Variety In Week's Activities

Taking into consideration the proximity of the Lenten season, the week which closes today has been an unusually quiet one. Possibly the interesting sessions at the state house may have something to do with the apparent lassitude of Salem society. One could scarcely plan any elaborate evening affairs, knowing that special sessions and important committee hearings would be of primary interest to many included in the guest lists.

The past week has been marked however, with several delightful bridge parties, which from the degree of sheer pleasure afforded the guests and the attractiveness of details, have not been exceeded during the entire season. Mrs. Guy O. Smith was hostess to two outstanding affairs when she entertained at six tables of bridge on Tuesday and nine tables of five hundred on Wednesday. On Thursday Mrs. Dillard A. Elkins and Mrs. William Marshall entertained at an afternoon of bridge honoring a group of legislators' wives, guests in Salem. Another charming bridge tea was given by Mrs. Otto Hoppes on Wednesday when twenty enjoyed the afternoon of bridge and seven additional guests came in at the tea hour.

A number of prominent society women who are leaving very soon on trips to the southland and abroad have been complimented at small, informal affairs by various groups of their intimate friends. Other matrons have entertained informally at the tea hour for wives and daughters of legislators.

Women interested in matters civic and political were primarily concerned this week in the first open forum meeting of the Salem branch of the National League of Women Voters which Dr. Walter H. Brown addressed on Wednesday. In church circles the reception for Dr. and Mrs. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick on Thursday evening was outstanding.

The old fashioned dance sponsored by the Tillamook club on Tuesday evening was unique. More than sixty couples "polkaed," square danced and schottleched, attired in costumes of various fashions. A number of delightful dinner parties preceded and followed the dance.

Club women are closing an active week for more than two dozen clubs and organizations held scheduled meetings during the past week.

Miss Genevieve Campbell and Miss Sylvia Woods will be guests at the Beta Kappa house at Corvallis over the week end.

The regular business meeting of the United Artisans was held in McCornack hall on Thursday evening. Cards were enjoyed following the business session. Plans were discussed for the George Washington costume party which will be given on Thursday evening. A dance and program will be included in the evening's entertainment to which all members and their friends will be welcomed.

The March meeting of the Lincoln McKinley parent teacher association which will be held Tuesday evening in the McKinley school will be a strictly colonial affair. All of the members and guests will be asked to wear colonial costumes and prizes will be given for the most appropriate and complete costumes. Plans for the evening's colonial dance, the minut and Virginia reel, will be given by the gymnasium classes under the direction of Miss Mabel Stollard. Following a short business meeting a talk will be given by Dr. Walter H. Brown, head of the Marion county health demonstration.

Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., entertained her bridge club yesterday at tea, the first hostess in the second series. For the first round the club members entertain at luncheon and an afternoon of bridge. The second series consists entirely of bridge teas. Mrs. T. A. Livezey won the highest score for the entire series according to tabulations made yesterday. Second highest award was won by Mrs. William Walton.

Special guests of Mrs. Fry and the club yesterday were Mrs. R. E. Leo Steiner, Mrs. Harry Hawkins and Mrs. Fritz Slade.

Club members in the group were Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., Mrs. T. A. Livezey, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. William Walton, Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. David Eyre, Mrs. Frederick Lampert, Mrs. Harry Meyers and the hostess, Mrs. Fry. Mrs. David Eyre will entertain the club at tea in two weeks.

The drama department, under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Kirk, has arranged the program for the February social meeting of the Salem Women's club which will be held in the clubhouse next Saturday afternoon. The social committee in charge of the meeting will include, Mrs. Homer Gouley, Mrs. F. W. Spencer, Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Mrs. A. L. Wallace, Hal D. Patton, Mrs. R. E. L. Steiner, Mrs. C. H. Robertson, Mrs. J. T. Whittig, Mrs. W. J. Culver, Mrs. Erwin Smith, Mrs. and Mrs. M. A. Yessal.

Miss Margaret Pierce and Miss Catherine Hartley, students at Oregon Agricultural college, are spending the week end with their parents.

All Happy

Mr. and Mrs. R. O'Leary delightedly entertained the Lone Star club in their home last night. Five hundred was the diversion of the evening with high score going to Mrs. O'Leary and low to A. R. Honce.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. J. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Honce, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Seelye, Mr. and Mrs. R. Woodhill, Mr. and Mrs. William Yarnell, Mr. and Mrs. R. Magee, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Woodry and the hostess, Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary.

Mrs. Otto Hoppes was a delightful hostess on Wednesday afternoon when she entertained at five tables of bridge. A patriotic note was carried out in the red, white and blue of the decorations and clever Washington novelties were used both as bridge accessories and as luncheon favors. Red and white carnations were attractive about the rooms.

