PORTIA MANSFIELD DANCERS

Two of the dancers who will appear at the Grand theater February 13 under the sponsorship of the Civic Music club.

Mansfield Dancers Athletes

Awakening greater interest and receiving more ardent support than the majority of concert attractions billed for this season is the scheduled appearance of the Portia Mansfield dancers in the Grand theater on February 13. They are coming to Salem under the sponsorship of the Civic Music club, in the third of the club series, and many who are not holders of season tickets will be purchasers of seats for this concert.

The program which the dancers will offer is a widely varied one and embraces almost all types of dancing—Greek, aesthetic, national and interpretive. One of the most dramatic examples of modern interpretative dancing is the "Chacon Arabes," danced to the music from "Scherzhazade," "Ruins of Athens." Jeanne Fuller of an Arabian dancing girl, captured by pirates, and includes a thrilling Dervish dance by the girl, as her religious supplication for deliverance, to the Whirling Dervish music from Beethoven's "Ruins of Athens." James Fuller does the Dervish dance and a dashing pirate dance by Jack Daw is also included in this number.

Another sensational number which will be given is the "Saturnalia," danced to a Rachmaninoff prelude. This dance depicts a celebration of the Roman Saturnalia with the young athletic living over again the contests recently held. This gives an opportunity for a display of brilliant technique and wonderful athleticism for which the Mansfield Dancers are noted.

Each year this unique dance combination spends the summer at the Perry-Mansfield camp in the Rocky mountains, where their time is given to dancing, riding and outdoor sports of all kinds. This dance depiction of the Saturnalia is sheer joy to them with its harding, wrestling and chariot racing. They revel in the opportunity afforded for graceful, amazing leaps, flying cartwheels and acrobatic posturings, for which their supple bodies have been trained. The "Saturnalia" is danced entirely by girls which makes some of the Serious operation avoided Resinol healed stubborn sore

Elyria, Ohio, March 11:—"I feel it my duty and pleasure to thank you for the wonderful cure your Resinol cure has wrought for my husband, who suffered from an open sore on the back of his neck for four years. Several doctors said that it was a cancer and advised its removal, but it was so near the base of the brain that we feared an operation. I had found Resinol Ointment so effective for cuts, burns and similar things that I induced my husband to try that. After using only two jars of Resinol, the sore entirely healed—every trace of it has disappeared. Resinol certainly was a God-send to us!" (Signed) Mrs. E. E. Kennedy, 243 E. 8th St.

tests the more astonishing. A group of sixty pupils of Mrs. Ralph White are planning a line party to the Grand on the evening that the dancers appear here.

Miss Frances Virginia Melton presented a program at the meeting of the Salem Music Teachers' association which met Monday evening in the Frank Churchill studio. Included were several numbers which Miss Melton gave at the MacDowell club program last week.

More than seventy five members of the Leslie ladies aid society were entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. A. Rhoten on south High street with members of the Woodburn ladies aid society as special guests. Baskets of gorgeous daffodils were attractively arranged about the living rooms of the Rhoten home adding a pleasing color note.

Following a short business meeting in which plans were made for a cooked food sale at Paule and Krueger's grocery store tomorrow, an interesting musical program was given for the pleasure of the group.

Mrs. William McCall, president of the society, gave two piano numbers—a Polish Dance and a new arrangement of "The Last Rose of Summer." Mrs. W. J. Linfoot sang "I Love Nae' Laddie but Ane," and as an encore number she gave "My Ain Follie." Mrs. McCall accompanied her. Miss Lucile Rhoten, accompanied by Miss Miller, gave "In the Garden of My Dreams," and an encore number, Mrs. Watson gave two readings which were also greatly enjoyed.

One of the most pleasurable features of the afternoon was the history of the Leslie church from early days to the present which was given by Mrs. V. W. Ohmart. A student at Willamette in the very early days, and a member of Leslie church when it was on the regular circuit with

Snowdrift

In any weather

Snowdrift never gets too hard or too soft, no matter what the weather. It is always creamy. When you start to "cream" Snowdrift with sugar, you find most of the hard work already done. It saves much time and trouble to have Snowdrift the right creamy consistency itself.
