SCHOOL BOARD TO ACT TONIGHT ON SECRET SOCIETIES

the responsibilities accepted by them.

Meanwhile investigation of the situation is being carried on by school authorities. Superintendent Hug is to make a report tonight. At present there are constitutions of 12 high school organizations filed with him. Of these at least one, the Commercial Students' club, is defunct. All except two of the constitutions were filed several years ago, and the lists of names, where names are given, have long since ceased to be correct.

It is persistently rumored among various quarters that many of the constitutions were not authentic in the first place.

Some of the reports of constitutions filed are not signed at all; many are not signed by any faculty representative. The only two recent reports filed are those of the T. N. T. ("The Nice Twenty") and Phoenix clubs, both girls' organizations. Of these the Phoenix report is signed by a student, and examination of the T. N. T. report revealed no signature whatever. Other reports are by the following organizations:

J. C. club, T. A. club, Girls' Reserves, Friars' club, Snikpah Dramatic society, K. O. club, Commercial Students' club, Pres Publica Romana (Latin )club, K. C. Club, Cecilian Music club.

There are said to be 20 organizations in the school.

Present indications are that the controversy between high school authorities and Kirby Ross, which has helped bring the society problem to a head is itself dying down. Ross announced this morning that he stood ready to furnish a free lunch every noon to some teacher, to be selected from the high school faculty, and allow him to sit in his store and watch everything that goes on during the entire noon hour. This is regarded by school authorities as an agreement to "be good" on Ross' part. Following on the heels of his offer Ross has made the charge that gambling has been going on inside the school building itself. He claims that he can prove that boys have rolled dice on the floor of classrooms. Even girls have indulged in petty gambling by matching pennies, he claims.

Guy Smith, attorney for Ross, states that the charges of allowing gambling on his premises has been dropped. Smith indicated that the charge of selling soft drinks without a license, for which Ross was arrested last Saturday, might be dropped in view of the fact that Ross had made application for a license.

CRUELTY, DISDAIN AND DESERTION LEAD TO DIVORCE

Three more divorce suits have put in their appearance in circuit court.

In one of these a man named William B. Thomas is alleged to be the serpent that entered the Eden of A. H. and Mabel L. Hennies, according to the allegations of the husband. He declares that they were married in Turner in March, 1920. He asserts that his wife showed a preference for the company of William B. Thomas that grew into such a fondness she left her home with Thomas and that the two have sojourned together in several states, that he has received a letter from her saying she no longer cared for her husband, but preferred Thomas. He says that on a prior occasion he started proceedings for divorce in Maron county, but on the earnest plea of his wife withdrew the proceedings, but that she still sought and kept the company of Thomas.

Lulu E. Boring alleges that Gus V. Boring treated her cruelly, struck her and otherwise abused her. They were married in Colorado in October, 1903.

The champion case of disdain is set out in the pleadings of Millie Frost, who asserts that Oliver Frost, although her husband, has been so cold and distant to her that if they meet on the street he often turns away his head, or at the best greets her with a cold "How-de-do." She says he also scoffs at her religion and has in other ways harassed her. She alleges he is making an effort to secure the custody of their minor daughter, although she asserts he knows he cannot properly care for her. The wife wants divorce. They were married at Pendleton.

O. A. C. DEBATES HERE TONIGHT

The debate tonight between representatives of Willamette university and Oregon Agricultural college will be the first contest of its kind staged between the two schools in the memory of school authorities. Freshman teams of the two institutions have met; women debaters have clashed on the platform, but so far as can be remembered varsity teams of the two schools have never contested against each other.

Interest is added to the debate by the fact that each team is planning to make an extended tour later in the season. The O. A. C. forensic authorities have announced that they will send their team completely across the continent. The Willamette team is to go as far south as Los Angeles and as far east as Colorado.

Willamette will be represented by James McClintock and Joel Berreman. The question is "Resolved: that congress should be allowed to re-enact by a two thirds vote, federal legislation declared unconstitutional by the supreme court." Willamette will uphold the affirmative side of the question, having to change sides since the West Virginia contest, when the local team defeated the negative of the same question.

A single expert judge will be used in determining the winner.

NATION REQUUESTED TO MAINTAIN BATTLESHIP

The house yesterday adopted senate joint memorial No. 6 asking congress to enact legislation to send the battleship Oregon to Portland from the Puget sound navy yard and to provide money for its upkeep.

A bill designed to do away with the $15,000 annual appropriation made available by the 1923 legislature for upkeep of the Oregon in case it were sent here, was withdrawn yesterday afternoon.

Lieutenant-Commander John A. Beckwith, of the Oregon Naval Reserves; Lieutenant-Commander Daniel E. Barbey, navy recruiting officers, and Robert A. Sawyer, representing Spanish - American war veterans, appeared before the committee.

REESTABLISHMENT NORMAL SCHOOL AT ASHLAND IS VOTED

ator Miller had spoken against it. Ritner then moved that the bill be recommitted to the education committee with instructions to attach the referendum clause, declaring that if the legislature voted a school at Ashland the eastern Oregon measure would have no chance when it goes before the people. He predicted that eastern and southern Oregon would vote for the eastern Oregon school but that the Willamette valley counties would not. He added that the Willamette valley had always voted against normal schools.

Both Eddy and Taylor spoke in favor of Ritner's motion, Taylor declaring that eastern Oregon wouldn't get anything if the Ashland school was voted by the legislature.

Senator Dunn replied that the eastern Oregon members were unduly excited. His fear was that if the eastern Oregon, Seaside and southern Cregon measures all went to the people the electorate would not vote for any of them.

Senator Butler opposed the Ritner motion and asked for immediate action, expalining that he did not consider himself disloyal to eastern Oregon in doing so.

Miller also expressed fear that no normal school would be approved if the entire program were left up to the people.

Ritner's motion lost by a vote of 14 to 14, two members being absent.
