SENATE HONORS MOSER WITH GIFT OF RUBY EMBLEM

The state senate adjourned sine die at 10:50 o'clock last night, while the house adjournment was at 10:18. After the house adjournment a concurrence in some amendments was left for the senate. Pending their preparation Senator and Mrs. Moser served coffee and cake in Senator Moser's office, utilizing a costly coffee service that was presented Mrs. Moser by the members and employees of the senate.

Both Senator and Mrs. Moser were honored in the last hours. Late in the afternoon Senator Butler interrupted the legislative procedure by arising at his desk and beginning a speech of tribute addressed to the president. Senator Butler spoke in his characteristic eloquent and polished manner and at the conclusion of his remarks handed to one of the pages a neat package one of the pages a neat package to President Moser. Inside it snuggled a diamond, ruby and platinum Shrine emblem.

Before Moser could respond Senator Garland paid a brief tribute to Mrs. Moser and then Mrs. Kinney went to the front of the senate chamber and made a pretty speech of presentation which was concluded by placing on Senator Moser's desk on the floor the coffee service. Mrs. Moser was occupying the president's chair at the time.

Senator Moser responded feelingly. The Willamette river between Port and Salem, made a business trip to Portland today. He is expected back in Salem tomorrow morning.

CHAMPIONSHIP DISTRICT DEBATE HELD TONIGHT

The district championship will be at stake tonight when debating teams of Salem, Albany and Woodburn high schools clash in a triangular contest. The locals regard both opponents as formidable ones. Woodburn has defeated Dallas by a 2 to 1 decision at both ends in a dual debate, and won St. Paul unanimously in a single contest. Albany has won all of its debates by unanimous decisions. In a Mossouth-Stayton-Albany triangle Albany defeated both Stayton and Mossouth in a dual contest, held later in the season, Albany won over Brownsville, all six judges voting for Albany.

Salem has a clear record at present, although not all of its debates have been won by 3 to 0 verdicts. Silverton has been defeated by the local aggregation by unanimous decisions at both ends, the contest being a dual. In the Salem-Falls City clash the court was 2 to 1 against Falls City at both ends. A dual held with Franklin high of Portland was won by the same scores, although the contest did not affect the local's standing in the district. Franking being an outsider.

In tonight's triangular contest affirmative teams will travel. The Salem affirmative, composed of Homer Richards and Thomas Childs, will go to Albany and meet the Albany team there. The Woodburn affirmative team will come to Salem, meeting Avery Thompson and Margaret Pro, the Salem negative team, in the local high school auditorium. The Albany affirmative team will go to Woodburn.

Judges for the local debate are Professors Victor P. Morris, John M. Kierzel and P. D. Carleton, all of the Oregon Agricultural college. Otto Paulus, veteran debater of the high school and of Willamette university, will preside.

had sent a message to the house in which he expressed the opinion that the rates set in the bill were excessive in view of the fact that no certificate of public necessity and convenience was provided as a protective measure for the operators.

Those desiring the bill kept as it was worked like beavers just before the afternoon session convened to lineup sufficient votes to send the measure back to the governor unchanged and allow its fate to rest with him.

It is reported that the governor may veto the bill.

The sending of the bill back without changes was in the nature of a compromise, the senate agreeing to set extra fees of 50 per cent over ordinary charges against commercial delivery vehicles operated

Asked for his opinion of the recent report of the special navy board which held that the battleship remains the first line of defense, the admiral replied "I was not much impressed with the report. The day after it was issued the secretary of the navy issued a statement heartily approving it, but the opinion of the secretary on a highly technical matter like this doesn't amount to much."

PEOPLES CASH STORE PASSES INTO HISTORY

"The People's Cash Store is a thing of the past," this was the statement made by S. Director this morning who had been operating the store at Court and Commercial street for the past two years. The establishment has been remodeled, the show windows all refinished and new stocks of goods received for the opening next week. "We will carry a different class of merchandise entirely and the store will be known as Director's Department Store," said Mr. Director; "we have been in Salem long enough to know just what the people want and we are going to have it for them in this new store."

SEFTON SAVES STATE $700 IN PROOFREADING

Senator Strayer, chairman of the enrolled bills committee of the senate, informed the senate yesterday that by the employment of this session of an editor and expert proofreader he had saved the state over $700 as compared with the expense of that committee at the previous session. Fred C. Sefton was employed to edit and proof read the bills.

Mr. Sefton has been employed to work on the plan for forthcoming sessions of acting on all bills in printed form as is done in the congress at Washington. This plan is provided for in a resolution adopted at this session. Sefton will also edit the session laws for publication in book form as he has done for some sessions past.