High bridge honors were won by Mrs. George Nelson. Consolation award was given to Mrs. Edwin Armstrong.

Guests of Mrs. Hoppes were Mrs. V. E. Kuhn, Mrs. Carl Armstrong, Mrs. Edwin Armstrong, Mrs. James Jennings, Mrs. Earl Dause, Mrs. Merritt Olling, Mrs. Earl Paulsen, Mrs. Reed Rowland, Mrs. George Nelson, Mrs. Oscar Zellar, Mrs. Oral Lemmon, Mrs. James Teed, Mrs. Armin Berger, Mrs. Thomas Rilea, Mrs. Laurence Imhah, Mrs. Birrell Adams, Mrs. Arthur Borgeson, Mrs. Harry Crain, Mrs. Paul Lardon of Scio and Mrs. William Perlich of Silverton.

Additional guests at the tea hour were Mrs. Herbert Plank, Mrs. Aubrey Johnson, Mrs. Clifford Townsend, Mrs. Jesse George, Miss Eulalia Lindsay, Miss Sylvia Marsters and Miss Marie Victor. Mrs. Oscar Zellar and Mrs. Paul Lardon assisted the hostess at the tea hour.

The Pringle Pleasant Point social club met at the home of Mrs. H. Harrison on the Silverton road on Thursday for an all day meeting. The group spent part of the time sewing on a quilt which will be completed at the next meeting. Dinner was served at noon.

During the program hour roll call responses consisted of short sayings in observance of Washington's birthday. Several readings were given by Mrs. Lund. Members in the group were Mrs. Potter, Mrs. Keyes, Mrs. Quinby, Mrs. Yates, Mrs. Coburn, Mrs. Vanderhill, Mrs. T. J. Clark, Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. Coates, Mrs. E. T. Jones, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. F. R. Clark and Mrs. Harrison. Among the guests were Mrs. Lund and Mrs. Elliott.

Mrs. C. T. Jones will entertain the club on March 5.

The "Marion" club was the name chosen for the social five hundred club recently organized which met yesterday at the home of Mrs. William Bushy.

Members of the club are Mrs. C. E. Caselt, Mrs. W. P. Fowle, Mrs. J. A. Bernardi, Mrs. R. C. Kriese, Mrs. F. J. Lalson, Mrs. H. Clay Taylor, Mrs. Elizabeth Lamb, Mrs. W. J. Colver, Mrs. F. E. Shaffer, Mrs. Walter Huchner, Mrs. G. W. Lafar and Mrs. William Bushy.

Additional guests of Mrs. Bushy yesterday were Mrs. H. H. Corey, Mrs. E. B. Loyd, Mrs. J. C. Siesmund, Mrs. W. I. Needham, Mrs. J. M. Duncan, Miss Marjorie Knox, Miss Betty Whitlock and Leoda Miles.

Attractive decorations with Washington mementoes predominating were used in the rooms of the Bushy home yesterday and five hundred was the diversion of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bernardi will have as their guests tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. George Hurley and son, Charles, Mrs. Martin Ludwig, all of Albany, and Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hurley of Portland.

Members of the Entre Nous club have been entertained at two delightful affairs during the past fortnight. On Wednesday February 11, Mrs. B. E. Cooper and Mrs. Orville Goble were joint hostesses to the club at the Entre Nous clubhouse. Valentine decorations were attractively arranged and the guests in Valentine costumes made a charming picture as they enjoyed several hours of dancing.

On Wednesday, at this week patriotic colors were used effectively in the decorations when Mrs. H. C. Hummel and Mrs. George Wenderoth entertained at the clubhouse with five hundred and dancing. High scores at cards were won by Mrs. Ralph Howard and Herbert Hale with consolation awards going to Mrs. Mary Gantenbein and H. A. Smart. Cape and favors of red, white and blue were given to each guest at the supper hour.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smart of Saskatchewan Canada. Friends of Miss Mary S. Matthis will be happy to hear that she is recovering from the effect of the second operation performed within a period of ten days. Miss Matthis is at the Portland Surgical hospital.

"Old Style" Dinner Is Unique

In keeping with the spirit of the "old fashioned dance," given by the Tillamook club in the Derby hall, on Tuesday evening of this week, an "old fashioned" supper was given by Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Fisher, at the home, to members of the club and special guests.

