

$6,523,000 APPROPRIATIONS GET SENATE O. K.

Among a lengthy list of house bills passed by the senate Tuesday afternoon and last night were all the principal appropriation bills of the senate, aggregating $6,523,306.50. The largest appropriation item was that of $3,072,717 for the regular state institutions located at Salem, Pendleton, Roseburg and the blind school in Portland, which were embodied in one bill and totaled $7,074,717.

Usual in the passage of appropriation bills was the number of times that the ways and means committee ran onto an agenda of opposition from other members, and sometimes the ways and means committee members themselves were found voting in the negative, which caused President Moser and other members to ask why. The reply was that the members had been favored by a majority of the committee, but the senators in question had reserved the right to vote against them. The joint ways and means committee early in the session adopted a policy of returning no divided reports. Notwithstanding the dissonance all of the bills passed.

The stiffest snag was the bill from the ways and means for repeal of the starter mill road tax. This was bitterly opposed by several senators, led by Senator Hall, chairman of the roads and highways committee, who said he had not been informed that such was the intention of the committee. He tried in vain to have the bill committed to his committee. In the course of the senate Senator Toras was called upon to give a succinct statement of the state's financial condition and the methods proposed to solve it, which he did to the satisfaction of his questioners.

The fight was brought to an end when Senator Dennis said: "We all know that the governor and Jeff Myers called this thing all up by making a short tax levy. The republican party for once has been glib and fooled, led into the corral and snubbed up by the boy with the big white hat and the white-faced calves, and the only thing for us to do is to step up and take our medicine."

The vote on the repeal of the quarter mill tax was:

For—Beals, Brown, Davis, Dennis, Dunn, Eddy, Fisk, Hare, Johnson, Joseph, Kinney, LaFollett, Ritter, Staples, Strayer, Taylor, Toome, Zimmerman.

Against—Banks, Butler, Garner, Clark, Garland, Hall, Klepper, Miller, Upton, Moser.

Excused—Corbett, Magladry.

The bills for repealing half of the millage tax under the bonus and loan act, amounting to half a mill or about $300,000, and the bill for suspending state aid to the accident commission, amounting to about $175,000 for the biennium, passed without much trouble.

A warm fight was necessary on passage of the bill to appropriate $125,000 for construction of a training school at Independence for the Mountrail normal school. This was not recommended by most of the senate members of the ways and means committee and they opposed it on the floor. Eighteen senators voted for it.

FINE PROGRAM ON ANNIVERSARY

Silverton, Or., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Silverton schools observed George Washington's birthday Monday by giving a program during the morning session. At the close of the program the students were excused for the remainder of the day. Grade schools and high school combined in giving the program. It is said that it was one of the best and most elaborate which the Silverton schools have given.

The prettiest feature of the program was a colonial costume dance given by the girls of the Washington Irving building. Other numbers on the grade school program consisted of songs, recitations, piano solos, flag drills.

The outstanding number of the high school program was a skit written by Amos Benson, Leora McClung and Mary Egan. This could well be titled "Ghosts of the Past," for George Washington, Patrick Henry, Webster and other men of affairs of former days appeared in the nature of "ghosts" and spoke of the progress the world had made since they were taking part in its activities.

Other numbers of the high school program, which was all under the auspices of the senior class, were a violin solo by Francis Coberly, a one-act play by Olive Banks and Edward Spryng, piano solo by Myrna Sather and a reading on Washington's life by Leora McClung.

Both programs were given at the Eugene Field auditorium.

SALEM DEFEATS INDEPENDENCE

The Salem high school basketball team defeated the Independence high school last night on the Independence floor by a score of 23 to 19. This defeat eliminates the Independence team from the right to represent this district in the state tournament. The game was hard fought and fast but the independence team was unable to hit the basket as often as the locals.

Salem took first blood when Heenan went through the Independence defense for a basket after the first few minutes of play. At one time Independence came within one point of tying the locals but Salem threw three baskets in quick succession and held the lead at all times.

Independence had hard luck in several of their shots when they rolled in and out again. Scott and Baker starred for the losers. The Independence team put up a much better game than the one at Salem. A large band and rooting section welcomed the Salem team.

