BE CAREFUL ACCIDENTS IN SALEM

Hugh McCain, Salem, route 2, and A. C. Bohrer, 1775 Fairmount Ave., Salem, had a slight collision yesterday. A little damage was done both cars.

WARNING TO CLEAN UP ISSUED BY INSPECTOR

"No arrests have been made yet this year for improper disposal of garbage and improper disposal of unsanitary conditions to exist around Salem property, but I noticed things on a tour of inspection yesterday that will cause arrests if not remedied promptly," asserted Batty Cooper, city sanitary inspector, this morning.

Warnings were given yesterday by Mr. Cooper whenever possible, and he intends to follow up these warnings by arrest if the conditions are not immediately remedied.

"Indiscriminate scattering of garbage in alleys is going to cost some people some money in fines," declared Mr. Cooper.

"A meeting of the health and police committees and attended by the city attorney and the city health officer resulted in the enjoining to me of the job of keeping Salem property and streets and alleys sanitary and I'm going to do my part," said Cooper.

Special attention should be paid by property owners to the cleaning up of any potential breeding place for flies, said Mr. Cooper. Owners of barns within the city limits are warned to keep them as clean as possible.

LIFER TELLS STORY OF $400,000 MAIL ROBBERY

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 12.—Herb Wilson, preacher, bandit, murderer and "lifer" from San Quentin here today the underworld story of the organization of the gang that is alleged to have planned the $400,000 mail truck hold-up in March, 1921.

The atty dressed little convict took the stand as the prosecution's first witness in the trial of his brother Frank, Jack Elerick and Joe Bertsch, his former pals, while the court room bristled with guns in the hands of officers to prevent any attempt on the life of the informer.

3 GREAT MEN BORN FEBRUARY 12

Those who scoff at astrologers, stellar things and the theory of being born under a lucky star will sit up and take notice when they are apprised of the following:

That today is the birthday of J. T. Hunt, county judge of Marion county.

That today is the birthday of U. G. Boyer, county clerk of Marion county.

Incidentally it may be remarked it also is the birthday of a certain Abe Lincoln, born many years ago in a cabin.

All of which indicates that when three great men, are born under the same auspicious conjunction of stars and constellations there must be something to the astrologer's art. At least the county judge and county clerk are convinced of it, and both admit that it is quite a coincidence that so many great men should have their birthdays on the same date.

DRY PROBERS UNABLE TO AGREE UPON PROGRAM

The recommendations signed by Hare and the four representatives follows in full:

"A better machinery should be provided for the enforcement of the prohibition laws than the act providing for the appointment of a Prohibition Commissioner and agents to be selected by the governor."

"The fines and forfeitures obtained by the various counties in the enforcement of the prohibition laws should be expended for the purpose of enforcing the various prohibition acts. The major portion of the money thus obtained should be expended under the direction and control of the district attorneys and sheriffs of the various counties. Their work should be supplemented by a 'flying squadron' of carefully selected and competent law enforcing officers to be selected by the attorney general and required to cooperate with the various law enforcing officers of the state. These officers will be able to perform valuable service in working and cooperating with the sheriffs. Disregard for law is a more serious menace than the evils resulting from the liquor traffic. The duty of enforcing the laws should be placed squarely upon the shoulders of sheriffs and district attorneys and they should be assisted by the state officers to be selected as hereinbefore stated."

The recommendations signed by Hare and the four representatives follows in full:

"We recommend the continuation of the present law creating the office of prohibition commissioner, but that there be a change in the commissioner without delay."

"We recommend that the funds available for the enforcement of the prohibition law be increased to twice the amount of the present sum."

PIERCE NAMES INVESTIGATORS OF VALE DISASTER

Governor Pierce today appointed a special committee of three citizens to investigate the cause of the collapse of the Bully creek dam in Malheur county, the result of the flood that followed. Judge William Doby, member of the state highway commission; J. H. Raley, Pendleton attorney, and Fred Phillips, rancher of Baker, were appointed.

"The recent collapse of the Bully creek irrigation dam and the ensuing damage caused by the flood waters are matters of great concern to the people of Oregon," said the governor, "first, because of the damage wrought to farms and homes in the vicinity of Vale, and second, because of the possible effect on the Warm Springs irrigation project in which the state is greatly interested by reason of its guarantee of interest payments on their bonded indebtedness. In order that authoritative and immediate information may be had in reference to conditions there, I have appointed a committee of three men."

"These men have been instructed to proceed at once to the scene of the disaster and fully report on the cause, the financial losses sustained, the probable cost of rehabilitation, and especially what effect the flood and the damage done will have on the Warm Springs irrigation project."

