MILL OPERATIONS BEING RESUMED ALONG SANTIAM

Mill City, Or., Feb. 7.—The A. A. Shepherd logging camp at Gates has started up operations again, and their first movement of logs was today. This camp has been closed down since Christmas. Their logs are shipped to the Hammond Lumber company at Mill City.

Heavy rains continued throughout Thursday night, but it turned considerably cooler and new snow was noted on the tops of the mountains. The Santiam river dropped about two feet and is still going down. The Hammond Lumber company started planing Friday and the mill today.

The logging camp of the Hammond Lumber company at Larson is now operating again, for the first time since before the holidays. The first shipment of logs reached Mill City Tuesday.

J. A. Hagland and sons, contractors, who have been building the bridge for the new highway between Niagara and Detroit, moved their outfit from Hills, Thursday, having completed their work. Two short stretches of road remain to be completed in the spring when conditions will permit, it being estimated that it will take two months to complete. It is reported that during the recent storm, considerable dirt has slid on to the road, and observers are of the opinion that more will come down as soon as the road is cleared of the dirt now there.

On Saturday night, the Mill City high school basketball team will play the Parish junior high school of Salem on the local floor, and on Tuesday evening the Chemawa Indians will play here, both the boys' and girls' teams.

The Women's club of Mill City met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Gentry, continuing their study of India. During the evening, it was voted to donate $25 to the state federation of women's clubs scholarship loan fund, and $10 to the children's farm home located near Corvallis. The next meeting, February 23, is guest day, when the ladies entertain their better halves with a big banquet and entertainment, this meeting having the full approval of the male side of the house.

Despite the recent inclement weather numerous signs of spring are in evidence, it being noted that the lilac bushes and all buds out and early bulbs are about ready to bloom. Garden fans are getting out their tools and starting to work the ground.

GRIFFITH BACK FROM INSPECTION

George P. Griffith, state commander of the American Legion, returned last night from eastern Oregon after a three-day visit with Legion posts in Waco, Moro and Grass Valley. A joint meeting of the three posts at Grass Valley, where 90 per cent of the men eligible for membership in the Legion have been signed up, was pronounced very successful by Mr. Griffith.

Carl Moser of Portland, state adjutant, accompanied Mr. Griffith on the eastern Oregon trip. Posts in Hood River and The Dalles were on the itinerary of the state officers' trip, where they found big, strong posts and good turnout at meetings. District conferences in the six districts of the Legion organization in Oregon will be held next month, according to Mr. Griffith, and he and Mr. Moser will attend all of them.

BAN PLACED ON GLARING LIGHTS BY COMMITTEE

Glaring headlights and spotlights that dazzle and bob about into other people's eyes will vanish at midnight August 31, 1924, under terms of house bill 264 which will be reported favorably by the house roads and highways committee. The bill with its amendments incorporates ideas gained from research of a special committee named early in the session to make a study of traffic regulations.

The bill would call for the "eight point" test of the United States bureau of standards for determining headlight standards. The standardization would mean that a certain amount of light would be distributed in front of a machine at specific points with the level avoided.

Only one spotlight, so fixed as to throw its beam at a certain point on the right hand side of the car would be permitted. Such light would have to be so attached as not to be movable except with tools.

The measure would also provide for establishment of test stations where car owners could have their lights regulated to meet the requirements of the law. It would also provide that manufacturers of lenses and reflectors would have to obtain approval of the secretary of state's office before putting their products on sale in the state.

Central Howell

Central Howell, Or., Feb. 7.—The Progressive Teachers club held its regular bi-monthly meeting at the Central Howell school house last evening. Principal Carl T. Morris of the Hazel Green school led the discussion of arithmetic. Miss Francis Kirsch of the Central Howell school analyzed chapter 11 of "The Child's Mind" and the Common Branches, which the club is studying as a reading circle book and for professional advance. Plans for the next meeting to be held at the Central Howell school house on February 19 were discussed and an invitation is to be extended to all rural teachers who are interested in their profession to attend the meeting, bringing with them the problems that are daily impeding the classroom work.

As usual the question box was the salient feature of the evening. The problems it contained were very interesting and taxed the experience and ability of the club to the utmost to formulate solutions for the various cases submitted. A special meeting for visitors is to be given on February 19.