Asbury, guard for the locals was out of the game on account of blood poisoning, which handicapped them some but Olinger who took his place played a good game. Ellis and John Drager have been out of bed just a short time and they did not play their usual game.

Heenan and Ellis were high point men of the game with eight points apiece and John Drager was second with six. The locals will have a hard game Friday when they go to Corvallis to meet the high school team.

In a preliminary game the high school second team defeated the Independence second team by a score of 11 to 10. The locals won out in the last few minutes after the Independence five had tied the score at 10 all.

SENATE BALKS AT INCREASING MORE SALARIES

Although the legislature has voted salary increases to the supreme court justices, the attorney general, the state engineer, the secretary of state, the state treasurer and others, the senate yesterday killed bills to increase the salaries of the state superintendent of schools and the state dairy and food commissioner, the former by a vote of 17 to 12 and the latter by a vote of 13 to 11.

An adverse report was received from the school superintendent's salary bill, and a favorable report from the committee on county and state officers. Zimmerman, Staples and Taylor spoke against the superintendent's bill and Clark for it. The vote on this measure was:

For—Banks, Butler, Clark, Davis, Dennis, Hall, Johnson, Joseph, Klepper, Miller, Ritter, Moser.

Against—Beals, Brown, Corbett, Dunn, Eddy, Fisk, Garland, Hare, Kinney, LaFollett, Staples, Strayer, Taylor, Toome, Upton, Zimmerman.

Absent—Magladry.

There will be no legislation at this session to strengthen the blue sky law. The senate yesterday killed by indefinite postponement the Bailey house bill, which was prepared by Oswald West, and several days ago the Joseph bill was killed. The Joseph bill had the support of W. E. Crews, state corporation commissioner.

Former Governor West had given up hope of getting his measure through and simply sent word to Senator Butler to give it a decent funeral in the senate. This was expedient.

BRANCH LINE TO SEEK ESPEE AID

Declaring an intention to standardize its line and otherwise establish a transportation system equal to that of the Southern Pacific company when the latter shall have completed the Natron cut-off, the Nevada-California-Oregon railway has filed a petition for leave to intervene in the case now before the interstate commerce commission involving railroad extension in Oregon as recommended by the commission's investigator. This was announced today at the office of the Oregon public service commission.

The petitioner owns and operates a narrow gauge railroad extending from Endel, Lassen county, California, to Lakeview, Or., while there is no physical connection between the Nevada-California-Oregon and the Southern Pacific, the two intersect at Wendell and it is said to be the petitioner's desire to so construct its line that it may connect with the Southern Pacific Natron cut-off line and thus form a direct route through territory now served exclusively by the petitioner's narrow gauge line.

SENATOR STANLEY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Washington, Feb. 25.—Senator A. O. Stanley of Kentucky was severely but not critically injured Tuesday in an automobile accident here.

He was taken to an emergency hospital where it was said that in addition to bruises he appeared to have suffered a fractured rib.

Physicians who made the examination said there were no indications of serious consequences and predicted an early recovery without complications.

Barred as Disloyal

MILL CITY WOMEN ENTERTAIN GUEST DAY

Mill City, Or., Feb. 25.—The Women's club of Mill City entertained their husbands and friends at their fourth annual "Guest Day" dinner and program Monday evening. The program, which was interspersed with the banquet was as follows: Invocation by Rev. C. Stanley Knott, address of welcome by Mrs. F. R. Olin, president of the club, which was responded to by several of the husbands; talk by Mrs. W. B. Singleton as to the club's past activities, and Mrs. W. V. Courtemanche outlined the club's future desires. Rev. C. Stanley Knott spoke on "American Ideals." Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Mildred Streyer, Miss Virginia Mason, Mrs. Barbara Beck, a duet by Misses Mason and Streyer, readings by Mrs. F. F. Pearson of the "La Comrade" club of Los Angeles and a piano solo by Mrs. Nina Wadsworth Kaler, after which a one-act farce comedy was put on by the club members. The affair was voted a huge success.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. "Keystone" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth," "bad breath"—a dull, tired feeling—acid headache—torpid liver—constipation you'll find quick, sure and pleasant relief from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c