PLAN TO LEVY TAX TO RAISE $1,000,000

La Grande and Portland citizens are asking the legislature for a tax on the amount of the state's bonded indebtedness before the committee last night. The total appropriation asked for armories by five different towns that want them is $460,000. It is not likely that a single one will be granted. An attempt was made in the committee last night to get an adverse report on all the armory bills, but this was blocked by Senator Flisk, who is interested in an armory for Forest Grove.

Senator Taylor of Pendleton last night presented the cause of the Union county stock show. R. J. Hendricks, Salem publisher, asked the committee to allow the $39,049 asked by Governor Pierce for the prison tax plant revolving fund, and a claim for $7000 was entered in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Holmes of Salem, whose small son was killed in an elevator at the state house several months ago.

J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools, spoke for the proposed $22,000 appropriation to maintain two high school inspectors for the state, and Churchill and Representative Kirkwood appeared in behalf of the Americanization bill, which carries a $20,000 appropriation.

The W. C. T. U. children's fund some of Benton county is $25,000 for $50,000, at which $25,000 would go for a school building and $15,000 for a new cottage. The home was represented by Judge Walter H. Evans and Ada Wallace Urush of Portland and by Superintendent Webb of the home.

Chas. M. Mulkey and others appeared in behalf of the proposed increase from $3000 to $4000 in the salary of J. D. Mickle, state dairy and food inspector. Representatives of the engineers' union asked the committee to recommend to the state board of control increases in the salaries of engineers at state institutions.

A claim for $50 was placed by Mrs. Lucy Whitney for injuries received while she was an inmate of the state industrial school for girls.

PIERCE NOT INTERESTED IN FISH LEGISLATION

"Fish, fish, gentlemen, what do I care about fish? Don't you know I always have been against fish, they come in competition with my particular product—beef."

So said Governor Pierce recently to a delegation of packers that had waited on him to discuss matters of fish legislation with him, according to a well known fish packer who was one of the delegation.

And the packers went away wondering what chance they had in this world, anyway.

RESCUE SHAFT IN LIMESTONE CAVERN TOP

The breathing sounds previously heard over the electric light wires leading down to Collins, has left his condition—whether alive or dead—open to anybody's guess.

The hope which still drives the rescue workers at top speed is that a tunnel or cavern leading to Collins will be found at the bottom of the shaft within a few hours. The best of engineering skill has failed to determine just how close to Collins' prison the rescue shaft may strike, due to the tortuous windings of the original Sand cave tunnel.

The shaft starts 13 feet back from the mouth of Sand cave, but in their calculations of the direction, distance and windings of the tunnel, the engineers were unable to map the tunnel down as far as Collins because of the cave-ins which sealed his prison in that direction.

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 12.—(By Associated Press.)—The official bulletin at 9 o'clock this morning, issued by M. E. S. Posey, engineering representative of Governor Fields, said that the depth of the Sand Cave rescue shaft was "about 45 feet." He gave nine o'clock Saturday night as the maximum time in which the shaft would reach the maximum depth to which it will be driven.

"We appear to be close to the roof of the cave and have speeded up the excavation to the rate of 10 feet in 24 hours," Mr. Posey's statement said. "There is great possibility of finding an opening at any time. Tunneling will start if Collins has not been uncovered when the shaft reaches 68 or 70 feet."

At 10 o'clock this morning Collins had been underground 13 days and his voice was last heard a week ago.

Amplification tests across the electric light wires leading down to him had convinced physicians here that "breathing" sounds were being transmitted by the jangling of the carbon lamp on Collins' chest. These tests failed to record anything yesterday, but the physicians and radio experts refused to admit that this would indicate he was dead. They believed only that the light had burned out, or fallen from its socket.

"There is a great possibility that at any minute we may strike a cavern leading to Collins," said Churchill, "on the other hand, we may find it necessary to go down 65 feet. If we find it necessary to go that far we will begin tunneling in search of Collins because that is the maximum estimate of the depth of his prison chamber."

"I have been hoping since Tuesday to strike the limestone. I can make no definite estimate or statement when Collins will be extricated other than I expect to accomplish the work by Sunday."

FIND GLEDSTED UNFIT FOR OFFICER

Major Charles E. Gledsted, who recently made charges of small irregularities in the office of Adjutant General White, was yesterday adjudged by an efficiency board of the Oregon national guard to be unfit for a military officer and has been relieved of his commission.

The board was composed of Col. H. O. Welch, commander of the 186th infantry; Col. Eugene Moebberger, commander of the 162nd infantry and Col. Eugene C. Libby, of the 186th infantry.

The charges made against White by Gledsted were investigated and found without basis.