Members and guests were arrayed in costume and make ups reflecting the styles of attire and adornment of four and five decades ago, and the viands served and the entire service was in strict keeping with the unique occasion. Coal oil lamps and wax tapers provided the illumination and home made sausage formed the piece-de-resistance for the feast, supplemented by honey in the comb, stenciled moulded butter and other appropriate dishes. Table etiquette "proper" at that time was strictly followed.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Fisher, all of Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Davis of Portland.

Members of Chadwick chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet for a social afternoon in the Masonic Temple on Tuesday. All members are asked to bring their needlework. Mrs. J. A. Bernardi is chairman of the committee in charge and her assistants are Mrs. Arthur Welch, Mrs. Amos Vase, Mrs. W. V. Johnson, Mrs. H. K. Breedlove, Mrs. Clara Patterson and Mrs. Frank Rogue.

The Wallace Latin trophy which for three successive years has been won by the McKinley junior high school Latin classes and has now become the property of the school, is being exhibited for several days in the window of the Pomeroy and Keene store on State street. The trophy will be permanently hung in the hall of the McKinley school.

Miss Virginia Byrd of Portland is the week end guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Byrd.

Mrs. Lester Davis of Portland, has been the house guest during the past week of her brother and sister in law, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Fisher.

Miss Vivian Hargrove has as her house guest over the week end Miss Eva Randall, of Pendleton.

An interesting musical program will also be given during the calling hours. Among numbers already arranged are songs by Mrs. Phil Newmyer, numbers by the Eastern Star quartet, and readings by Mrs. T. E. McCroskey.

The affair is being given for the benefit of the scholarship loan fund maintained by the Daughters.

The St. Vincent du Paul Altar society was formed yesterday at a meeting at the home of Mrs. E. A. Thompson on north Capitol street. Plans were discussed by the group for furthering the work of the new society and officers were elected. Mrs. C. D. Thomas is president and the other officers are as follows: vice president, Mrs. E. A. Thompson; secretary, Mrs. E. A. Pruitt; financial secretary and treasurer, Mrs. B. F. Dimeler; managing committee, Mrs. Mary Hartman, Mrs. Dan Murphy and Mrs. Joseph Pfeiffer.

Sewing on linens and other necessities for the new church to be built in north Salem will be commenced immediately and the society will hold a cooked food sale in the Southern Pacific offices on north Liberty street on April 4.

The society will meet again at Mrs. Thompson's home on March 4.

The Southeast circle of the ladies aid of the First Methodist church met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. J. Swafford. Devotions were led by Mrs. M. C. Halvoren. After a short business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Ada Miller, the afternoon was spent working on missionary bonnets. During the social hour dainty refreshments were served.

Members present were Mrs. Ada F. Miller, Mrs. V. Pontius, Mrs. J. W. Phenice, Mrs. W. Lebold, Mrs. V. Barquist, Mrs. W. H. Kay, Mrs. M. C. Halvoren, Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. L. Bechtel, Mrs. E. R. Estes, Mrs. W. Proctor, Mrs. G. W. Eyre, Mrs. N. E. Savage, and the hostess, Mrs. E. J. Swafford. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eyre, 1973 Mill street.

Colonial Tea to Be Monday

Lace and ruffles, powdered hair and bewitching curls and the lovely costumes similar to those worn by the belles of the late eighteenth century will be in evidence at the colonial tea at which the chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will entertain at the home of Mrs. U. G. Shipley, on Monday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30. All of the Daughters assisting will wear colonial costumes.

Flags and other patriotic decorations will be arranged in the living rooms of the Shipley home for the occasion. In the dining room yellow daffodils and yellow candles in the silver candelabra will be used on the tea table.

At the door will be two small girls in costume, Miss Jane Harbison and Miss Margaret Heltzel. Mrs. Shipley will head the receiving line.

During the first hour Mrs. Seymour Jones and Mrs. C. C. Clark will pour. Tea table hospitalities will be dispensed during the second hour by Mrs. James Heltzel and Mrs. L. L. Patterson. Assisting in serving will be members of the committee in charge of the affair—Mrs. Homer Goulet, chairman, and Mrs. H. T. Love, Mrs. Harry Styles and Mrs. J. W. Harbison. Mrs. Frank Spears will also assist.

A general discussion meeting of the Civic Arts section of the Salem Arts league was held in the educational room of the library last night. Early spring planting was discussed by the group. The next meeting of the section will be held in two weeks in the library.

Little Miss Martha Byrd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Byrd, is suffering with a broken arm received several days ago in a fall.

At a meeting in the armory on Tuesday evening the Sons of Veterans auxiliary will entertain the Sons of Veterans at a six o'clock supper. A George Washington program will be given at this time.

The regular business meeting of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary will be held in the armory on Monday evening.

