed for erecting the towers and power plant 25 miles from Chicago.

William Hale Thompson, former mayor of Chicago, is president of the operating corporation.

CHINESE UNITY MEETING FAILS

Peking, Feb. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—China's unification conference, by which it was hoped that internal factional strife in the empire would end, today was headed toward the habit of misunderstanding, before it had formally organized.

The basis of misunderstanding was revealed today when the adherents of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, head of the government of South China, issued a manifesto in the name of the Kuomintang of people's party, declining to participate in the conference because it had not taken on Dr. Sun's plan for a "people's conference" as a basis for the reorganization of Chinese government.

Dr. Sun, who has been critically ill here since he was operated upon about ten days ago, proposed, according to his adherents, that the "people's" conference should be held after a preliminary meeting by Chinese leaders held in Peking. This plan, the manifesto says, had received assurance of support throughout the country, whereas the same assurances have not expressed a like faith in the conference, which was called by the provisional government and attempted an organization meeting on last Sunday. No meetings have been held since.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR AUTO CRASH

D. J. Misslan of California is named in a suit for damages filed by Mrs. Fanny M. Bullock of Monmouth in the Marion county circuit court, charging Misslan, now in Salem, with reckless driving which resulted in an auto accident on the West Side highway 2 1/2 miles north of Monmouth last evening at 4:30 o'clock.

Summons was presented at the office of the justice of the peace here this morning for the appearance of Misslan. In the complaint Mrs. Bullock states that she met Misslan on the highway, while driving care, and that Misslan was going at a high rate of speed, on the wrong side of the highway, and that as he veered over to the right side his tires skidded and the machine crashed together, resulting in a wreck and in injuries to her.