Mrs. C. C. Chaffee will entertain the Sweet Briar club at her home on Wednesday. A paper on Grecian art will be read to the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben P. Boies have as their house guest over the week end, Whitney Boies of Portland.

Mrs. W. H. Dancy received word yesterday from her sister, Miss Mabel Creighton, who is touring southern California at the present time as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Johnson of Portland, that she will return to Salem shortly after the first of the month.

Societies To Observe Prayer Day

Salem missionary societies will observe the Interdenominational Day of Prayer, which will be kept throughout the United States on Friday, February 27, at an all day service at the First Baptist church.

The morning session, opening at 10:30, will consist, in addition to the regular program, of an address by Mrs. Herbert Low of Portland. Mrs. Low will speak on missionary work among the foreign speaking peoples of the United States. Devotions will be led by Mrs. C. C. Poling.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Eugenia Phillips who has recently returned from a five year stay in South America. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Z. B. Mower. The speakers have been arranged for in addition to the regular program sent out from the central organization.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon with the women of the First Baptist church in charge of details.

More than five hundred friends of Dr. and Mrs. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick attended the reception given in their honor in the First M. E. church Thursday night. The affair was in charge of the pastor, Dr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick who will leave shortly for Chicago.

Officers of the church societies were in charge. In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Shanks, Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. McCormick and Miss Adelia White. Introducing to the line was Miss Mary Findley, director of religious education. President of the young people's societies received at the door.

A number of interesting talks were given and musical numbers also pleased the group assembled.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Steuelfoff and Mr. and Mrs. Breyman Boies are week ending at Pacific City. Mrs. George G. Brown entertained a group of prominent Corvallis matrons who motored over to attend a legislative session. In the group were Mrs. Richard Kigar, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Josephine Stewart who is house mother at the Pi Beta Phi house, and Mrs. Charles Gray, Kappa Alpha Theta house mother. Mrs. Frank Saedecor was also a luncheon guest of Mrs. Brown.

MANY TITLED MAN WORKS ON RAILROAD

Madrid—Few railroad passengers in Spain know that when they are making long distance journeys they are occasionally driven by a locomotive engineer who is a scion of one of the most aristocratic families of Spain.

This driver is a man of many titles. His name is Jose Maria Mendos Robledo de Palafox and he is entitled to wear the coronets, among other noble ranks, of Duke of Saragosa, Conde de los Arcos, Marques de Laza de Canizar, two of which carry with them the rank of Grandee of Spain.

For the past 29 years Jose de Palafox has preferred working as a railroad engineer to the enjoyment of the life of an aristocrat. Almost always he drives the train that carries King Alfonso on his travels through the kingdom, and when the journey is finished supervises the cleaning and oiling of his locomotive as does the ordinary engineer.

Salem Boy Succeeds As Artist

The Minneapolis Journal recently printed a story particularly interesting to Salem people when it told of the work of Elmer E. Young, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Young, 942 north Summer street, and brother of Francis Young. Mr. Young is an instructor at the University of Minnesota and has had his canvases shown at some of the leading exhibitions in the country. He was a student at Willamette university in 1912.

Excerpts from the Minnesota paper follow: Sometimes a man will feel—for a few moments only—that he would like to live forever with one of his own paintings, and sometimes he will "want to put his foot through it." Elmer E. Young, instructor in art at the University of Minnesota, said last night.

Mr. Young sat on the edge of his desk in his little office under the roof of the engineering building. He was looking quizzically at a water color "still life" painting, which had come very near suffering from the latter fate. Later it was chosen with others of his paintings to be shown in the 1925 combined exhibition of the American and New York Water Color clubs, just ended in New York.

Glowing, joyous colors filled the picture—luminous orange reds and clear deep blues, with a fragment of a broken violet colored jar to complete the color harmony.

A painting of the old Brown-dale mill just out of Minneapolis on the Minnetonka road, before it was torn down to make way for progress, was another painting shown. A third was "The End of Town," showing a glimpse of blue harbor and the masts and sails of fishing smacks, in the old town of Gloucester, Mass., around which Mr. Young spent a summer painting.

Mr. Young, who has drawn ever since he was old enough to hold a pencil, studied at the Chicago Art Institute, one of his instructors being George Bellows, the artist who died last month. Mr. Young said that Chicago was a friendly city to students who wanted to work their way through the institute—as soon as they knew the ropes. He admitted living on 15 cents a day until he "caught on," and by that time he had lost about as much weight as it was safe to lose.

Then he got along swimmingly by clerking in a shoe store Saturdays, serving as cashier at the institute lunch room Sundays, and sometimes ushering at a theater night.
